School Board

Mr. G. T. Windell-Secretary, Mrs. George W. Dill, Jr., Mr. W. C. Matthews-Chairman, Mrs. Robert Taylor, Dr. Darden Eure, Mr. R. T. Willis, Jr.

Since our school, like most others in this state, now operate under the county system, the duties and responsibilities of the local School Board are very limited. We are glad to hear suggestions or criticisms which come to us from the patrons, faculty members or student body, even though in a lot of cases we cannot be of much help. We are always willing and anxious to do all we can.

We appreciate the cooperation and many favors extended us from our County Board of Education.

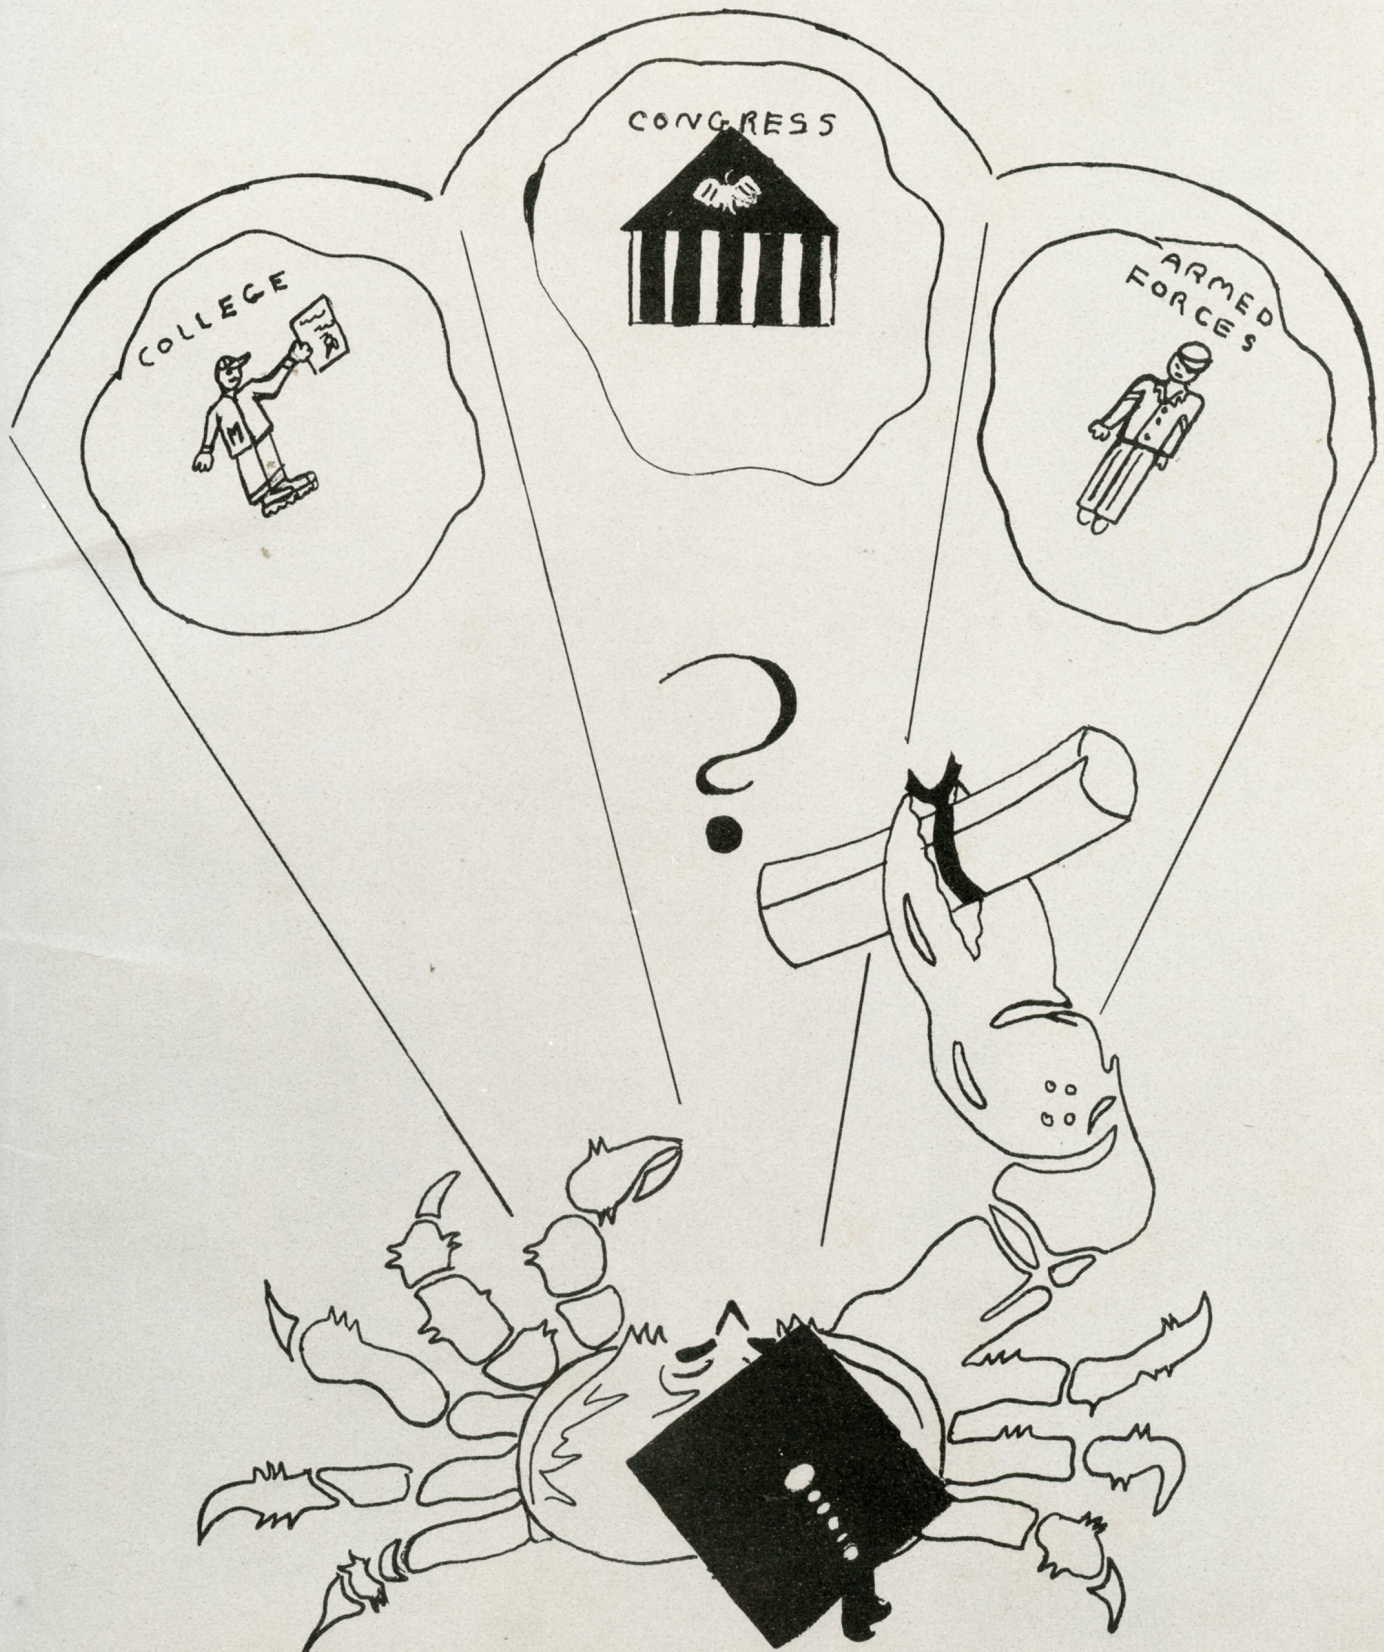

We are indeed proud of our principal, faculty members and all personnel connected with our school. We feel that we have in these people the tops in character and ability, the qualities which have built our school to its present high standards.

We, the Board members, would like to think that we had some part in improving and building this good school to its present standards.

W. C. Matthews, Chairman

Our Years In Port

The time has come to leave our port,
Our sails are hoisted high.
The flag of knowledge on our after mast
Waves proudly against the sky.

At last our voyage is underway,
All rigging has been done;
The anchor chain we hoist aboard,
Our bow points toward the sun.

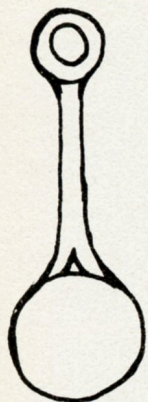

Twelve years it's taken to rig our ship
With cargo to face the world.
And now tonight the tide is right;
Our canvas we'll unfurl.

And now it's time to take the test-
Were our twelve years all in vain?
Or will we use the knowledge acquired
In the years that will pass not again?

Senior Class History

The history of the class of 1951 will have to be written against a background of world affairs, since we of this class have acquired our education in a most historical era, beginning with the year of the Munich Conference, covering the period of the second world war, and even now, as we close this chapter of our lives, going out into a world not yet ready for peace.

Of course, world affairs meant nothing to us as we began our formal education on that September morning in 1939. Surely, Mrs. Lucille Smith and Miss Elizabeth Smith must have been pleased to see such an intelligent group of children march into their classrooms. I remember distinctly that first day, and how frightened we were.

