East Wind

High School is a time to make a LASTING IMPRESSION. What you do in school and how you act will determine how your friends and peers remember you forever. Everyone should want to leave a good IMPRESSION when leaving school. Imagine going to your twenty-fifth class reunion and no one remembers you! What could you have done to change this? You could have played sports, been in student council, acted in the school play, or enjoyed being the one in charge of the biggest prank ever in high school. Whether or not you tried to IMPRESS people you probably did leave a mark on someone. Maybe it was a friend, a peer, or a teacher. Certainly they will remember you and what you did which was so IMPRESSIVE.

Lasting Impressions

Making your Impression at East....

Treve Lumsden is using the office phone. Treve is a senior this year and looks forward to going to college next year. Usually, Mr. Eades has to give special permission to let people use the phone. Guess Treve must have had a good reason.

Student Life here at East Carteret is extremely busy and exciting. There are so many different kinds of people that are involved in so many different kinds of activities and sports that sometimes other kinds of school work become their second priority. Freshmen are nervous and scared while seniors are thrilled and excited about graduating. This proves that everyone is different. Tara Scott said, "My junior year has been my hardest year and I'm excited about becoming a senior." No matter how hard Mrs. Edwards will ever be or how easy Mr. Treadway will be, everyone will leave their own Lasting Impression.

Joy Johnson, Timmy Morris, and Christine Pake are wondering through the halls during forth period. Christine and Joy said, "We have enjoyed our senior year, especially seeing Mr. Stokes." Joy and Christine were both assistant's during that period.

Devin Foley waits patiently for Mr. Barker to give out the music in his fourth period band class. Devin was a freshman this year in band this year.

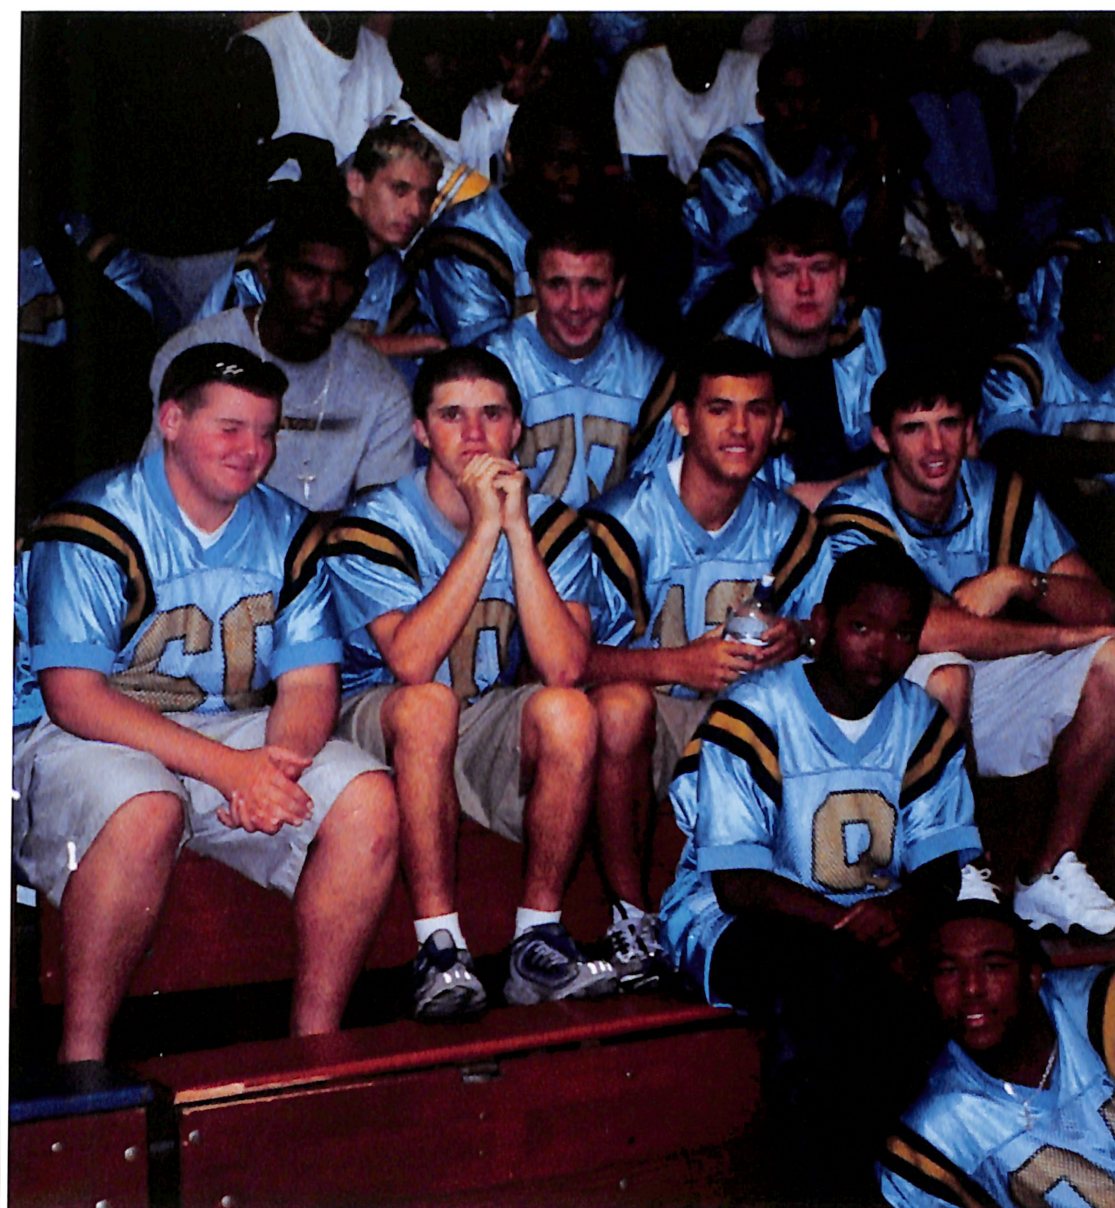

Bonnie Oliver and Jennifer Dickenson get some computer knowledge from Mrs. Dickenson. They are making the program for "The Bad Seed". Mrs. Dickenson is a Media Center Aide and her assistance was very helpful to the girls.

During the Homecoming Assembly, Timmy Collins, Mark Merrick, Gary Fetter, Michael Tyler, Devin Daniels, Joel Hancock, Frank Christian, and Jimmy Reels wait patiently to see all those beautiful homecoming candidates.

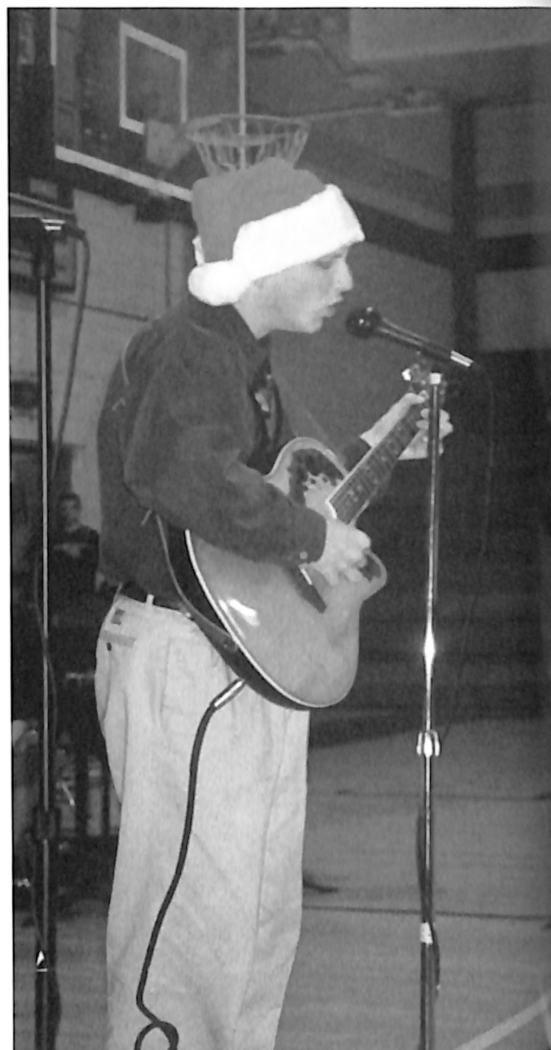

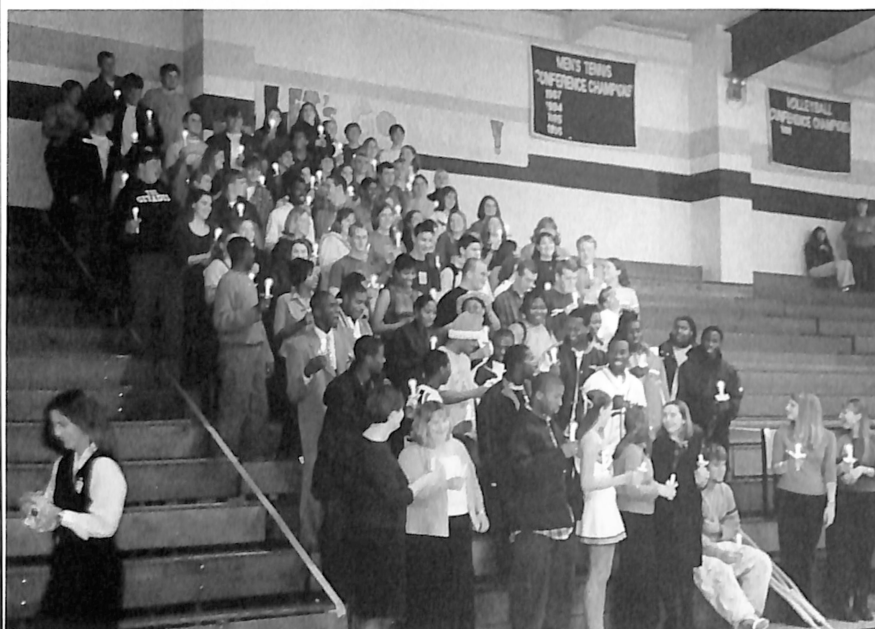

Megan Gilikin is in Mr. Diaz's class. She was taking a test and glanced up for a picture. Mr. Diaz taught Latin this period, and that day they went to the library so he could space them out for the test.

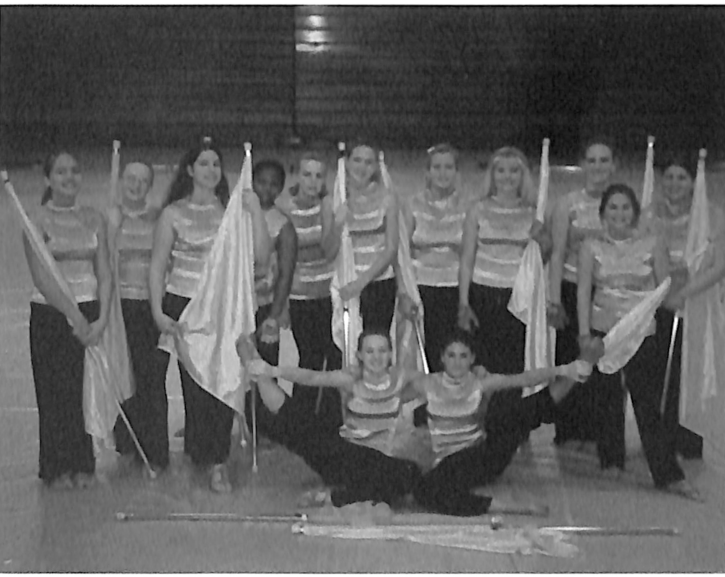

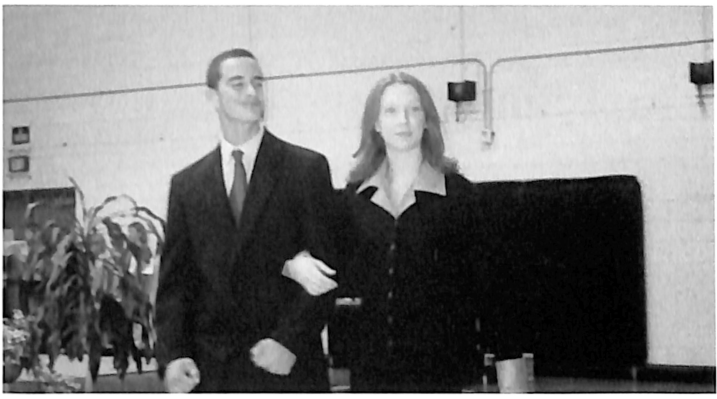

Stephanie Porter, Nora Lewis and Lanisha Oden are helping out the counselors by taking orders for the seniors. That day was an exciting one when they ordered invitations and announcements for graduation.

Hannah Harrell and Traci Williams are checking in new books for the library. They were library assistants during their fourth period, first semester class. Mrs. Burbella loved having them in the library because they were such a big help to her.

LET'S ASSEMBLE

ECHS...just Singin' in the Rain

This year the drama department chose Singin' in the Rain as it's musical choice. The stars were: Isaac Hopkins as Don Lockwood, Alison Vick as Lina Lamont, Jessica Fulcher as Kathy Seldon, Matt Hill as Cosmo Brown, Amanda Lupton as Roscoe Dexter, and Josh Arthur as R.F. Simpson. The show entertained the audience with it's upbeat song and dance numbers such as "Broadway Melody", "All I Do Is Dream Of You," and "Make 'Em Laugh." The orchestra, lead by Barney Barker, featured a special guest pianist, Ellen Piner. Director Jennifer Harness inspired the entire cast and crew with her enthusiasm and could often be found helping with everything from lights to dance numbers. The show kept the audience laughing and tapping their feet to the music.

Alison Vick kept the audience laughing in her portrayal of Lina Lamont the beautiful Hollywood star with the screechy voice. Alison also asked the audience the question "What's Wrong With Me," and answered it "Nothin".

