TO THE CLASS OF '74

Today, as you sit in your first grade classroom, you can't imagine ever being as "big" as we high-school people are. You don't even want to become one of those bossy creatures who's always singing or shouting or making strange shuffling noises overhead, or pointing to you and saying, "Isn't he cute?"

You don't realize that this "terrible" transformation will gradually take hold of you, too. The boys will eventually become taller than the girls, and you will begin to play something other than "pin-the-tail-on-the-donkey" at your parties. Oratorical contests will take the place of spelling bees and Geoffrey Chaucer will replace Hans Christian Andersen. Then you'll begin to see that these learning years are among the most beautiful times in your life.

What will school life be like in 1974? Will the basketball teams still be playing in the "Barn"? Will you still have to avoid falling plaster as you change classes? Will the stage curtain open or fall on your senior play? And what about the lab? Oh—but that will be in the Smithsonian Institute by then. Will February find you waiting anxiously for spring—not only because of graduation but so you can do your Trig without mittens on .....

And when you have successfully completed the task which every child is obligated to begin at the age of six, you will know, as we of the class of '62 know, that next fall, when old bus 19 rolls by, you will miss getting on.

FACULTY

The Voice on the Intercom: Mr. T. Lenwood Lee, our principal.

Administration

"Administration" is a stuffy word. However, the people pictured here are not stuffy. These people who keep our school running in high gear are versatile, sincere, interested. But most of all, they're our friends.

The Voice on the Telephone: Mrs. John Wagner, our school secretary.

Connoissieur in foreign languages and mathematics; everybody's favorite: MRS. HELEN A.BAILY, A.B.

Efficiency in motion; truly a b u s i n e s sw o m a n: MISS LO-RAINE CARTER, B.S.

A formidable man in brains and brawn; a veritable athlete: MR. NORMAN L. CLARK, B.S.

A gentleman in every way; knows all the tricks of the mathematical trade: MR. CHARLES R. DAVIS, B. S.

Faculty

The intensity and interest of our faculty members improve the quality of our education; make learning more personal.

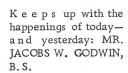

The little woman who k nows all the BIG WORDS: knows the value of a dictionary: MRS. ROSALIE R. DOWDY, A.B., M.A.

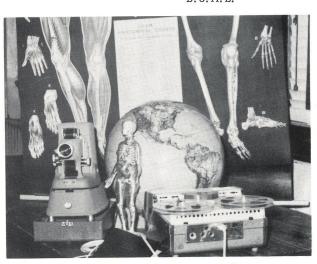

Instructor in ways to best fill the woman's place in the home leading others toward new horizons: MRS. NANCY R. DUNN, B.S.H.E.

Tools of the trade: Audio-visual aids make facts easier to grasp and retain.

Though a latecomer this year, he's made up for lost time by teaching, coaching, and all the while, keeping the score: CHARLES R. GOSS, B.A., not pictured.

Surrounded by a wealth of knowledge; our librarian: MRS. SARAH HAMILTON, B.S.

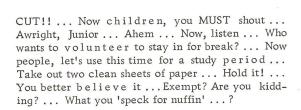

A man of many talents, many good turns: MR. GEORGE E. JACK-SON, A.B.

Our fabulous physics and science teacher, also known for his slave-driving ability: MR.DAVID LEE, B.S.

It's after five o'clock, but Mrs. Scott of our new (and very successful) guidance department will stay "just a few minutes more" to make sure some student starts off on the right foot.

Uses his hands to make well-made "things," and teaches his boys to do the same: MR. J. J. MITCHELL.

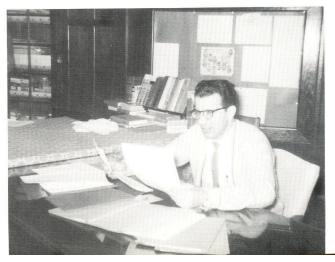

A good thinker and hard worker; turns out excellent products and productions: DAVID C. NEWBERRY, A.B.

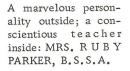

Knows the "secrets" of athletes as well as the "secrets" of civics: JAMES E. PARKER, B.S.

Grading tests (homework, notebooks, and term papers) is an important part of the teacher's job. (Of course, we told Mr. Jackson that if he didn't assign them in the first place, he wouldn't have to check them.)

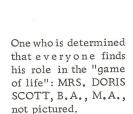

Her integrity, knowledge, and calmness demand respect: MRS. HATTIE LEE PHILLIPS, A.B.

Her long-enduring patience makes students love her: MRS. ZELMA PHILLIPS, A.B.

The classroom: This is the birthplace of tomorrow's leaders. (Oh, well. Lincoln was born in a log cabin ...)

With a heart full of love and a head full of basketball plays and algebra: MR. GANNON TALBERT, B.S., M.A.