But it didn't take us long to get adjusted and almost too quickly we were promoted to the second grade where Miss Elizabeth Smith and Mrs. Ethel Holloway welcomed us. Our music teacher in those primary years was Miss Doub. I'm sure she would be pleased to know that those toneless little boys and girls are now well represented in nearly every choir in town.

The year 1941 found us in Mrs. McCracken's, Mrs. Holloway's and Mrs. Ray Jones' third grade. We were too young to realize the full meaning of Pearl Harbor but during the next few years, fourth grade under Mrs. Byrd Wade and Miss Bettie Harker, fifth grade, Miss Ola Long and Miss Bettie Harker, sixth grade, Miss Laura Smith and Miss Bettie Harker, seventh grade, Mrs. Robert Taylor and Mrs. John Phillips, we saw history in the making--from the beginning to the end of the world's worst war. Miss Aiken brought to us, during this period, the lighter side of life, with her music and southern accent.

To Mrs. Octavia Nelson and Miss Shirley Johnson came the task of ushering us into high school. High lights of that year were a trip to the state capital and, of course, the climax--graduation exercises on May 29.

This was the last graduation ceremony at which Mr. Joslyn presided, Mr. G. T. Windell replacing him our first year in high school. At first we were a little awed by him and by our new environment, but we soon became adjusted and found our principal to be a sympathetic friend. There wasn't much to do during our freshman year with Mrs. Florence Cordova and Miss Sarah Hufham, except study and wish we were sophomores. But alas! when we became sophomores, Mr. Gannon Talbert and Mr. Sawyer guiding us, our only desire was to be sophisticated juniors. We did become juniors under Mrs. Zelma Phillips and Mrs. Gladys Lollis, and what a wonderful class we were. Although our school work became tougher, each of us enjoyed that year immensely. One of the nicest things of the whole year was our Junior-Senior banquet. It took a lot of hard work to put it over, but when we saw the results, we were really proud. In return the Seniors gave us a nice picnic. They teased us by telling us that we were going to be served bologna, sausage and water, but when we ate, what a delicious picnic supper! In retrospect, it really was a superior year.

Then, at last, we became dignified seniors. This year really has been a bonanza, filled with important events for us, with the understanding help of our senior teachers, Mrs. Helen Bailey and Miss Pearl Brinson, the most outstanding ones being our senior play, a trip to our nation's capital, the fine banquet the Juniors gave us, and the picnic we gave them in return.

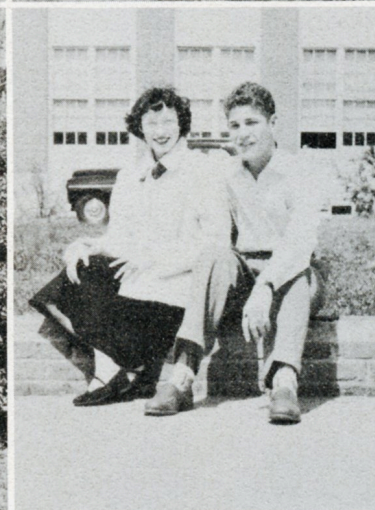

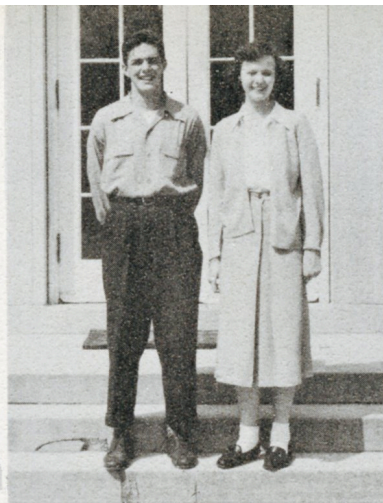

All of these things were leading up to the climax--for which our high school teachers for four years had been preparing us. They had taken a personal interest in each of us as individuals and had done all that was possible to make our class career pleasant and profitable. We felt deeply indebted to them as we marched down the aisle on that beautiful evening of May 29 and took our places on the stage for graduation exercises. Our thoughts were guided to the task before us, to the social, political, and economic problems we knew we must face as we graduated from school into something bigger and more important. We had become citizens of America.

The Student Council, under the leadership of Perry Gorham, has done a remarkable job this year in the Morehead City High School. Our advisor, Mrs. Waldron Baily, has given us her undying devotion and service in fulfilling our duties.

Our projects have been helpful to the school in many ways. It was reported to us that cheating was going on in our classrooms. The Student Council, by combating this, made it one of our most important projects. We also were forceful in keeping our halls orderly and quiet.

Several of our members went to the Student Council Assembly held at Wilmington, N. C. There they learned more about the wonderful organization to which they belonged.

For entertainment we had a Christmas dance which was enjoyed by all who attended. Everything considered, we have had a most successful year.