Don Lockwood (Isaac Hopkins) and Cosmo Brown (Matt Hill) are busy giving the diction teacher (Stephen Williamson) a hard time. They turn the diction lesson into a song and dance, "Moses Supposes."

Transforming. That's exactly what makeup chief Krys Davis had to do to Amanda Lupton. In the musical, Amanda played Roscoe Dexter the big shot director. Amanda's character kept everyone laughing with his stick humor.

The girls from the Coconut Grove serenade Don Lockwood with "All I Do Is Dream Of You." Showgirls are, from left: Jennifer Walker, Susan Willis, and Misti Woolard. Jennifer Walker and Amanda Lewis were the head showgirls.

Newcomer to the East Carteret stage Jessica Fulcher wows the audience with her dancing talent. Jessica has been dancing for thirteen years, and was a wonderful asset to the show.

The Bad Seed

Into a Good Play

The fall 2000 play, "The Bad Seed" was produced almost completely by East Carteret students. The play was directed by Mr. Craig Goheen. This is Mr. Goheen's second year teaching at ECHS. Mr. Goheen's theater arts class made the sets and worked the lights and sound. Makeup and costumes were also done by the students.

The play was about Captain Kenneth Penmark (Josh Boudreau), his wife Christine Penmark (Tracina Williams), and how their 9 year old daughter Rhoda (Stephanie Aldebot) unexpectedly commits murder. Monica Breedlove (Shawna Price) was a very talkative and opinionated landlord. Her brother Emory Wages was played by Jackie Banks. Byron Grimes played Leroy a custodian. Byron also arranged "The Bad Seed" Overture. Mrs. Fern (Alison Vick) was Rhoda's teacher. Reginald Tasker was played by Bo Hancock III. Mr. and Mrs. Daigle (Scott Salter and Megan Roberts) were the parents of Rhoda's murder victim. Richard Bravo was played by Isaac Hopkins who was the father of Christine Penmark.

During fourth period art class Nora Lewis works on painting signs for the fall play "The Bad Seed." The wooden signs were placed around Beaufort and Morehead to invite everyone to come and see the play.

Aiden Howe, Casey Arthur, Chris Kraszeski, Chris Harper, Stuart Flynn, and Michael Robbins spent fourth period working on constructing the set for the play.

During dress rehearsal the night before the first show Jackie Banks takes a moment for a picture. Jackie played Emory Wages, the brother of Monica (Shawna Price) the apartment owner. "It was exhausting; I had absolutely no time to myself. In the end it was worth it."

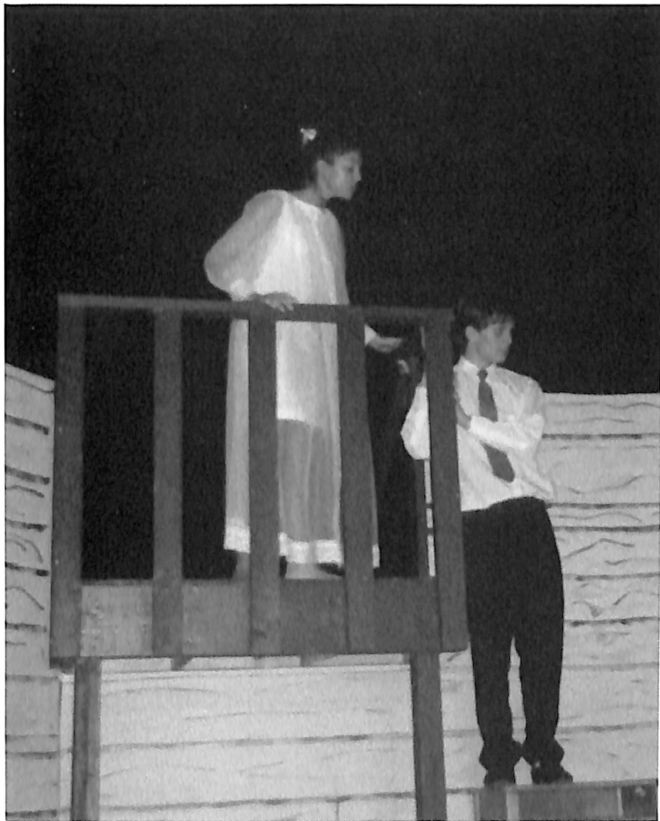

FOOLS

■ ■ ■ Charm ■ ■ ■

Hearts of Viewers

The Spring play took a comedic turn when Director Mr. Craig Goheen chose Neil Simon's "FOOLS". "FOOLS" like "Bad Seed" was also produced by the Theater Arts class. Besides being run by the class, the show was in the capable hands of Tracina Williams, assistant director and Krystle Davis, stage manager. "FOOLS" is about a town cursed with stupidity and a teacher Leon (Byron Grimes) who comes to save them. The family who requested the teacher consists of Dr. Zubritsky (Matt Hill), Mrs. Zubritsky (Amanda Morrow), and their daughter Sophia (Brooke Thomas) who Leon falls for. If Leon can teach Sophia, the curse will be over. There are two problems: one, he has only 24 hours and two, Count Gregor (Isaac Hopkins), an ancestor of the cursers, who wants to marry Sophia. The play also contains an ensemble including: Snetsky the Shepherd with no sheep played by Amanda Lupton; A grumpy magistrate played by Misti Woolard; Slovitich the very dumbfounded butcher played by Kelly Garvin; Mishkin the post man who can never find the right house played by Chris Wagner, and Yenchna the vendor who can't sell anything played by Andrea Gillikin. A lot of hard work went into this production. Costumes, set, makeup, and all the technical elements were done by the Theatre Arts students. All in all, this show revealed that there were no fools, only talented students.

Sophia (Brooke Thomas) is telling Leon (Byron Grimes) how worried she is that the curse can not be broken. Brooke a freshman at East gained her first lead role in this production.

HOMECOMING

In The Spotlight

The day of homecoming was finally here, and almost everyone was excited and full of anticipation. Some were lucky enough to get out early to work on floats and to pick up cars for the parade. The floats were kept and also worked on at Jarrett Bay Boat Works. The parade was very successful even though the sophomores had to forfeit their float due to a lack of participation on the part of some students. It was getting close to game time.

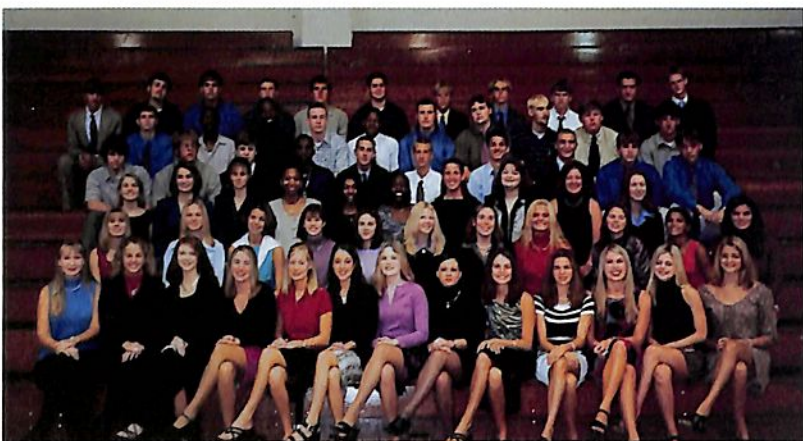

The game began with a pregame presentation of the homecoming candidates. The candidates were escorted through a tunnel of flags starting with the freshmen, sophomore, and junior class candidates. Next through the tunnel were the athletic and club candidates. Last but certainly not least, the senior class candidates made their way through the colorful flags.

The 7:30 kickoff was the beginning of an exciting night, not only for the candidates but also for the football team. The Swansboro Pirates had arrived pumped up and ready to win but left very disappointed. It was a close game but East pulled through and defeated Swansboro 26-21. At halftime the candidates lined up on the track and the lights went down.

It was time to announce the homecoming royalty. First Mr. Craig Goheen called out the names of the six honor attendants: seniors: Katie Daniels, Laurel Guthrie, Mallory Jessee; junior: Dicy Benders; Freshmen: Tabitha Smith, Shanna Morris. Next Bubba Wheatly and Cora Johnson were named Prince and Princess. Tension rose and the stands fell silent. It was time to name the King and Queen. The 2000/2001 King and Queen were Timmy Morris, who is also the captain of the football team, and Molly Wheatly. Molly had to ride alone because Timmy was still in the locker room with the rest of the team during all the excitement. Homecoming ended with a victory, not just by the football team but with individual victories also.

Sharing the excitement are Bubba Wheatly and Cora Johnson, the 2000/2001 Homecoming Prince and Princess. "I was so excited, and I was shocked. I felt good about it. I thought I wasn't going to win anything, but it came out that I did," quoted Cora.

On the night of October 6th, Timmy Morris was named Homecoming King. He was escorted by his two cousins, Joe and Ian Hamard. When asked how he felt about being named homecoming king, timmy expressed, "I was very suprised, and I want to thank everyone that voted for me. I was really happy that my cousins could share this special moment with me."