The painstaking details and hours of practice will always pay off: MR. RALPH WADE, B. P. S. M., B. M., M. M.

Faculty

Your attention for this announcement ... Gee, from home... Where's your bookcover?... No, I haven't graded them yet ... Get away from that window... This is positively the LAST time I'm going to put them on a curve... If you think they're going to let you do this in college... Of course we're going to finish the book... You've had three weeks to get this ready... ME? Chaperone Y'ALL? To a convention WHERE?...

Our faculty members (Mrs. Zelma Phillips and Mr. David Lee featured here) "pack up all their cares and woe" for one afternoon, at the traditional faculty Christmas tea.

Opps! Sorry, No trespassing!! Donna Bell, John Lee, John Hatcher, and Jerry Mitchell are stopped by hall monitor Billy Yeager, as he performs another student council duty—keeping our halls orderly.

Serving with

As our formative years of high school progress, our development from the grade school level begins to take on more complicated proportions. Grammar school sees the typical scholastic and physical advancements. High school development differs mainly in the social side of life. From the "learning-to-get-along-on-the-playground attitude of grammar society, high school advances further—to learning to get along in the world.

The social aspects of MCHS are centered mainly in our extracurricular activities. Through various club work, speaking, homemaking, business-life, and other skills are conceived and nurtured for our later life. In a small way our Student Council serves to prepare students for participation in a representative government. This federation of homeroom representatives meets twice monthly with its officers under the sponsorship of Mrs. Helen Baily. James Smithwick was elected to the presidential office by the votes of the Student Association, which is the official title of the collective student body.

The president is assisted in his functions as chief executive by the vice-president, the treasurer, and the secretary. The vice-president is ex-officio president of the Inter-Club Council: composed of all chief executives of other clubs. This is one of the Student Council's most important duties—coordination of over-all school activities.

"Oh, come on, move! I gotta get up there ..." This is the Eagles' Nest in action as our students file in at 10:15 for a 10-minute rest and refreshment period.

Taking over from the previously highly efficient administration, this year's Student Council has continued operation of the "Eagles' Nest." Between the start of school in the morning, and our welcomed lunch hour, the school day is pleasantly interrupted by the 10:15 bell to attend "Break." For 15 minutes all school work is forgotten as students flock to the student lounge for cokes, nabs, fellowship, and service with a smile from the Student Council members who work behind the counter. Paper, pencils, and other supplies are available for the resumption of school work after the jovial atmosphere of the "break" is abandoned.

The Student Council had three opportunities to shine during football season. In celebration of an excellent record, and victories over Beaufort, the Student Council hosted two open-house dances at the Recreation Center for the Varsity and Junior Varsity teams. Also, to help with that extra margin of expense, the Student Council reimbursed all students taking chartered buses to the State play-off game with Elizabethtown in Wilmington.

Day by day, the Student Council assists, guides, directs, and reprimands the students of MCHS. Few of these activities standing alone are particularly outstanding, but together, they make MCHS a better school to attend.

Waiting for the meeting to come to order are (left to right) Sandy Willis, Sharon Terrell, Ben Eubanks, Joyce Femia, Richard Cummings, Sharon Stimpson, "Zip" McQueen.

Striving . . . Achieving

"The Scholars of the School" - members of the BETA CLUB, a non-profit, non-secret, leadership-service club. To encourage effort and reward merit among the students of the junior and senior classes, and to promote those character qualities that make for good citizenship in the school community is its purpose. Eliqibility requirements are worthy character, good mentality, creditable achievement, commendable attitude, and a semester average of ninety percent. A ceremony during which each member is tapped takes place each year in chapel, and the new "Beta Babies" wear a giant "B" signifying the honor which they have received.

Furthering their scholastic life, several Beta Club members emerge from the bookroom ... in pursuit of knowledge. Betsy Shanor, Gordy Eure, Ruth Fussell, Margaret Smith, Donna Bell, and (seated) Georgia Mizesko.

... Excelling ...

The Beta Club motto in action: Illustrated here is one of the major projects of the Beta Club, tutoring students in various courses.

Beta colors are old gold and black. The emblem is a shield with an eagle with outspread wings at the base, the letter "B" in the center, and three stars at the top.

The motto: Ducamus alliis serviendo—"Let us lead by serving others."

Standing beneath Vincam's "powaaful" wings are Beta members Ben Webb, Georgia Gollehon, Glenda Morton, Bernard Leary, Matti Phillips, Jimmy Thompson, James Nolan, Robert Williams, George Styron, Lorraine Hatcher, Jimmy Smithwick, Peggy Holt, Libby Bell, and Gene Ebron.

Wanda Lewis, Ruth Fussell, Matti Phillips, Margaret Smith, Georgia Mizesko, and Gail Robinson are tired of waiting. Why doesn't Lorraine come back withthat key!?!

