Presentation

We stand upon a threshold. Behind us is a world of books and slide rules, teachers and counselors, hopes and ideals, laughter and tears. What we have learned during these brief years is immeasurable. What we hope to learn in the future is even more so. Before we cross into the unknown world before us, we pause, turn back, and hand to those behind us a white book filled with memories. This book contains the elusive heart-beat of a school. It is a final tribute to that which we know and love. With this in mind we, the Senior class of Beaufort High School, lovingly present to you our 1964 MAINSAIL.

Dedication

Mrs. Harriet James

Three years ago we were first touched by the influence of a person we have come to love. Through her help and understanding, especially during our Junior year, we came to realize the value of her friendship. The guidance and help we received far exceeded the gratitude we expressed. Now in our Senior year we look back and realize how much this person has done and how unselfishly she has given of herself for our class. At this memorable time we wish to express our thanks for her time and patience which has always been available to us when we needed it. With this thought we dedicate the 1964 MAINSAIL with all our love and all our memories to you, Mrs. Harriet James.

In Appreciation

Although Miss Lena Duncan is no longer one of our teachers, we feel that the lessons learned through her teaching and example will be of value to us for the rest of our lives. We consider her a part of our class with pride and love. We can never adequately return the time and guidance she has given us but we can express our admiration and gratitude. To Miss Duncan, we leave our best wishes and enduring devotion.

President's Message

As we stand on the threshold of a new life, we have a tendency to look back with pride and sentiment at our high school years.

It is evident that the accomplishments of our class will be hard to equal. It is true that our class will leave behind many fond memories.

It is also true that we must now forget the past and look to the future. We feel that the guidance given us over the past years will help us to make our future as gratifying to ourselves and those around us as our past has been. It is with this hope that we thank and salute you, Beaufort High School.

Behind the town
Our pride stands
With the dignity
Of a well loved king

On Mulberry Street
Stands the mother
Of our learning
We must give her
Our loyalty and love
And work to make her great

We must publish her name
For foreign ears to hear
Then live up to our boast

A dash of school spirit
For every red brick
In her body
Will make our school great.

Now we bear the proud title of Juniors. Having reached another step toward our goal, we look into the future and see that we have much to strive for. We are a big class, with many outstanding students, academically as well as athletically. We have many good qualities, with which we hope to gain success in our community and in our country.

We have been hard at work to present the Junior-Senior Prom. Many of us have participated in proms, preceding this one, and we feel that ours will be one of the greatest.

President's Message

We have reached the halfway point in our high school years. Looking back at the past two years, we are filled with happy memories. We anticipate even more exciting times as we progress to our Junior and Senior years. Working together as a class we hope to improve ourselves individually and to make our school as proud of us as we are of our school.

If we have achieved any merit, we are grateful to those who have advised us. We look forward to the next two years knowing that we can depend on our teachers for guidance.

President's Message

We "silly freshman" are fast becoming seasoned high school students, ever striving to do our best to become a credit to our school. We realize that the knowledge and experience we gain today will fit us to take our places as leaders in school in the years ahead, and as citizens after graduation.

Our ambition--to be one of the best all-round classes ever to graduate from Beaufort High School--can best be attained by full and enthusiastic participation in sports and the many activities open to us, while maintaining a high level of scholarship.

If this goal is to be achieved, each student of the Class of 1967 must feel that it is his personal responsibility to bring it about.