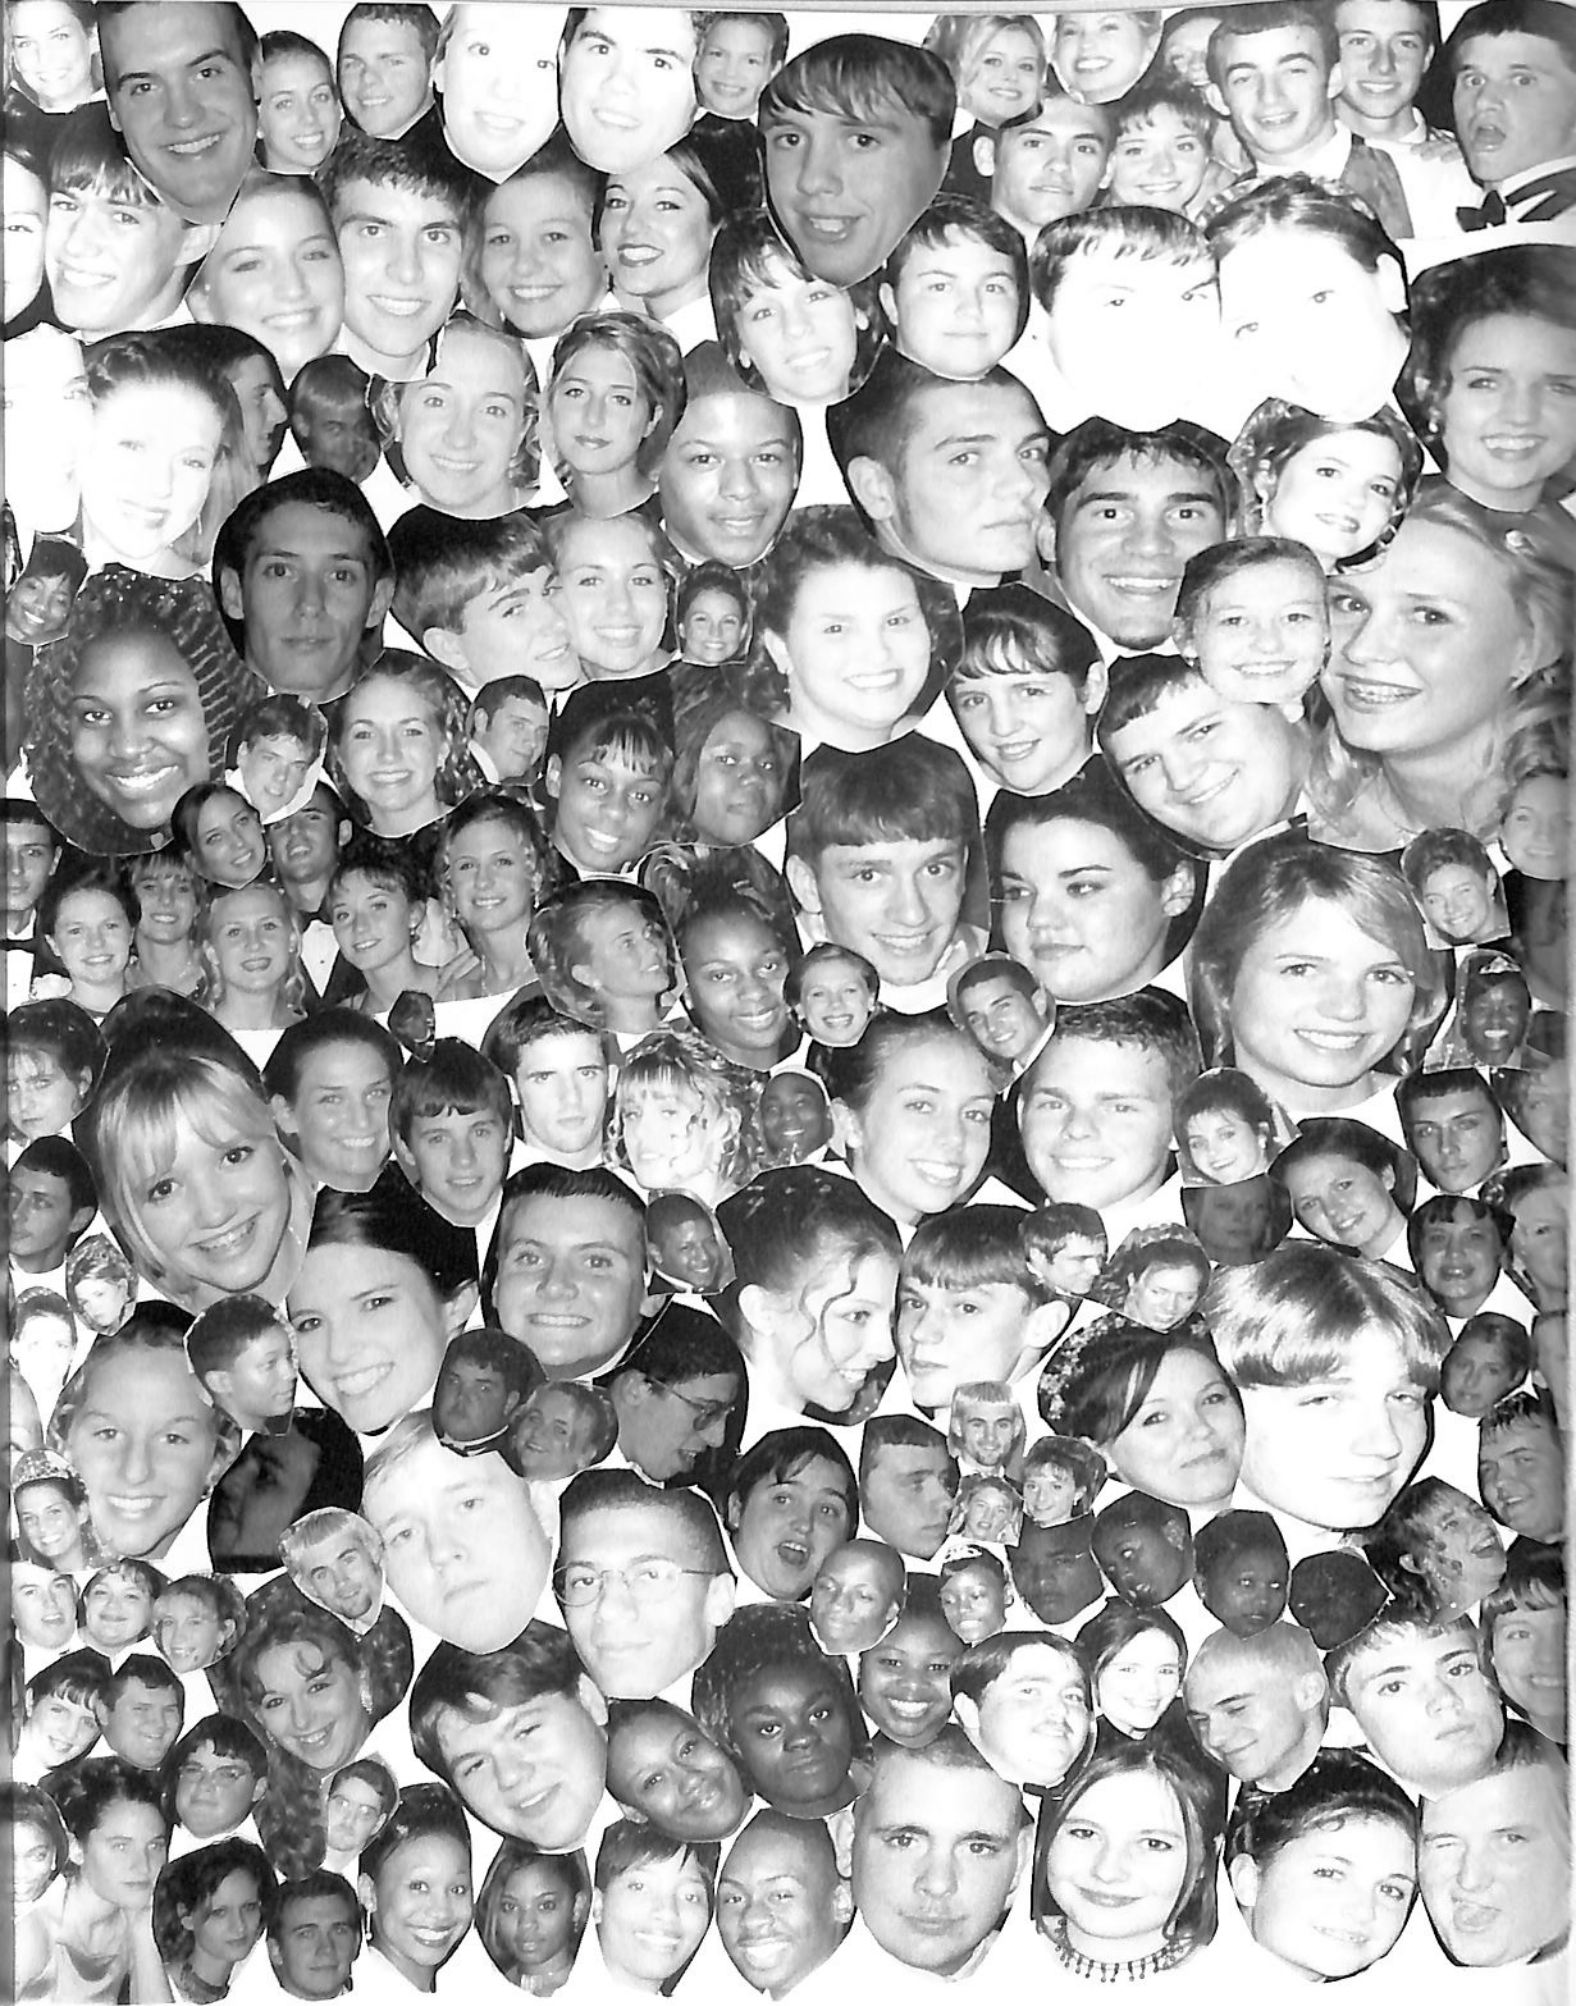

After the homecoming presentation Ginny Thomas stops to take a quick picture with her father Ralph Thomas. East Carteret was honored to have Sheriff Thomas participate in this year's homecoming activities.

During a crucial moment Coach Conway gathers his offensive line. The game against the Pirates was the team's first win. The East defeated Swansboro 26 to 21.

Riding in the spotlight, homecoming Queen Molly Wheatly, takes the traditional ride around the track. "I was so excited and suprised. It was a fun experience," explains Molly. Because the King Timmy Morris was busy in the locker room, Molly took her ride alone.

"I'm gonna miss it a lot. I really hope to see the tradition continue when I'm gone," quotes Celeste Taylor, head rifle and fire baton. Celeste used her talent and determination to teach herself to twirl and then taught Kari Willis and Chasity Lobland this special homecoming routine.

On March 23th, 2001 the junior prom committee and parents went to the Civic Center to prepare for East Carteret's 2001 senior prom. The students, parents, and teachers worked hard whether it was building a castle, making a water fountain, or blowing up balloons. After a full day of decorating the committee came back the next morning to make some last minute adjustments. On March 24th, 2001 at eight o'clock, Tom Boné, the DJ played music until ten thirty, when all the seniors and their dates were asked to go to the lobby. At that point the seniors and their dates entered the room while Ms. Raines announced their names. After the seniors were acknowledged then the prom court names were announced. When the applause ended everyone went back to dancing 'til midnight.

Enchanted Paradise

Dressed up for a night at the Civic Center, juniors and seniors enjoyed an evening of music, dancing, and friendship as they celebrated Prom 2001.

Prom night was a big night for Jessie Juul and Antonio Oden as they were crowned King and Queen. "We were both really suprised; we weren't expecting it," stated Jessie.

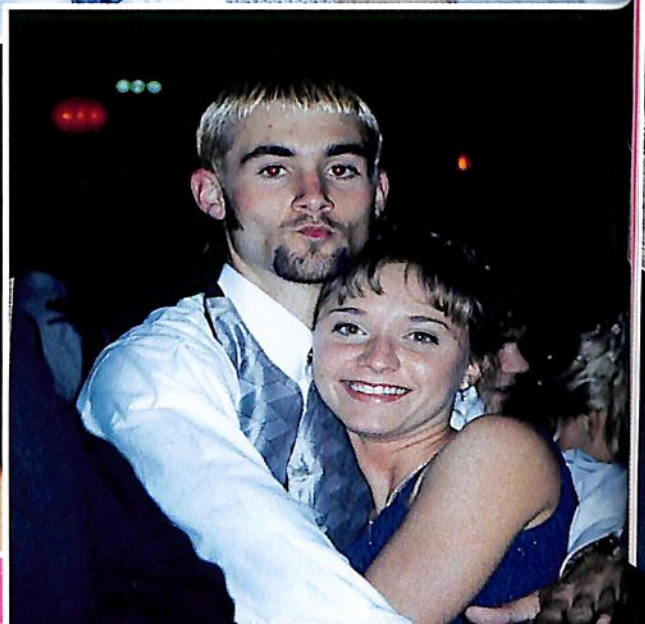

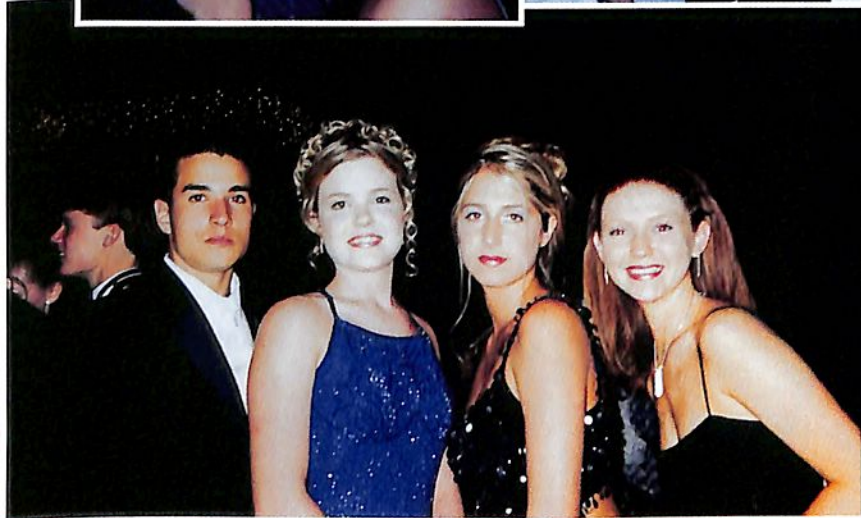

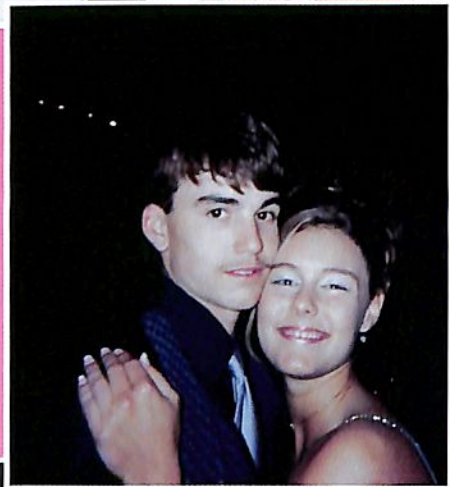

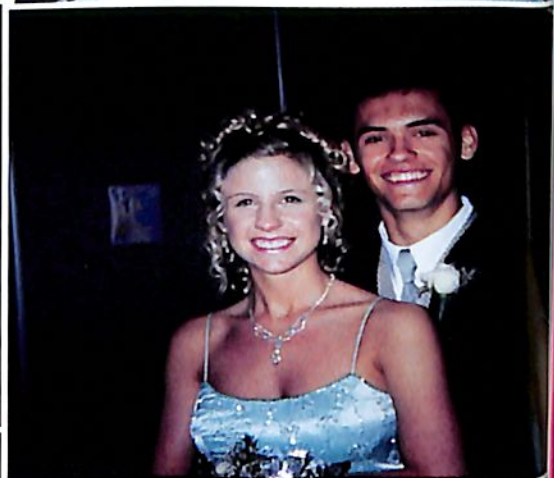

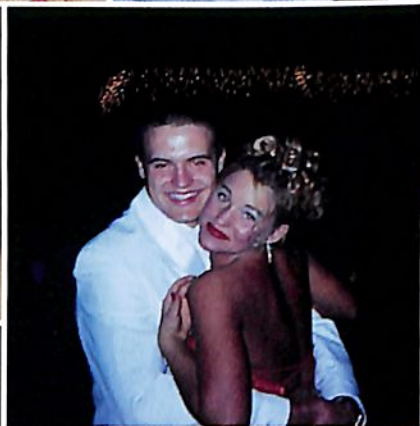

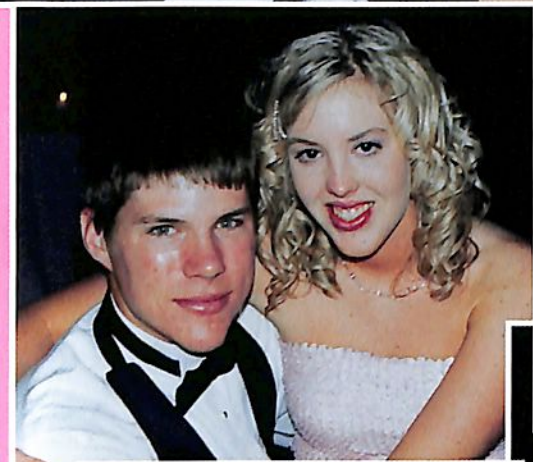

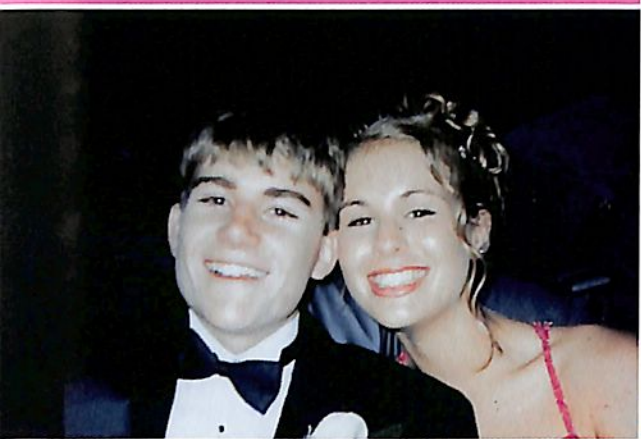

Stephanie Lewis said, "It was a challange" but after two days the decorations came together creating a beautiful prom. Many parents helped the juniors with decorating the day before and the day of prom.