Creating and

The TRI-HI-Y in our school is divided into two groups: the Sigma and the Alpha. The Sigma is composed of Freshman and Sophomore girls while the Alpha consists of Juniors and Seniors. These girls may be called the "do-gooders" of our school. This is a Christian organization and the girls really do their best to promote Christian principles.

Among the various important activities of this club are assisting the Hi-Y in preparing food boxes for the needy before Christmas and Thanksgiving, sponsoring Holy Week services just before Easter, and aiding the Hi-Y with daily devotions on the intercom. Of course, all these activities are in addition to meeting regularly every two weeks.

On April 7, as a result of much hard work and preparation by our Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs, the Hi-Y/Tri-Hi-Y Eastern District Conference was held in Morehead City at the Methodist Fellowship Hall. Clubs all over the eastern district sent delegates to attend this meeting and vote for district officers. Members of the Morehead clubs received the following honors: Sally Bett Willis, vice-president; Jennifer Guthrie, chaplain.

The advisors and the advised: Mrs. Sarah Hamilton, Mrs. Alberta McNeill, Judy Salter, Shirley Frederick, Susie Morton, Sally Bett Willis, Jonibel Willis, Peggy Holt, Coretta Yeager, Claudia Sarotowski, and Betsy Shanor.

The vertex of the Alpha Tri-Hi-Y triangle, its officers: Donna Bell, chaplain; Eleanor Conner, president; Maxine Jones, vice-president; Betty Jo Gray, treasurer; Gail Robinson, secretary.

extending . . .

Although this is primarily a religious club, another of its purposes is to develop the best-all-round girls. This is accomplished through the guidance of the Alpha sponsor, Mrs. Luther Hamilton, Jr., and the Sigma sponsor, Mrs. Ruby Parker.

Among these girls one might find serious, soberminded young women helping some civic organization such as the American Cancer Society in their annual Cancer Crusade, or girls having fun, buried under tons of some boy's books during Twirp Week. One might find salesgirls who try to sell you everything at their bake sale, or a congregation of girls at the drugstore after meetings. Wherever they are found, they are living up to the high standards of this club, and you may be sure that they are benefitting themselves or their fellow students in each accomplishment.

Leaders of the Sigma Club: Loraine Wilson, treasurer; Linda Brinson, president; Gail Goodwin; vice-president; Jane Patrick, secretary; Mrs. Ruby Parker, advisor.

"Well, go ahead and take the picture, so we can get back to the meeting." Mollie Walton, Paulette Fulcher, Vicki Burr, Sharon Stimpson, Phyllis McCabe, Donna Guthrie, Valerie Ambrose, Sandra Smith, Cynthia Maull, Margaret Mann, Carol Penny, Patti McKinley, Nancy Nelson, Diane Davis, Peggy Willis, Ginny Crowe, Gail Ebbighausen and Dianne Roberts.

"May the Lord watch between me and thee ..." Sherry Stanley, Ava Glancy, Beth Russell, Cheryl Murdock, Janice Ross, Connie Willis, Janice McNiell, Betty Ruffin Garner, Sharon Cannon, Nancy Parker, and Sandra Nolan join hands in the traditional friendship circle.

A club in the upper bracket of school activity is the Hi-Y. One of many hundreds across the nation, our Hi-Y endeavors to promote high Christian moral standards among the young men of M. C. H. S. by encouraging participation in school and civic programs. Under the sponsorship of Mr. George E. Jackson, these boys have carried out many worth-while projects this year. Food and funds were collected from the entire student body at Thanksgiving and Christmas. We really felt the true holiday spirit, and the needy of Carteret County benefits from the food and other commodities bestowed upon them. For the first time, the District Hi-Y met at Morehead City this year, under the leadership of our own chapter. One of our own boys, Danny McQueen, was elected district representative to the Council of the Carolinas. Other projects included the sponsoring of Holy Week services before Easter and an educational radio program. Besides the hustle and bustle of formal activity, the boys often have good, clean fun together. All in all, the boys have certainly upheld their purpose: to create, maintain, and extend high standards of Christian leadership and faith among men.

"No, no! no! I've already got three cans of apple sauce in my box. Pass me a can of that succotash." Hi-Y boys prepare food packages for distribution to the needy at holiday time.

A fundamental part of Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y joint activity is presenting church services in a different community church each month. Thus the Christian service clubs make their influence felt in the community.

the future

The VOCATIONAL INDUSTRIAL CLUB can undoubtedly be called the most active club in the interclub council. With skilled hands ably guided by "Captain" Jim Mitchell, these artisans have carried out numerous projects, the major ones being the construction of boats and trawler models.

To the gratification of M.C.H.S., the VIC renovated an auditorium room for use as guidance counseling headquarters, and built extra seats in our overcrowded "coliseum." Not to overlook their own needs, they purchased a much-desired blueprint machine.

