

The strength of a wave as it rolls to the shore,
Reminds us of Mariners who have gone before.
Of men and women who were strong and true,
Whose deeds and examples challenge us to follow through.

We are as the sea —
free, wild, and uninhibited
Like the sea, we are unpredictable
We have no end, and seek no definite lifestyle
We are alone in ourselves,
a huge individual
in a world which we dominate.

Compiled for presentation by Joel G. Hancock, Class of 1970

As the sea, we are full of life and motion.

The world surrounds us, and no man escapes us.

As the ocean, our lives are a series of natural phases.

Even as a storm hits, we take the blow, and soon we are once again normal and flowing.

Compiled for presentation by Joel G. Hancock, Class of 1970

We can compare our lives at school with the sea.
It is a time that gives, and a time that takes away.

School is a part of us as the ocean is a part of the earth,

And as the sea, we are many things put together to make one; but as a group we live together, and live forever.

Student Life

With hard work and determination each accomplishment,

PRE-SCHOOL.

People at East come with different hopes and dreams, but come together in a unity for the purpose of learning.

In Memoriam

Vincent Ray Bullock September 11, 1956 December 2, 1973

John Dale Warren May 1, 1956 December 2, 1973

Death, be not proud, though some have called thee Mighty and dreadful, for thou are not so;
For those whom thou think'st thou dost overthrow
Die not, poor Death; nor yet canst thou kill me.
From rest and sleep, which but thy pictures be,
Much pleasure; then from thee much more must flow;
And soonest our best men with thee do go —
Rest of their bones and souls' delivery!
Thou'rt slave to fate, chance, kings, and desperate men,
And dost with poison, war, and sickness dwell;
And poppy or charms can make us sleep as well
And better than thy stroke. Why swell'st thou then?
One short sleep past, we wake eternally,
And Death shall be no more: Death, thou shalt die.

- John Donne

We're Mariners, Mariners, and we'll always be, A part of East Carteret,
Our strength is as the sea.
When our days grow short,
And our youth has ceased to be,
We can cling to what we've been and done,
As long as there's memory.