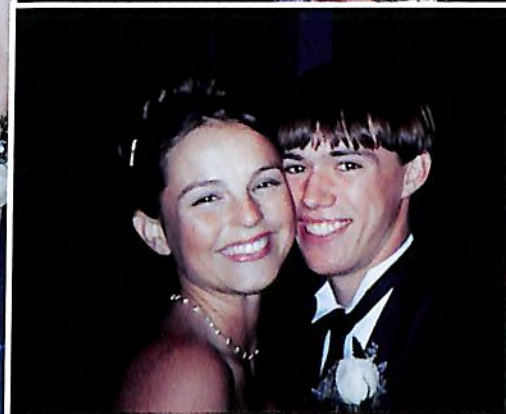

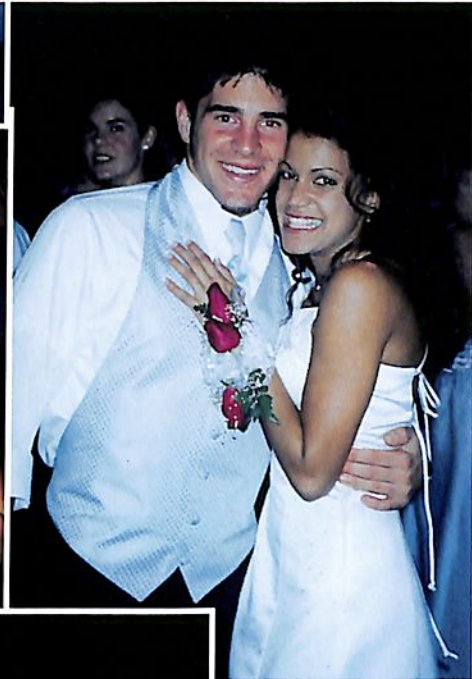

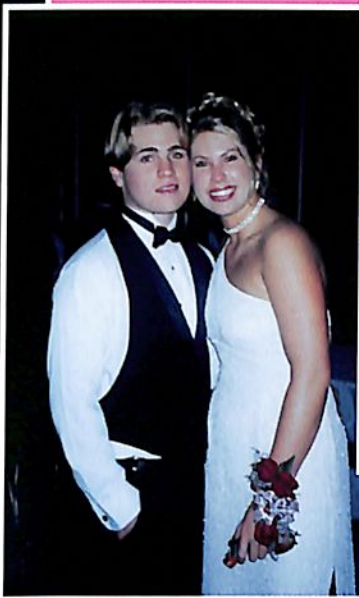

When no one was looking a picture was taken of the dance floor where everyone was "getting down". Now students can see what they really looked like when they show off their dance moves.

Everyone applauded as Jason Everett and Dicy Benders were announced as this year's prom Prince and Princess.

Who Are They Trying To Impress?

Everyone tries to impress and East Carteret High School happens to have some of the most impressive of students.

Jesica Bryan, Laurel Guthrie, and Krista Rhinehardt take a break from listening to Mr. Molokach to smile for the camera. Krista says, "We always had fun in calculus 'cause it's not your typical A.P. class."

The students at East Carteret study hard to impress teachers, family, and friends. Colleges are requiring higher GPA's and higher SAT scores, so the students buckle down on their books. Not only do they work hard in basic classes like math, English, history, and science, but they also show their talent in classes like art, drama, auto mechanics, and music. These courses give students a chance to experience other fields and skill areas that may help them in the future. The students have made great strides towards improving test scores and in competing with bigger schools like West Carteret.

Jeffery Penny, Erica Eubank, and J.C. Salter demonstrate how to pull on a rope in Miss Harness's Drama I class. Jeffery said, "It's the best class."

Miss Sally Davis's second period algebra class goes to the computer lab to practice on math problems. "Algebra was pretty fun; we got to go to the computer lab to play Green Globs," said Jessica Paerl and Stephanie Cook.

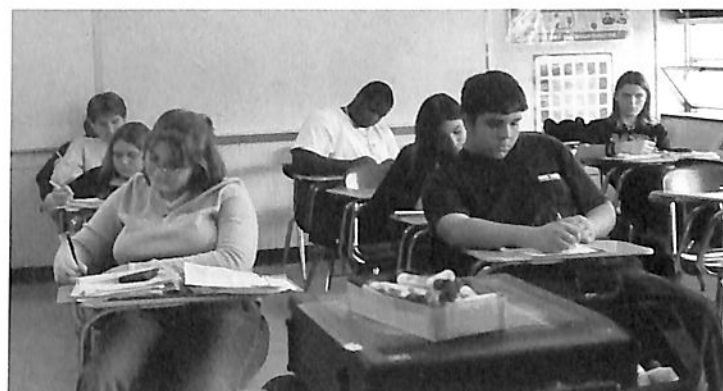

While painting a fish for Mr. Barker's going away present, Lauren Chadwick says "I like art". Mr. Barker has worked at ECHS for 14 years and is retiring this year.

T Tyler Pake helps Caroline Corwin figure out answers for Mr. Kappel's U.S. history worksheet. Caroline said, "The class is not that hard if you study and pay attention in class. My favorite part of class [was] Mr. Kappel's stories!"

D uring a biology lab, Melanie Reels and Dora Smith said, "Mrs. Stephenson is our favorite teacher." Mrs. Stephenson is leaving this year for a position in Guilford County.

M r. Sawyer's second period Introduction to Agriculture students, James Dixon and Mr. Sawyer's assistant Michael Lindemann, put on their safety glasses to do some metal fabrication for a boat trailer.

M eredith McDonald and Dominick O'Neal work hard on an assignment in Mrs. Edward's second period Algebra A class so they can move on to Algebra B.

Beta Club

ACADEMICALLY IMPRESSING

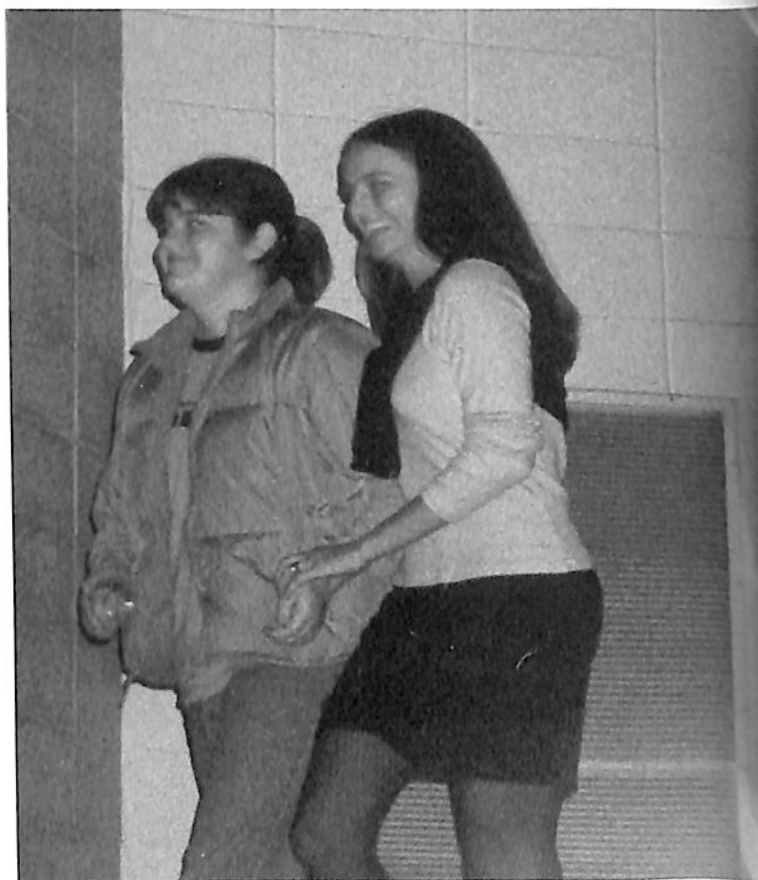

Beta Club is a prestigious society that rewards diligent students for their hard work. In order to be a member of Beta Club, a student must have a 3.5 GPA and an overall average of 90. In order to remain a member, students must maintain their GPA and attend meetings regularly. The meetings take place on the first Monday of every month. Beta Club members must possess four important keys: achievement, character, leadership, and scholarship. One of the top priorities of Beta Club is service to the school and community. For Thanksgiving, Beta Club members prepared goodie baskets for the sick and the elderly in the community, and then delivered them. For Christmas, members adopted two children to support through the Christmas Angel Program. In the spring Beta Club held a Walk-A-Thon to raise money for Cystic Fibrosis. Members held car washes for cancer victim and fellow member Nina Gibbs. A continual service program is the Open Court Work. Members show up after school to pull weeds and plant flowers in order to make the courtyards more pleasant. This is Mrs. Gaskill's last year as sponsor of Beta Club and hopefully Beta Club will continue to thrive under its next sponsor.

Senior Mark Merrick demonstrates the fatal vision goggles with Resource Officer Mike Stafford. Considering how far Mark is off the line, prove how dangerous Mark would be if he tried to drink and drive.

Juniors Dicy Benders, Josh Boudreau, and Justin Bourbeau read their pledge. Thirty-six new members were inducted into Beta Club this year.

Senior Leslie Morris welcomes fellow senior Stephanie Porter into Beta Club. Stephanie did not know she was going to be inducted until right before the ceremony began.

Junior Ken Woolard welcomes sophomore Michael Rhinehardt into NAHS. Red carnations were given to each new member at inductions which were held in the ECHS cafeteria on April 25, 2001

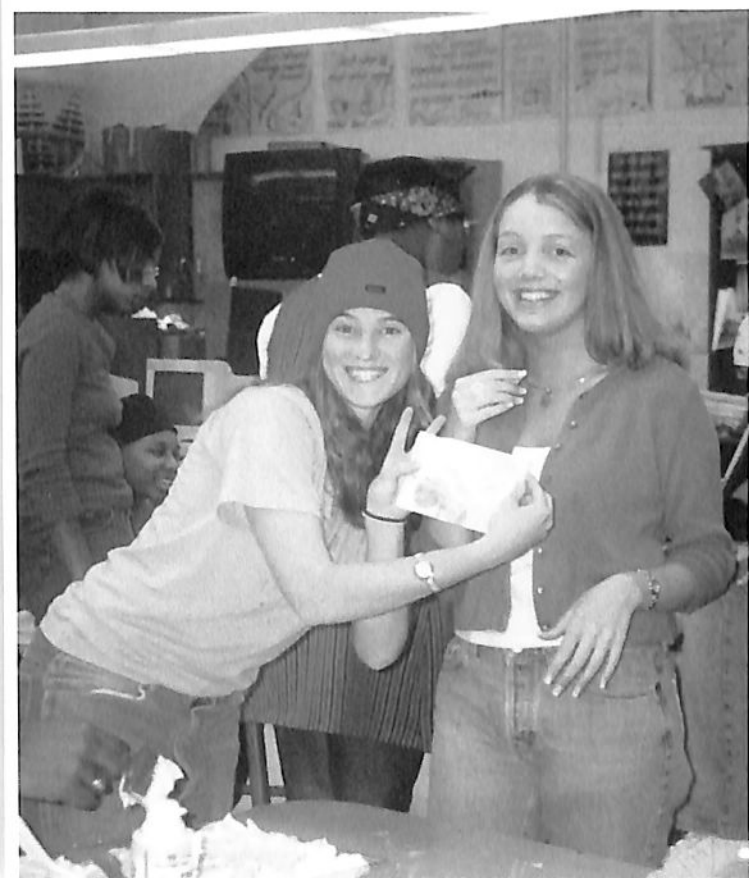

National Art Honor Society

ARTISTIC IMPRESSIONS

National Art Honor Society recognizes the best artistic talent of East Carteret. In order to be a member of NAHS one must maintain a 93 in art and an 85 overall average. Members must not only be dedicated art students, but also dedicated students toward the rest of their schoolwork. Members are also required to produce at least two works of art each year. Much of the artwork is displayed in art shows and can be found on display throughout the school during the year. NAHS meetings are held on Wednesday nights and sponsor, Mrs. Kathy Gillikin, provides unique and entertaining art assignments for the members. This year NAHS members took a trip to the North Carolina Museum of Art in Raleigh. NAHS is a terrific outlet for those who wish to express themselves artistically.

NAHS members Maggie Arrington and Nora Lewis proudly display their artwork from a meeting. It was created from a mixture of shaving cream and paint.