The right-arm boys have truly drawn the proper combination of brain and brawn.

Growth through oration . .

Homer once said about an accomplished orator, "Words sweet as honey from his lips distill'd." To obtain such refined eloquence in public speaking is the aim of some thirty students of M.C.H.S. Under the able direction of Mrs. Hattie Lee Phillips, these people have participated in, and audienced, debates, symposiums, and panel discussions on varied topics in order to gain learning and experience in public speaking.

The '62 DEBATE CLUB entered the triangular debates for the first time since 1952. Jimmy Thompson, Matti Phillips, Lorraine Hatcher, and Donna Bell made the team with Gordy Eure and David McNeil as alternates. The team made fine showings as a result of hard work and preparation. Expectations are that next year's club will foster another set of competent debaters now that the initiative has been shown.

... And publication

Every school prizes its magazine and we prize our SPECULUM. Those of us who help to compose and coordinate it can tell you that it requires a lot of hard work, but it is also a lot of fun. Bustling around to English teachers in order to get student compositions and other material, gathering facts about scholastic and sports events, correcting errors, typing and running it off on the mimeograph machine require efficiency and provide a training in journalism. Mr. George Jackson is its sponsor and his journalism classes prepare and distribute it. It costs only one thin dime and offers enjoyment and information worth much more.

The journalism class at work. Steps in the publication include: proofreading, using the mimeoscope, assembling the dummy layout.

Gladly would we learn . . .

To be a good learner is important; to be a good teacher is commendable; to be both is exceptional. Members of the FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA, who frequently substitute for faculty members, not only fulfill a need, but also increase their skill. Money made from the substitute teaching is transfered to the MCHS Scholarship Fund. Mrs. Hattie Lee Phillips, F.T.A. advisor, sees that all members have a chance to participate and that no call goes unanswered.

The F.T.A. is particularly active in the month of April, which is Teaching Career Month. This year the club sponsored radio programs, speeches to civic clubs, articles in the Carteret County News-Times, and the traditional Teacher Appreciation Day. On this day, each of our faculty members is given some little gift, as a token of esteem.

Beside rendering invaluable service, the Future Teachers of America also work toward an indispensable and difficult goal: to prepare for the best possible future by preparing the best possible leaders. The accomplishments of this goal will depend upon their ability to cope with the bleak fact that "for each student sparked with genius, there will be ten with ignition trouble." The members shown here have evidenced the persistence and determination necessary for this important profession.

"American Homemaker"—a title well worth earning. To become a member of the national organization, FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA, students need to have been enrolled in a homemaking course. Projects—social, cultural, economical—include discussing careers, making field trips, sponsoring chapel programs and dances, attending the State Convention. Under the skillful guidance of Mrs. L.G. Dunn, FHA sponsor and Homemaking teacher, girls are learning that tasks must be well-planned and carried out efficiently to assure accomlishment of any good. A woman's place is proverbially in the home. Even though the "weaker" sex has risen to hitherto undreamed of importance, the homefires must be kept burning. With modern technology, this means more than just washing dishes and darning socks; it means more than just flipping a switch. To be a successful homemaker in modern America, a girl must have patience, poise, skill, understanding. Developing these traits is the worthy purpose of the FHA—Future Homemakers of America.

businesslike

The Future Business Leaders of America Club is one of the prominent clubs in our school. Its purpose is to develop aggressive leadership tempered by Christian character. It stresses quality in education and business relations and perseverance as well as etiquette in business.

1961-62 has been full of activities: dances, fund-raisings, keeping up-to-date bulletin boards, distribution of Christmas and Easter seals, typing for different organizations—making its presence felt generally in both school and community.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Ruby Parker and Miss Loraine Carter, FBLA's 1961-62 is an outstanding year. Our chapter won recognition on both state and national level. First Ben Webb was elected state vice-president and then was elected by the N.C. FBLA Executive Board to run for national president. Our chapter united itself even more steadfastly, again selected Betty Jo Gray to be his campaign manager, and brought home from the convention in Cincinnati, Ohio, an almost unanimous election. His campaign was based on the progressiveness of N.C. in its entirety—first in furniture, textiles, tobacco, and minerals, and first in talent, i.e., Ben Webb.

One of the many outstanding FBLA projects is bulletin board arrangement. Carolyn Ballance and Sally Simpson are putting up another interesting display, drawn by Billy Piner.

Driving ambition

Every day about 300 students are transported from home to school and back home again by our student bus drivers. These boys perform this unglamorous but important task with proven perfection. This is a typical example of the highly effective pupil participation in our school. Being a student bus driver certainly improves the individual, for he has to develop traits of responsibility and patience. These boys are organized in the WHEEL CLUB. Its purpose is to maintain the degree of safety and precision and order which is so vital in this job. The members also strive to create better relations among drivers and to develop an efficient working team.

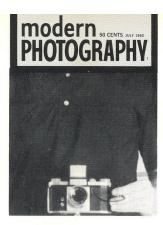

These mechanics may never make the Indianapolis 500; but they're happy if they can play with a camshaft or piston ring or carburetor. The boys here are Billy Holowiti, Mike Trest, Bill Fahy, Glen Mason, and Darryl Davis.

POPULAR JOE 1962 MECHANICS

This year a new club made its appearance on the school scene. Under the leadership of Mr. David Newberry, the PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB became a reality. A photography lab and darkroom was built to accommodate the group; and it is well-equipped with adequate chemicals, an enlarger, all types of plates and paper and the other mysterious elements required for printing a picture. Already the club has made itself felt. They have developed many of the pictures you see in your SANDFIDDLER; in fact, they are responsible for the picture you see above. Photography is not only a creative but also a useful hobby. We're glad to welcome this new group into the Inter-Club Council. We're sure that the shutterbugs will make it one of the most active and rewarding organizations.

At M. C. H. S. we have a local chapter of an outstanding national organization, the 4-H CLUB. Sponsored by the United States Department of Agriculture Extension Service, this organization proposes to vitalize agriculture education including the development of Head, Heart, Hand, and Health. It attempts to train the student to embrace the interests of the farm, the home, the family, and the community in order to raise the standards of living. Projects are carried out on the farm and in the home to help in the development of civic and character education.

Melody Makers . . .

There has never been a higher student of truth than that music lover who said, "Song is the universal language." Those in our student body who have artistic leanings toward vocalizing make up the chorus of Morehead High, under the direction of Mr. Ralph Wade. Members of the chorus participate in arduous group practice, becoming a more able assembly of singers. More than once have our chapel programs been enriched by familiar tunes and classical melodies sung by our chorus, glee clubs, and soloists The chorus has given several recitals: a Christmas program, a Spring concert, Music at the Baccalaureate service.

The nineteen-sixty-two organization showed active interest when some of its members travelled to Greenville to participate in a giant choral group composed of vocal musicians from high schools throughout North Carolina

1-2-3 and . . .

Ralph Wade is a very busy man. Not only is he the director of our M.C.H.S. band and chorus, but he is also Public School Music Director for the lower grades. He is well noted in our school for his musical ability and leadership, his originality and fresh outlook, and his wasp-squashing ability. Our nomadic maestro may be found almost anywhere around our school. He can usually be seen perched on a high stool, similar to Perry Como's (which gives him more than one thing in common with Mr. C). However, we prefer to think of his stool as a pedestal. He certainly deserves to be on one—he's the GREATEST!

Mr. Ralph Wade, our "Music Man."

ANOTHER MUSICAL HIGHLIGHT—THE BAND CONCERT

M.C.H.S. Band

Band serves to educate those of our school with more cultural inclinations. Desiring to develop their individual musicianship, the instrumentalists must put themselves through long hours of practice until that cold hunk of unfamiliar brass becomes the means of producing rapturous and golden strains of music. The results are extremely gratifying.

"Practice makes perfect." So we practice ... and practice ...

Poise and Grace personified: our majorettes. We have here Nancy Nelson, Judy Carlton, Linda Mitchell, Valerie Ambrose, Sharon Stimpson, and Lorraine Hatcher, head majorette.

The combo, consisting this year of (l. to r.) Billy Morton, Garth Cooper, Billy Bedsworth, Richard Whorton, and leader Jimmy Kirk, did much to enliven the scene. Here at a basketball game, they reduce tension between halves...

Even girls as g r a c e f u l as our majorettes need practice. ONE and two and ONE and two and  $\dots$

WE'RE PROUD TO HAVE THESE GIRLS LEAD OUR PARADES—Peggy Willis, Kay Canipe, Mattie Phillips, Sally Bett Willis, Jennifer Guthrie.

"Thank you, Mr. Willis. Your contribution will help a lot." Each fall, band members canvass the town, giving "Boost the Band" tags in return for donations. The proceeds of Band Tag Day go toward financing band trips.

Carrying the colors are flagbearers Hepsy Patrick, Glenda Morton, and Anne Marie Lewis.

Chuck Sledge and Billy Yeager make adjustments on the layout—an exacting and laborious task. Not pictured are Gene Ebron and Ronald Russell, who worked on the layout and on the ad section.

"I just can't remember which store this was taken in ..." Georgia Mizesko and Dianne Roberts wish that Ruth Fussell were here to help them identify these advertisement pictures.

These copywriters, Richard Cummins, Joyce Femia, and Bill Davenport, try to add imagination and interest to the copy of the '62 SANDFIDDLER—to retell the history of this year in the lively way that it was made. Not pictured is David McNiel, who made many contributions.