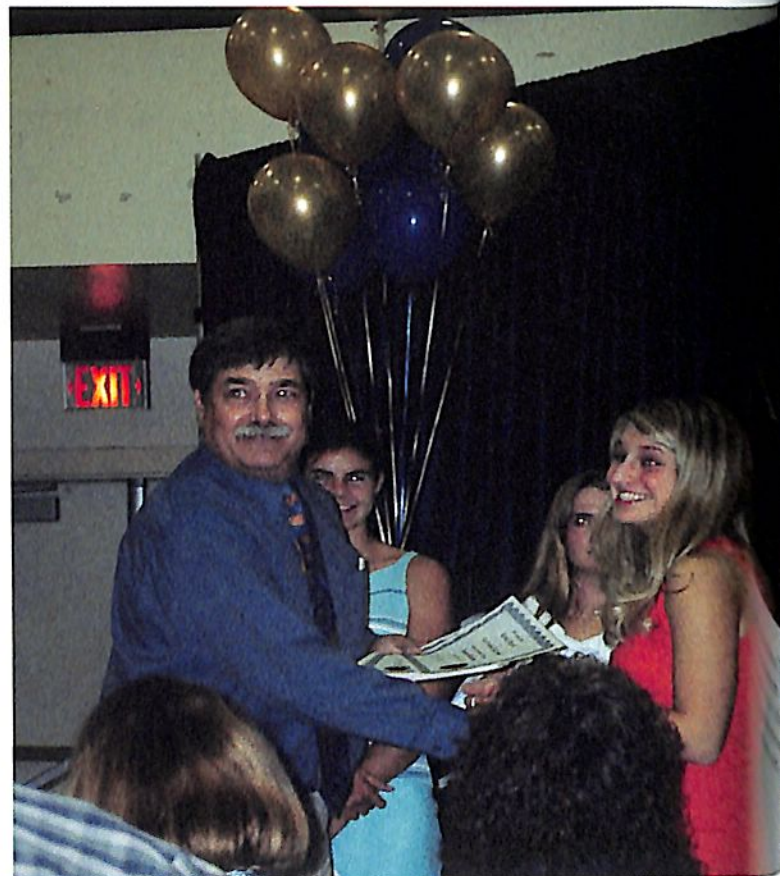

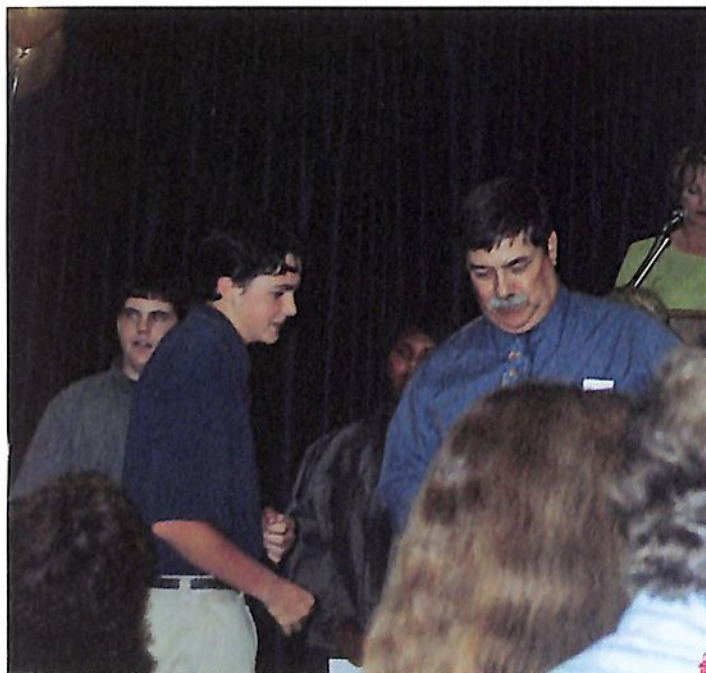

This picture was taken at Pullens Park in Raleigh. While there, NAHS members sketched and had a picnic.

Impressive

Honors

This year's 2001 Academic Banquet was held at the Crystal Coast Civic Center on May 16. A student must have at least an 88 overall average and or an 85 in each class to be invited. A variety of awards were given from various departments to individual students. When attendees first entered the Civic Center, they were welcomed with a variety of artworks by Mrs. Gillikin's art classes. It was an honor for any student to be invited and to attend the banquet.

Carla Fulcher receives her star from Dr. McReynolds. Carla was a senior and received her letter when she was a freshman. Since then she has received three stars to add to it.

As a freshman, Matthew Whaley was very excited to be invited to the Academic Banquet. "Being invited to this year's Academic Banquet was a real honor. I hope I get invited again next year."

Hannah Harrell poses for a quick shot while accepting her award from Mr. Kappel. All students who attended the banquet received a certificate for their academic achievements.

Scott Robinson receives his academic letter. This was Scott's first academic banquet at East.

Student Council President, Ginny Thomas introduced the night's presenters at the banquet with her bubbly enthusiasm. She kept the night entertaining.

Joanna Brake, Beta Club president, makes the closing remarks at the end of the banquet. "I kept it short knowing that everyone was anxious to go home."

This was Mrs. Gaskill's last Academic Banquet. She is retiring and will be greatly missed. Next year, Mrs. Ilse Englehardt will be taking over Mrs. Gaskill's duty of organizing this annual event.

Mrs. Hudnall announces this year's top twenty letter winners. This award is based on unweighted GPA so honors or AP courses do not effect who receives this award.

In Perfect Harmony

Jennifer Jackson, Melody Taylor, and Alex Powell rehearse some words in a song they will sing in concert. Melody and Alex stated, "We had a lot of fun this year, but we will miss all the seniors."

Ms. Francis Ethridge is the choral director at East Carteret. First period she taught Mariner Singers, the more experienced group. Second period she taught Chorus, the fresh new singers. Choral students practiced in their classes everyday and Tuesday afternoons to prepare for their fall, Christmas, and spring concerts and a choral competition.

Ms. Ethridge says that "Music is the soul of life, it expresses the depth of humanity." She congratulates seniors and wants them to "remember that the choices you make at every moment, matter."

In Myrtle Beach Krystle Davis, Elizabeth Culpepper, and Jennifer Mocklin visit with Elvis. "It's a great class and we've had a lot of fun," said Elizabeth.

"Mariner Singers was the best experience of my life; it has changed it forever," said Matt Hill. These guys sport their Santa hats for the Christmas Concert.

Matthew Hill, Byron Grimes, Robert Laster, and Terrell Henry enjoy the Legends in Concert in Myrtle Beach, S.C. "We're partners in crime," the two stated.

MARINER SINGERS

Lauren Guthrie, Amanda Pittman, Cambria Pokryzwa, Cassandra Bryan, Hollie Sparks, and Derell Davis get together one last time before their spring concert.

Lynette Godette, Lynette Crooms, Terrell Henry, Elishba Collins, and Toni Hamilton share a moment at The Dixie Stampeed in Myrtle Beach. Toni remarked, "It was a wonderful opportunity to experience the outside world."

Cassandra Bryan, Alex Powell, Carolyn Rially, Debra Gabrel, Amanda Morrow, and Jacklyn Cash show some moves while singing "Set the Night to Music". Amanda says "the class was fun. Ms. Ethridge chose a rare style of music."

"Pride of the East"

Drum majors Lem Hardy (left) and Jessica Dowty (right) pause before the West Craven competition for a quick photo. This year was a very successful year for Jessica and Lem. They took home many second and third place trophies as well as a first place trophy at the Douglas Bird High School Band Day. Also, they were the first place overall drum majors out of all the bands at the competition that day.

The Heat Is On In Saigon...

Marching Mariners

"You are, sunlight, and I moon." The reflecting notes flow from Misti Woolard's French horn as she performs her solo in "Sun and Moon." Misti spent a lot of time perfecting her solo and the crowd's applause showed that it paid off.

Sarah Naset takes her stance as she pours out the haunting duet in "Sun and Moon." She shares her part of the solo with Jaclyn Day. "I really enjoyed having the opportunity to demonstrate my playing ability with the solo," said Sarah.

"Outside, day starts to dawn," were the words that the solo in "Sun and Moon" doubled. Jaclyn Day performs her interpretation of the melody she shares with Sarah Naset. Jaclyn worked very hard on her solo, perfecting every last note.

Jennifer Walker shows off her style as she performs part of the duet in "Sun and Moon". She shows everyone that even freshmen are capable of performing the intricately scored solos.

Gail Terkelsen gently releases the last note of "Sun and Moon." Gail shows that even the smallest instrument's sound carries on the field when played correctly. "It was really great to be given a solo, there aren't many piccolo solos in marching band," laughs Gail.

"Drum Majors, is your band ready?" Drum Majors Jessica Dowty and Lem Hardy bow and take off for their stands. "East Carteret High School, you may take the field in competition." As the announcer finishes, a driving string of notes pours out of the center of the umbrella covered band. The horns come in and the umbrellas break away. The drums began to beat their agitating rhythm and the band marches double time to make the "big hit" in the music. This was how every competition began, and always proved to be an excellent start. This year, the band achieved scores never before reached. Besides receiving a rating of excellent at every competition, the band took many first place trophies and regained the respect that they were known for. Of course there is a price to success. The band put in many long hours including starting school a week before everyone else by coming to band camp. The music for the marching show came from the Broadway smash "Miss Saigon," written by Alain Boublil and Claude Michael Schönberg. The music was very difficult but the band mastered it with ease and proved so when they took home a first place trophy for music. Overall, it was a very successful season for the band. Congratulations to Mr. Barker and his staff, and also to the East Carteret High School Marching Mariners.

The drumline, led by Captain Anthony Cahow, prepares for another stunning performance. The drumline took home many first and second place trophies this year, as well as placing third in the large competition held every year at Roanoke Rapids.

COLORGUARD

In a place that won't let us feel, in a life where nothing seems real, I have found you.

--Quote from "Miss Saigon"

The Fall 2000 season was a very good one for the ECHS colorguard. They won first place flags at the 2A Eagle Band Day 2000 held at the Douglas Byrd High School and also received second place visual ensemble at the 2000 Eastern NC Band Festival. The colorguard was lead by Amanda Lewis (head flag) and Celeste Taylor (head rifle). Amanda and Celeste were under the guidance of Barney Barker, Lori Marshall, and Jonathan "Red" Colvin. Lori and Red travel from Ohio every year to teach the color guard a new show.

"Miss Saigon" was the theme for this year's show. "Miss Saigon" is a 95 year old story about the romance between Asians and Americans during the Vietnam War. The colorguard wore red silk shirts and black pants to help the audience feel the Asian mood they tried to create during the show. This show like all the others took a lot of time and a lot of dedication from everyone. East's colorguard pulled through and worked hard as a team to put on a wonderful performance.

"Colorguard takes a lot of time and dedication, but i'm definitely gonna miss it. It's been such a big part of my life," comments Celeste Taylor. Celeste has been a part of colorguard all four of her years at East and worked hard to earn the title "head rifle".

Games are a very rushed but exciting time for the colorguard. Each member had six flags and an umbrella to use throughout the performance. With their colorful costumes and props, the guard really added the oriental flair needed to perform "Miss Saigon".

East Carteret's colorguard members are working hard to get everything perfect. Being in colorguard is very time consuming and requires dedication. The group actually had class 2nd period and also practiced 2 or 3 days a week after school.

Every year in every sport East Carteret has a Senior Night. This is a ceremony where the seniors are called forward along with their parents presented with a flower. Amy Johnson, Amanda Lewis, and Chasity Loblan honored here for their years of participation in colorguard. Amanda who is head flag comments on her years in colorguard: "The past four years colorguard have been wonderful. It taught me a lot. I will always miss it."

WINTERGUARD'S 2001

BAROQUE SAMBA

Amy Johnson performs her solo in the guard show at a competition in Virginia. "I really enjoyed having the opportunity to have a solo in the show this year. I worked really hard and was really happy with my performance."

The color guard practices everyday during second period. Here they go through the dance routines that open up the show. This was a contrast to the driving rhythm in the next part of the song.

A mellow chorus of voices begins to harmonize an unusual melody and the winter guard begins to move to their opening positions. All of a sudden the music takes on a driving beat and the winter guard takes off to their next form. This is how every competition started for the winter guard and was very effective. This year, the winter guard performed to a piece by the New York Voices entitled "Baroque Samba." The winter guard is instructed by Mr. Barney Barker along with Laurie Marshall and Johnathan "Red" Colvin. The winter guard started learning their show over Christmas break, beginning the Friday school was over and going until Tuesday, rehearsing from 8:00am to 5:00pm. The winter guard also traveled to competitions in Raleigh, placing second, and also got the chance to go and perform at the winter guard competitions in Ohio, and the Atlantic Indoor Associations's competition held in Virginia. Overall it was a successful season for the winter guard.

The winter guard performs for an assembly before going to a competition in Raleigh. Every chance the guard got to perform was much appreciated. Everyone at the assembly seemed to enjoy the show and even got the guard to do the show again.

Last Chance to Impress

"I wouldn't have been the same person today, if I had not spent my senior year here."

~Stephen Williamson

Antonio Oden smiles for the camera at the Christmas Assembly. Most students enjoyed the assembly and saw it as a way to get into the Christmas spirit.

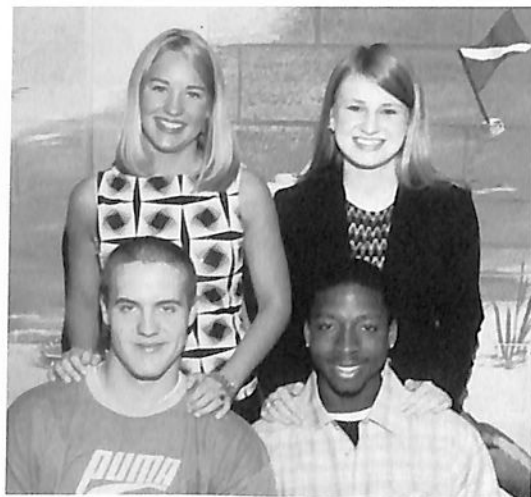

Your first day of kindergarden, your first report card, your first boyfriend or girlfriend, your first kiss, your first prom, your first love. . . All these memories rush back to seniors as they take their final stroll down the halls of East Carter. Everyone begins to feel a sense of relief because they know that they do not have to worry about impressing their peers or teachers anymore. Now they move on to bigger and better schools. Maybe it be Carolina, UNC-W, ECU, WCU, or CCC. But the seniors, still hold one common bond: memories together at East Carter High School.

The talented Jessica Mollinet diligently works on a backdrop for this year's musical, "Singing in the Rain". Mrs. Gillikin's art students, such as Jessica, help make the musical a huge success.

Delisa Murphy, Molly Wheatly, and Crystal Hensley work on a lab in Mrs. Waters' Marine Science class. They were testing the effects of different colors of light on photosynthesis.

Brittany Tosto studies chemistry during some free time in the library. Many students felt Mr. Barker was a tough but good teacher and took advantage of every free minute of study time.

Bridget Mendelson works in Ms. Carver's Clothing Design 2 class on a costume for the musical. This class was offered for the first time this year. Students improved their sewing by learning harder skills.

Amy Shaver works at the FFA's petting zoo. She said, "I loved working with the animals and teaching the children something new about them. The look on their faces was worth it all."

As another year came to a close, it was time to say good-bye to the class of 2001. The last few weeks of school were filled with activities, awards, and exams. Before they left, the seniors had to have a little fun and show once and for all that they were number 1!

jr/senior field day

Field Day was revived this year to the thrills (and spills) of both the junior and senior classes. Juniors and seniors were excused from 2nd period to the football field on Friday, May 25. Mr. Montford supplied the music and sound system and with the help of able sponsor, Mrs. Schooley, the field events commenced. Events included a sack race, a three-legged race, an egg toss, a board race, a water balloon relay, and a tug-of-war. Sounds normal enough, right? Wrong...