Headlines, deadlines,

"The time has come to talk of many things," wrote Lewis Carroll; and for the editorial staff of the 1962 SANDFIDDLER, that time has come indeed. In this all-too-brief space we'd like to acknowledge some of the many people who have helped make our yearbook what it is (what is it?). We send our thanks to Miss Jo Couch, layout artist from Hunter Publishing Company, for helping us to put a new perspective on our annual, and to the rest of Hunter's efficient and patient staff for their high quality of service; to Lynn Phillips and Hoke Huss of School Pictures Incorporated, for their cooperation and excellent photography; to Mr. David Newberry and his darkroom boys for their invaluable help; to Meredith Publishing Company, Universal Publishing and Distributing Corporation, the National Beta Club, Modern Photography magazine, and Popular Mechanics magazine for graciously granting us the permission to use their logotypes; to the Carteret County News-Times for the use of their sports pictures, covering the complete athletic program; and to you, the student, for letting us try to tell your story.

The executive staff: assistant editor Donna Bell, advisor Rosalie Dowdy, assistant editor Glenda Morton, and editor in chief Natalie Killmon try to make an organized whole from the innumerable photos and words that pour in. Our motto: "We'll think of something."

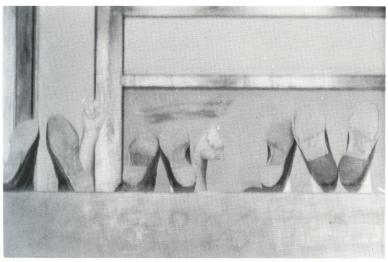

"Money, money, everywhere—and not a cent to spend!"
Such is the frustration of our business staff girls Carolyn
Ballance, Eleanor Conner, Jonibel Willis, and Susie
Morton.

and lost minds

Producing a good yearbook (like ours) takes imagination and talent (like ours). But equally important (if not more important) is the financing of such a huge project. Moneycollectors are rarely appreciated, frequently criticized, never thanked. Despite all obstacles, (sore feet, and short change, for instance) this year's business staff has done an excellent job of collecting funds, selling ads, and overseeing subscription sales. This year saw a record-breaking subscription sale of 283 orders. Under the capable leadership of Miss Matti Phillips, our SANDFIDDLER account grew to over two thousand dollars. This is sound evidence of the ability and perserverance of our "salesmen." After a hectic nine-month waiting period, our problem child, the 1962 SANDFIDDLER, has at last been presented to you. Orchids and ovation to our efficient business staff, who made possible a successful delivery.

"Would anyone like to pay on their annual?" asks Ricki Wade as Anne Marie Lewis puts up a poster to boost sales.

Frank Marino, Peggy Willis, and advisor, Helen Baily, discuss a "plan of attack" in the new ad campaign.

"Thankyou very much, sir. I'm sure you'll be very pleased with your ad." Matti Phillips, business manager, makes another sale.

ING CROWDS.

The faces of these coaches are familiar to all EAGLE fans. Pictured here are Norman Clark, headFootball coach and J.V. basketball coach; and Charles Goss, baseball coach and scorekeeper. With Jimmy Parker (inset) head coach for J.V. football, assistant coach, varsity football; and Gannon Talbert (basketball), these men instill in our boys a love of fair play, clean competition, and good sportsmanship. For the past years these men have produced great ball clubs-great not only in the number of victories, but also in the way that all the games were played; and this is the true mark of a good coach. Proud of them? You bet we are!

We've got the coach . . .

WE'RE COACH CLARK'S RAIDERS, RAIDERS OF THE NIGHT. DA DUM DE DUM ...

NEW BERN - In their second game of the season the "Eagles" were rated as underdogs against a powerful and highly touted team from 3-A New Bern. David O'Neal tossed a 24-yard pass to Damy McQueen in the second quarter to give these same "underdogs" a 6-0 win. It appears to most spectators that the rain-soaked "Eagles" were playing football much surpassing their true ability, but of course the subsequent games have belied these opinions.

JONES CENTRAL - The Jones Central Rockets fizzled out on their home field as the "Eagles" cut their fuses in Morehead's fifth game of the year. Ernest Lewis plunged over, David O'Neal sneaked over, Danny McQueen dived over, and Bernard Leary received and carried over a pass, all in the first half, with McQueen, Lewis, and O'Neal adding an extra point apiece. The "Eagles" flew again in the third quarter with Ernest Lewis, Danny McQueen, and James Nolan scoring touchdowns and points. Finishing touches make it 46 - Morehead, 0 - Jones Central.

We've got

DUNN - Playing a supposed grudge match for last year's 6-0 defeat, the "Eagles" left nothing but suds and foam of Dunn's "Green Waves." The game saw two very equal teams during the first and fourth quarters, but sandwiched between those two periods were 24 minutes of "Feathered Fury," in which the "Eagles" failed to lay an egg, and succeeded in scoring 20 points. The high point of the game came when little James Nolan, with the assistance of various teammates, scampered 68 yards for his second touchdown. This small accomplishment was preceded by touchdowns, compliments of David O'Neal and Ernest Lewis.

WALLACE - In a game that had a vengeful background, and sad results, the "Eagles" won a costly victory over the Wallace "Bulldogs." With catches by Ludik Pospisil keeping the "Eagles" right in the game, Ernest Lewis caught another O'Neal pass and ran 64 yards for the first Morehead score. In the third period, Lewis once again snared David's pass from the 39 yard line, and completed the night's scoring. The sad part of the game came in the fourth period as Danny McQueen suffered a broken collarbone, and Morehead suffered the loss of one of the team's scoring standouts.

PAMLIC O - With David O'Neal and James Nolan accounting for all the game's 30 points, the Pamlico "Hurricanes" themselves suffered adverse weather conditions, bowing to the "Eagles" in their eighth game of the year. The first quarter saw O'Neal passing to Nolan twice for 48 and 67 yards, and 12 points. In the second period, O'Neal sneaked over from the one for the only non-Nolan tally. The third quarter again consisted of a game of catch between Nolan and O'Neal, with Nolan scoring on 31 and 58 yard passes, and totaling the final 30 - 0 score.

the team

BEAUFORT - Morehead capped off its undefeated regular season play in the rivalry-packed "Mullet Bucket" game with the "Seadogs" of Beaufort. After the start of the game the bottom fell out for Morehead in the second quarter as Johnny Hassel lobbed a little pass to Tommy Bridgers in the end zone. Jubilation reigned in the east; and pins were dropping in the west as the night's frolic continued. A sustained drive by the "Eagles" capped with a 3 yard touchdown pass to Ludvik Pospisil, made the score 7 to 7. Then, of course, came that fabled field goal in the closing minutes by O'Neal, which brought victory over our worthy opponents, 10-7.

ELIZABETHTOWN - DISTRICT PLAYOFF GAME - This game started bad for the Big Red from Morehead, with Elizabethtown scoring their only touchdown before the "Eagles" scored at all, and sending the team to the dressing room 7 points behind. The start of the third quarter saw David O'Neal throw a short pass to Bernard Leary who proficiently faked his way over. However, the featherplucked "Eagles" had the extra point blocked and there was still a long way to go for victory. This potential danger was dispersed a few plays later by another O'Neal pass, this time to James Nolan. With a P.A.T. pass to Bernard Leary, the final offensive actions were completed and victory was only one quarter away, Morehead winning 13 to 7.

The rest of the night was all Ahoskie; their scoring was accomplished with touchdowns by Keith Pervis, Earl Capps, Stephen Dunn, and two by Spencer Barrow. This year has been a full one for the cheerleaders of MCHS. They have widened their circles of friendship with many other cheerleaders in eastern North Carolina. Their activities have ranged from playing hostess to the Beaufort and Wallace-Rose-Hill cheerleaders with a supper in their honor to acting as referee for the initiation of freshmen boys on the busses. It's hard to forget the excitement of a good game, a supporting crowd, and the fun and fellowship of cheering.

Gannon's Gunners

Though his shining past record could hardly be exceeded, Mr. Gannon Talbert, MCHS basketball coach, competently assisted by ten powashouses, brought even greater grandeur to Morehead High this past season. Viewed as a whole, Morehead's performance was highlighted by the three glittering trophies brought home. One of these trophies was for co-championship of the Coastal Plains; it represented one of the greatest EAGLE triumphs: conquest of Beaufort—and an end to the latter's 91-game consecutive win streak. Jones Central was the scene of the conference tourney, where after once more swooping down upon the Seadogs, the EAGLES reigned supreme. Though the ultimate victory was not theirs, the "Talbert's Temple Terrors" were runners-up in the District 2 playoff, succumbing gracefully to the old nemesis, Beaufort. Mr. Talbert directed his '62 cagers to one of the best seasons in years. The credit should go to the rightful person; so we must give a big Hoorah! for our coach—he's brimful of Talbert POWAA!

Baseball

This year the Eagle baseball team didn't fare too well, winning only two of eight games played. However, the season's games brought more interest than usual; perhaps this renewed interest on the part of the student supporters will bring our team to the top of the league. The boys have played clean and hard, under the leadership of coach Charles Goss. We feel that we were well represented; we're looking for a great season in '63.

Senior class officers: Jimmy Thompson, president; Glenda Morton, secretary; Gene Ebron, treasurer; and Billy Yeager, vice-president, agree that "We can't all be superlatives but we'd like the world to heed, we think our whole class should be voted "Most Likely to Succeed."