Actually everything was fine until water balloons were passed around. The juniors bunched up into a huddle and discussed their plan to pelt the seniors with their balloons instead of doing the relay. Apparently the seniors caught wind of what was happening and let fly with one of their watery bombs. The result was an all out water balloon fight. Somehow Daniel Owens broke a pair of eyeglasses in the fray.

The competition was tough and it was evident the juniors wanted to win the tug-of-war when almost the entire class took the field. Not to be outdone, many seniors also piled onto their end of the rope. Unfortunately the rope couldn't take all the pressure and snapped after just a few seconds of tugging. A rematch was held with teams selected by class officers. Of course, the seniors were victorious in the end, dragging the juniors down the field.

Field Day ended for juniors with a trip back to class and for seniors with a picnic. Many students checked out to join seniors for more fun--on the water!

Dance 1,2,3,4; SADD 1,2,3; Yearbook 3. The thing I will remember most about ECHS is that when I came here the people were really nice to me. My favorite class was French 2 because I liked it; it was different, easy to learn, and the teacher knows what she's doing! A song that describes me or my life would be "Rebel Girl" by Bikini Kill. Interests I have outside school include ballet, guitar, and work.

James Edward Sutton, Jr.
FFA 4. My friends would describe me as a rebel with a cause. My favorite class was Marine Occupations 2 because there was lots of hands on work and I learned a lot. Interests I have outside of school include skateboarding, playing the bass, basketball, foosball, drums, and partying. My favorite teacher was Ms. Harness because she is fun, cool, and a very nice teacher.

Overall, the class of 2001 received over $1,000,000 in scholarships.

Turning A New Tassel

Unlike last year, graduation ended with a simple turning of tassels to signify that these seniors have just stepped out of their old life at ECHS and into a new life in the real world.

History Has Begun

Daniel Owens gave a short speech but an apt one. He stated that history had just begun for the class of 2001. It was time for them to write their own.

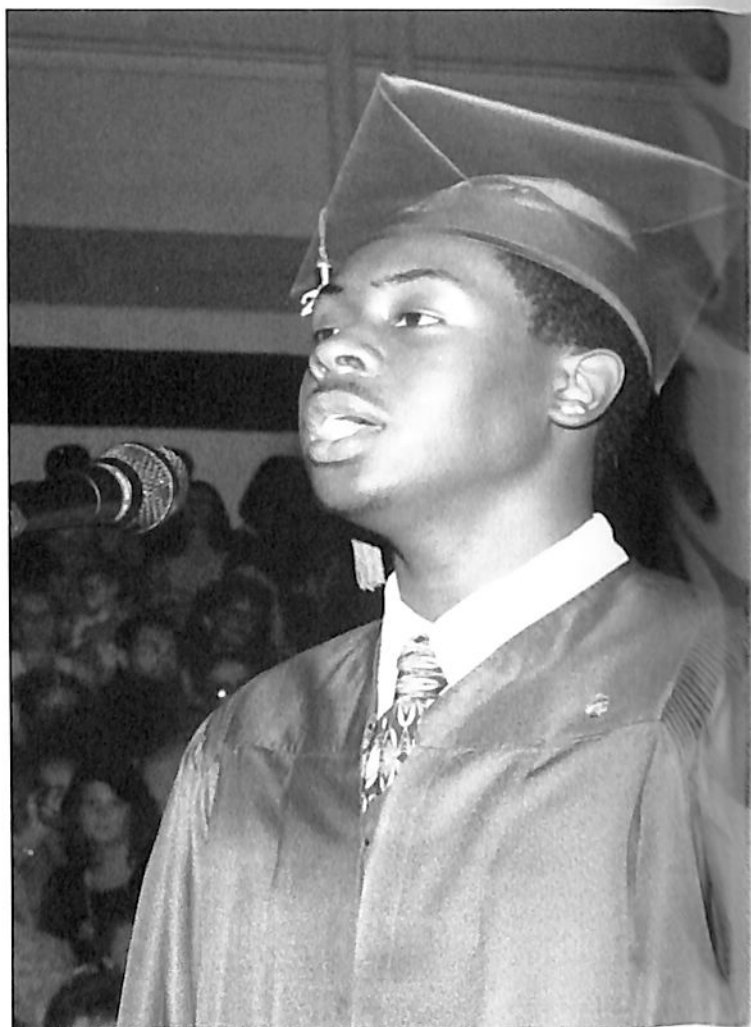

Ready To Recess

Seniors stand to attention as chief marshal Josh Boudreau stands to attention, signaling the end of graduation. The look of relief and elation shows on the face of almost ever senior as their career at ECHS comes to a close.

I Will Never Quit

"Win" was the song Derrell Davis chose to share with his classmates for graduation. This song spoke of courage and never quitting, an encouragement to his class. Derrell participated in several musicals at ECHS and sang at previous graduation ceremonies.

“ LOOK WHO'S GRADUATING

"I will miss my teachers like Ms. Carol Thompson. It was like she was heaven-sent."

Urshela Jones

"I will miss Mr. Eades because I can't get in trouble anymore and he can't get me in trouble anymore."

Chris Kraszeski

"I will miss Mr. Conway because he was my buddy."

Suni Davis

"I will miss Mrs. Gaskill because she helped me through a lot of troubles."

Jessica Mollinet

Explore Dream Discover

The words of the 2001 Valedictorian, Joanna Brake, rang through the gym as another senior class prepared to receive their diplomas. As one looked at those young seniors, beaming, diploma in hand, it was clear that they had their whole lives in front of them. Graduation was a time to say good-bye, one more stepping stone to the future.

They will be remembered for their accomplishments. The class of 2001 received over $1,000,000 in scholarships, quite an achievement for such a small class. Several scholarships were presented at graduation like the Thomas Holmes Carrow Scholarship awarded to Matt Hill and Leslie Morris. Tracina Williams was honored with a prestigious Park Scholarship from NCSU. Nora Lewis, Delisa Murphy, and Hannah Harrell were presented with Academic Honors Scholarships. Tina Thomas, Krista Rhinehardt, Kristen Nelson, Jason Gillikin, and George Cook received the ECHS Faculty Scholarship. The class of 2001 was also very generous in nature, looking to the care of a classmate in her time of need. Nina Gibbs received a portion of their class gift, the majority of which was left to help refurbish the school's sign by the highway. This class will also be remembered for its gifts and talents. In her speech, Rebecca Irvine challenged them to use those gifts and to let their lights shine in the lives of others. Derrell Davis shared the gift of his voice by performing "Win", a song from the movie "Men of Honor".

Before anyone realized it, graduation was over, tassels were turned, and the sounds of the Alma Mater filled the air. The class of 2001 marched out of the gym and into their new lives outside the walls of East Carteret High School.

Junior 2001 MARSHALS

Marshals act as an honor guard to the senior class each year and it is a special honor for each junior to serve. They are the top 10% of their class and are selected after the 2nd 6 week grading period of the spring semester.

Stressed To Impress

Juniors work hard to prepare for the SAT and other difficult subjects they'll need for college.

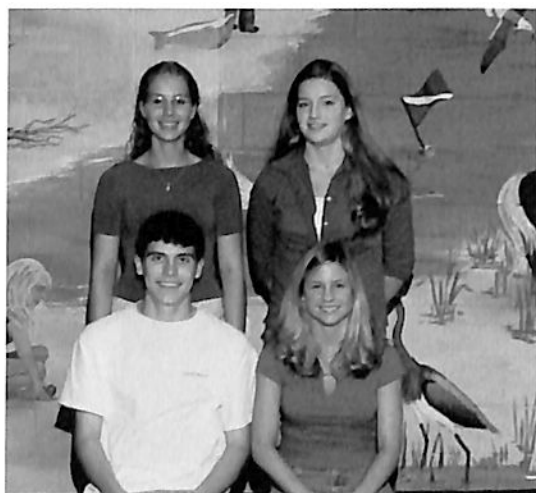

Heather Dixon participates in her Computer Application II class. Heather said she enjoys working with computers and that she plans to take more computer classes. She really enjoyed her junior year, but looks forward to being a senior.

Juniors are faced with many important decisions. Stress is very much a part of their vocabulary for their 3rd year of high school. There's prom to think about, senior year, graduation, and even college, not to mention all the difficult courses they must take. They often ask themselves questions like "Where do I want to go to college?" Or an even better question, "What do I want to do with the rest of my life?"

Junior year is a time to definitely start deciding where to attend college. Letters arrive from almost every college in the country. Decisions, decisions...it seems they will never end. There is hope in sight: senior year.

IMPRESSED UPON

SOPHOMORES GET READY FOR HARDER YEARS TO COME

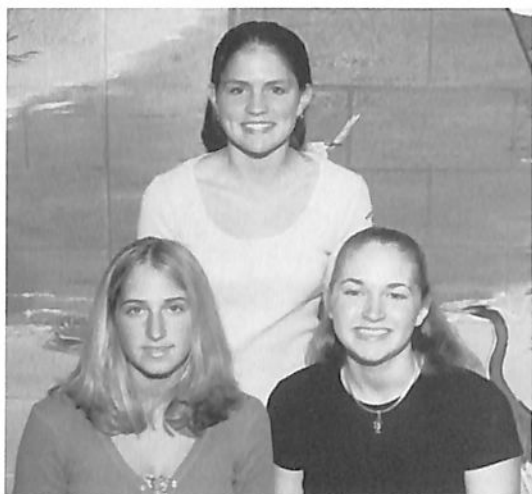

Though the year seemed short, sophomores complained of nothing but work and tests.

Amanda Bunch takes a break from studying in the library. Amanda prepares for a challenging test in Mr. Turner's math class. Amanda said the entire sophomore year was full of testing.

Although it quickly passed by, Sophomore year has once again been categorized as unimpressive. Even though there were so many fun and challenging classes, each semester seemed to be full of labs and testing. Mrs. Water's tenth grade Biology class spunked things up, as they performed every lab from massing objects to dissecting frogs. Sophomore Megan Gillikin quotes "Bad" when asked for her opinion about her year, while Jonathan Carraway stated "It's alright, it was cool". So where exactly do they stand? The excitement of being in high school is left to the freshman, and the juniors and seniors engage in important business. Pressed in the middle- so one can only wait for it to slide by, while preparing for the harder years to come!

Grinning slightly, Erica Eubank's expression tells all about her sophomore year. Like other sophomores, Erica was hard pressed to find time to be involved in after-school activities. She did find time to participate in the school musical "Singin' In The Rain".

Sophomores Wutasha Taylor and Anne Wheatly prepare to dissect a frog in Mrs. Waters second period biology class. While Wutasha seems serious, Anne appears to be having fun. The two said they enjoyed the class.

Courtney Stapleton stays focused as she works hard to finish a sewing project in Mrs. Carver's clothing design class. The project turned out to be a success.

Megan Moore and Sierra Baxter appear relieved to be out of their weight training class. Megan didn't get buff but quotes "It could've been better. It needs to be more slack."

Kimberly Murrell and Arien Stainback stop and smile for a quick snapshot in between their world history class. The dedicated girls were excited the year was halfway over.

With excitement Lauren Chadwick and Erica Hancock pose for the camera. They are taking a break at the end of the period from World Cultures with Mrs. Harris. This break has come as a relief especially since it is their last class before the Thanksgiving break.

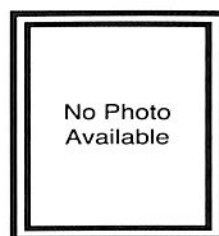

With great interest Jonathan Carawan and Corey White begin their frog dissection in Mrs. Water's class. This lab was a follow up on their study of the systems of the body. They both said that this was an enjoyable lab even though they had done dissections before. When asked if the lab was fun Corey said, "The worms stunk but it was fun." This quote referred to the earthworm dissection they did just prior to the frog dissection.

First Impressions

"This year was alright for my freshmen year. I made a lot of new friends and I liked most of my teachers," stated Amanda Gray.

A.J. Willis takes a break from Mr. Burbella's second period Math 1 class. "Mr. Burbella works us hard, but he's a good teacher," says A.J. He was a freshman this year and he said he enjoyed it.

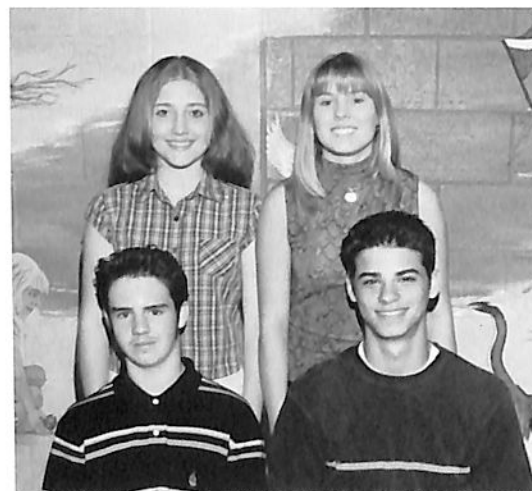

Coming to a bigger school can be a big adjustment for some freshmen. They have a lot of other students and teachers to get to know and deal with. As for the others, they have no problem with these adjustments and they just like the feeling of coming to a bigger place and knowing they're in high school. As they make it toward the end of the year and get over all of their decision making, all they have to look forward to is becoming a sophomore. Before they know it, they will be seniors and remembering their first impressions when they were freshmen.

Steadily, Amanda Swierczek works on her ELPS work in Mr. Lynch's second period class. "I feel bad for the freshmen next year because Mr. Lynch isn't going to be here," stated Amanda. Mr. Lynch took Mr. LaPointe's place after he left.

"He likes to joke around a lot. He's a good teacher," says Ashley Sandlan and Brandon Struyk. Ashley and Brandon, both freshmen, are in Mr. Turner's second period geometry class.

Adam Lowder slips away from Mr. Wall's second period English 1 class to get a drink of water. "Mr. Wall is a pretty cool teacher," stated Adam when asked what he thought about Mr. Wall. Adam also said that he is looking forward to becoming a sophomore.

"Miss Woolridge is a good teacher," states Laura Baker who is in Miss Woolridge's second period health class. Laura is a freshman this year and is diligently working on her health assignment.

Mr. Chadwick's second period class works hard doing their lunges. There was a lot more to go after they finish these!

Something Academic

Freshman year is a very exciting and different experience for most students. High school offers many new things for students to experience.

East offers academic classes as well as elective classes such as Interior Design, Foods and Nutrition, Construction, and Weight Training.

The variety in courses often allows students a break from just sitting in their desks.

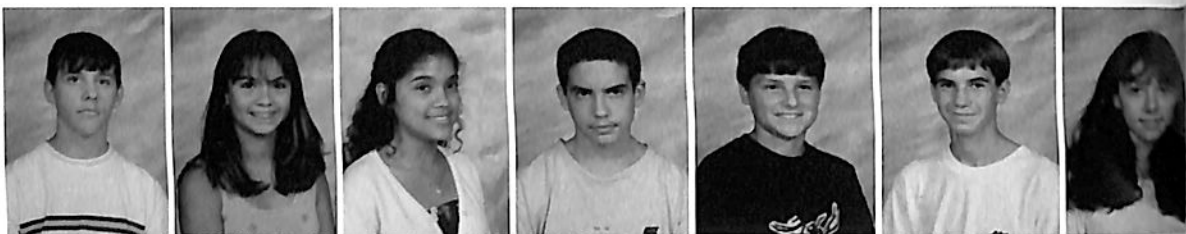

In Mrs. Fulford's interior design class Brooke Thomas, Brittany Halstead, Tabitha Smith, Leslie Downum, Amanda Lewis, and Erin Miller are making snowmen out of light bulbs. Brooke said that "coming to high school has been a fun and enjoyable next step for her."

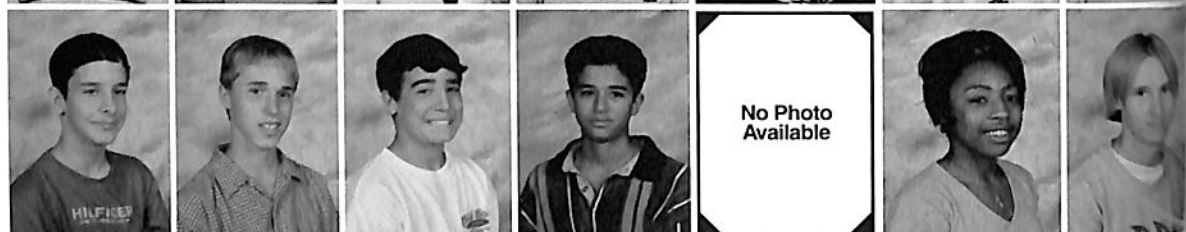

During Mr. Turner's fourth period Algebra 1 class the students are going over a worksheet. Like the students in this picture this is also Mr. Turner's first year here. Mr. Turner coached the J.V. volleyball and J.V. baseball teams.

Class of 2004

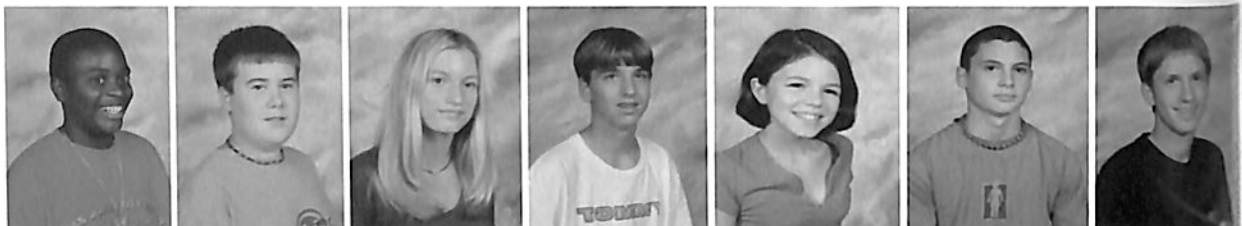

Freshmen year is often the start of new and different courses. Freshmen are required to pass certain courses in order to graduate. Freshmen must take English 1, ELP, Introduction to Chemistry and Physics, Health & P.E., among others.

This year freshmen must for the first time pass the North Carolina Exit Exam. The exam consists of four parts; math, English, social studies, and science. Each part is two hours long.

In Mr. Lapointe's fourth period EL class students learn about many important U.S. issues. Mr. Lapointe teaches his students about becoming more productive citizens.

A New Beginning

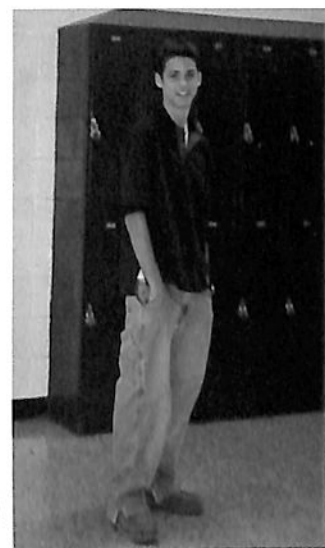

Sitting outside the school during second lunch, Devin Foley, Megan Shaver, Chris Smith, Britney Pittman, and Bo Hancock hang out. When asked how they liked being a freshman Britney said, "I met a lot of new friends that I like to hang out with." Bo said that it was a "unique and exciting experience."

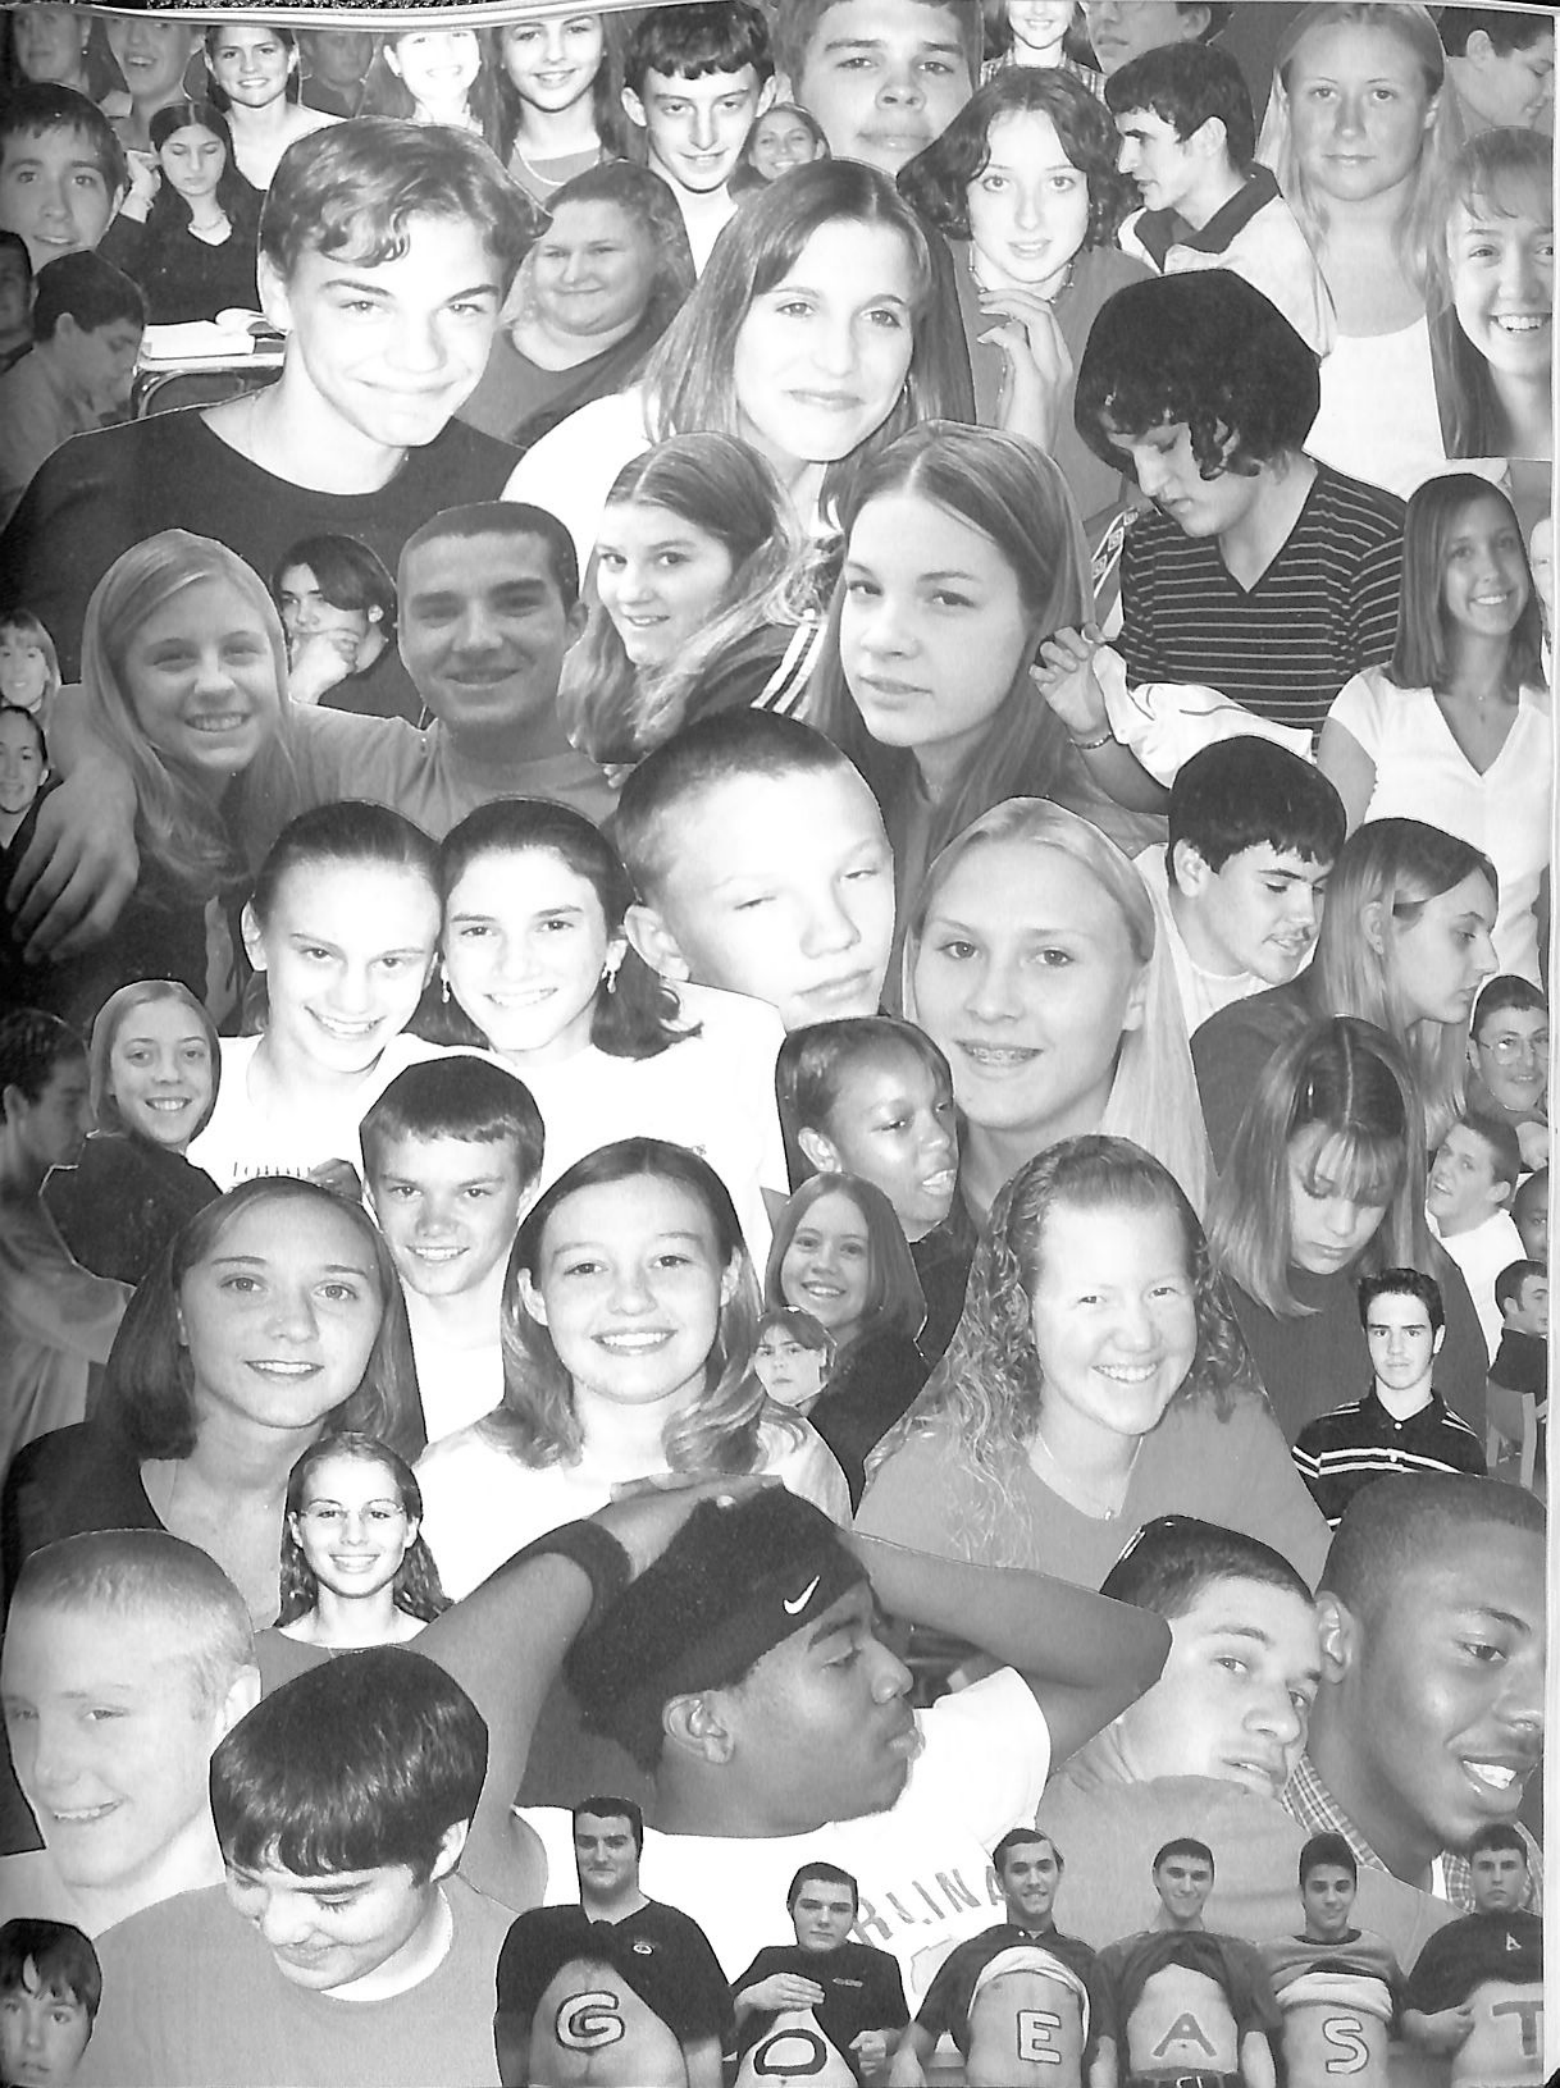

Freshmen meet a lot of new people in high school. They also make friends that are very different from themselves.