Seniors... You Can Trust a Communist and Exodus... the continental... London Fogs... Weejuns... madras... keys and contests... trips upstate... house parties... marching down the center aisle... pompous and circumstantial... privileges, problems, presents, practice... college catalogs... tears... swallowing a lump in the throat... combs and coathangers... snowy white (?) caps and gowns... Seniors.

Receive Class Rings ...

THE CROWNING TOUCH—Congressman David Henderson makes it official: Miss June Taylor is the new Homecoming Queen.

They are not the same. I'm sure my ring looks better ... I told you not to call me Ralph anymore, Ed ... shot what? ... I've got a folder from ECC, UNC, ACC, WC ... says he's going to Princeton ... That doesn't apply to Seniors, does it? ... the man at the Recruiting center said ... oh, well. It ain't no big thing ...

LARRY FULCHER good-looking ... unworried ...

RUTH FUSSELL respected ... always late ...

PATRICIA GARNER unassuming ... mild ...

CLARA JO GASKINS a worker . . . flippant

Ruth Fussell and Billy Yeager crack the books (for English, we bet), living up to the title voted upon them by their class, MOST INTELLECTUAL. Miss Fussell was also chosen Most Likely to Succeed, and was winner of the history and mathematics awards.

BOBBY GRIFFIN well-liked...
"Griff"...

LYDIA GUTHRIE well-dressed ... leisure-loving ...

Celebrate our last Christmas together . . .

Bobby Griffin and Margaret Smith make an attractive picture—it's easy to see why they were selected BEST-DRESSED. Margaret is holding the class flower—a peppermint carnation in the class colors, red and white. Bobby was also chosen Friendliest.

We've got a meeting every night this week ... I know what a featurearticle ISN'T, but what IS it?... I left it home, Mrs. Baily ... what chapters do we have to cover in our notebooks?... I can't find anything about the Buddhist ideology ... come on, let me see your French... I mean, who CARES which bullet got there first?... We'd be able to get something done if it weren't for classes ... GOD REST YE MERRY GENTLEMEN ...

JIMMY HARRELSON courteous ... persevering ...

TOMMY NANCE restrained ... polite ...

GLORIA JEAN NELSON attractive ... a beautician ...

Order invitations, exchange cards,

Posing here is a multi-faceted couple. Jimmy Thompson and Georgia Mizesko were voted MOST TALENTED by the Senior class. Jimmy won the Music Award and the Civitan Award; Georgia the Science Award.

I dunno. How many invitations are you going to get?... let me have one of your cards ... this tassel keeps making me sneeze ... if we have to march in one more time ... LEFT-RIGHT-LEFT-RIGHT... do we have to come for the reviews? ... it hastwenty-one jewels and it's waterproof ... Did you get a letter from Henderson? ...

Withces and weirdos roam the halls as the Seniors study and act our "Macbeth." Above are Faye Lovick, Alta Dickinson, and Charlotte Lovick in Lady Macbeth's sleepwalking scene. Below, Jean Bordeaux, Marie Blanchard, and Emma Padgett stir up a little brew for some unsuspecting soul.

WILLIAM TAYLOR undisturbed ... easygoing ...

KURT THOMPSON intelligent ... individualist ...

Caps and gowns arrive . . .

Signs of Seniority: Besides the traditional cap and gown, many things become the trademark of the graduate. The tassel, the diploma, a friend's card—all bring memories of our senior year rushing back.

A class of distinction ... the first to graduate from MCHS with four years of two-hour classes ... ninety-eight members ... 8 scholarship winners ... 65 going on to higher education ... over twenty-five per cent in the Beta Club ... leaving a gift of over $400 to the school ... ## Another success: "April in Paris"

Soft Lights ... dream music ... a ruffly dress ... and the weekend ahead ... This was the setting for the '62 Jr.-Sr. Prom. As always, the decorations were beautiful, and the Seniors knew (only too well) how much work the Juniors had done to make it a nice prom. For this one magic, story-book, fairytale evening, every girl would be the most beautiful, and every boy would be the most handsome.

The theme of this year's Jr. -Sr. was APRIL IN PARIS, and, truly, we all felt as if we had travelled to Europe when we stepped inside the door of the transformed Recreation Center. Cartloads of flowers (straight from Paris gardens, we're sure!) were placed about the rooms; tables for two (or four) were set up and handsomely decorated with candles, flowers, and other trademarks of Parisian restaurants.

On this particular April evening every lady was a queen and every young manaking; however, (as often happens) two had to be chosen. Lovely Sandy Willis and Handsome Chuck Sledge were the lucky twosome.

Yes, this evening was an experience, a trip, a remembrance. Even Paris herself could not have offered more!!!

King Chuck; Queen Sandy

Chic Parisians take in a little night life.