Walking back to Mr. Turner's class Mike Hancock stops for a quick picture. When asked what he thought about being a freshman he said that "it's different." Mike plays on the J.V. baseball team.

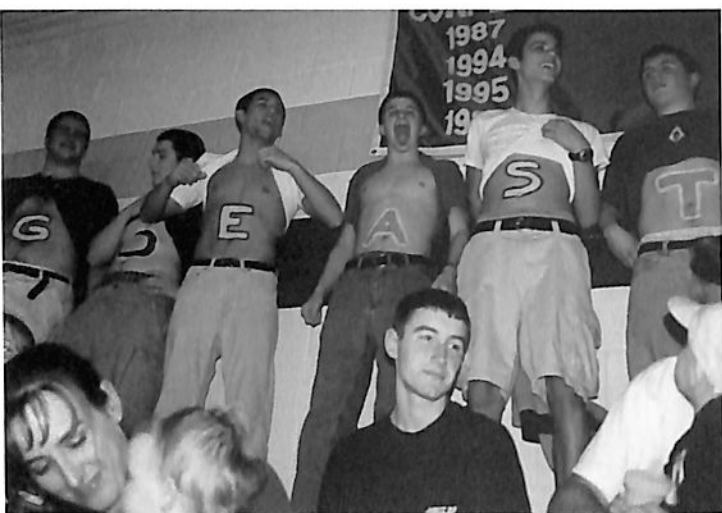

Making an Impression

Athletes at ECHS strive everyday to make themselves and their team better to make ECHS much more competitive.

Waiting for the varsity boys basketball game, Mike Lindemann sits with some of his team members and cheers for all of the East Carteret basketball teams. Support is an essential asset to any high school team.

Athletics play an important role in the lives of many ECHS students. The Varsity Boys Basketball team had an exciting season as they attained the conference championship and played in state play-offs. Also reaching for state titles was the Varsity Softball team. Not only have all the teams worked hard and had great seasons, many of them have been recognized as scholar athlete teams. The pre-existing East Carteret teams served as role models for the school and for the new girls soccer team and winter track team. Each Mariner athlete deserves this community's respect for their long and hard hours of practice, positive attitudes, and effort.

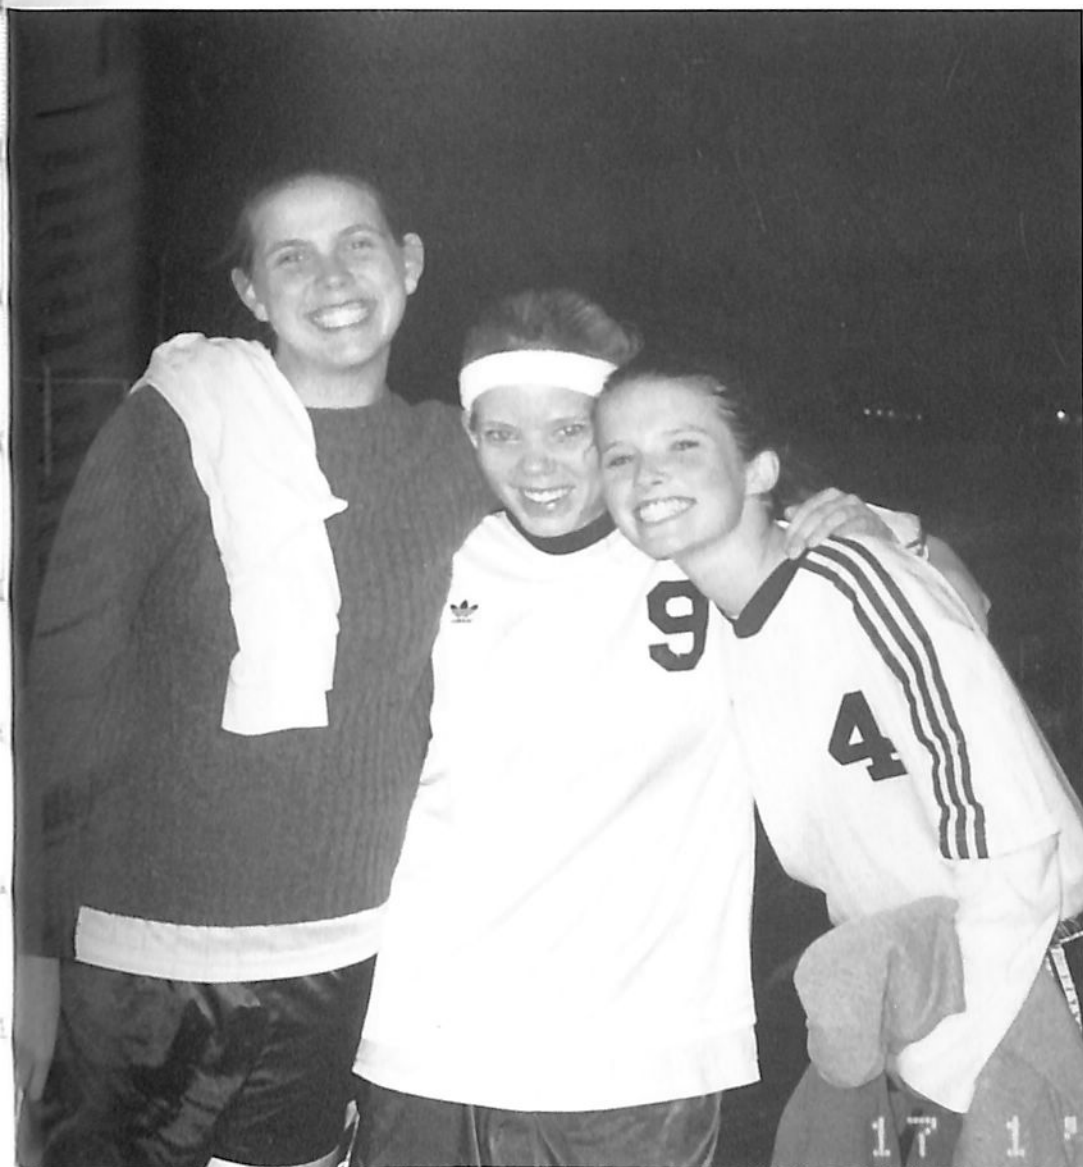

School spirit hit its peak this year with the support of energetic students attending basketball games. Mike Miller, Adam Wade, Joel Hancock, Devin Daniels, Mike Hancock, and Luke Salter took face painting to a whole new level.

"Lucky Tank" was the nickname given to ECHS Mariner Albert Loud. Albert, being only a sophomore this year, was a fullback on this year's varsity football team. He was considered an asset by both the coaches and all of his team.

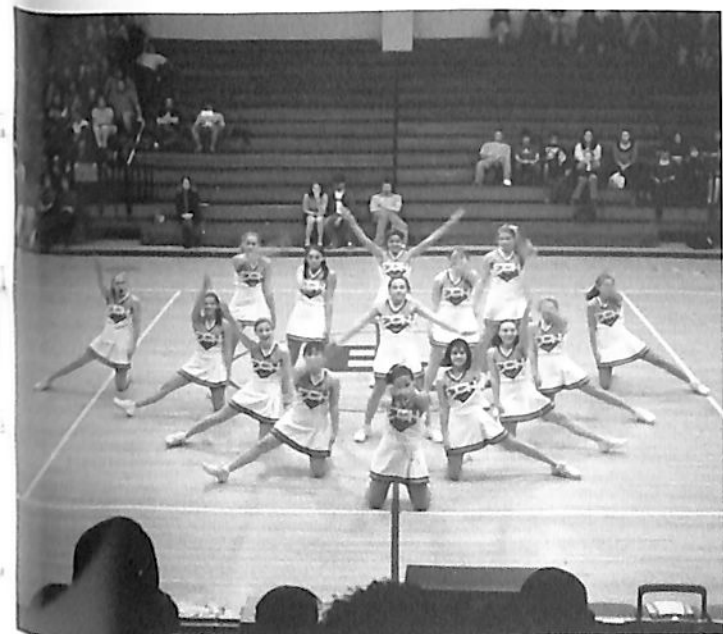

Stretching an extra mile became one of Anne Wheatly's biggest concerns for this year's track team. Anne is one of the team's best long distance runners; running has become a sport in which she has excelled tremendously and has been a huge help to her team.

Jessica Dowty, Mary Way, Ashley Roberts and the rest of the ECHS girls soccer team always stayed positive and kept smiles on their faces all season. Having fun was this team's key element for making the season a memorable one.

Vincent Davis tips the ball away from a South West Onslow Stallion. Vincent, along with many of the other players on the varsity team, was an important athlete in this team's extremely exciting and nearly perfect season.

The cheerleaders have been an excellent source of school spirit! They gave the football and basketball fans outstanding performances over and over again. They always had a superb way of keeping the crowd and the players in the game.

Lindsey Boyd, Celeste Taylor, Robin Salter, Jennifer Crusie, and Ryan Lilley were always able to stay in the game and cheer for their team especially when batting. With teammates like this, there was never a dull moment in the dugout.

SCHOOL We've Got Spirit

This season the Junior Varsity cheerleading squad worked cunningly. Even though the girls did not place this year, they all strived hard. The squad had been practicing constantly since spring. Throughout many long hours of practices, endless trips, and competent games, the squad continued to promote themselves, as well as the team. This year was Mrs. Vann's third year as an East Carteret cheerleading coach and members of her team seem to note this. All of her encouragement and years of experience brought the team much success, whether on or off field. The girls said Mrs. Vann is a great coach and some look forward to another year with her. Despite the outcomes of the JV games, competitions, or conferences, the girls never lost their spirit.

Displaying excellent team spirit, Leslie Downum, Amanda Lewis, and Tiffani Vann all show each other love and support. These girls kept "cheezing" despite the opponent's the outcome of the game.

Quickly preparing for one of their dances, the JV share a quick laugh. After performing the dance so many times, the girls continue to show excitement while performing.

Enthusiastically, Tabitha Smith performs a stunt at one the JV's home games. Tabitha quotes "Our year was alright".

Tackling Team Spirit

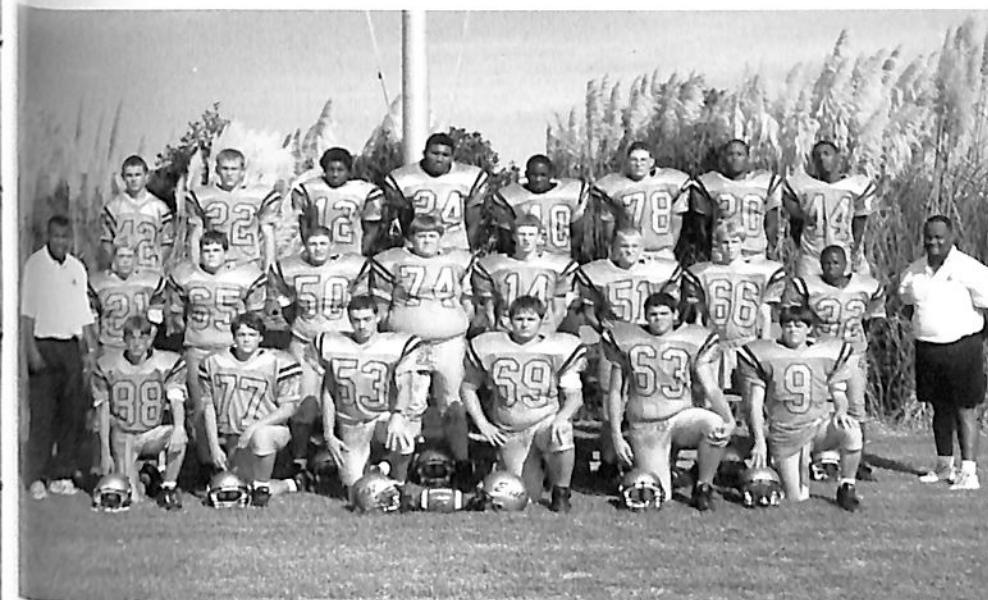

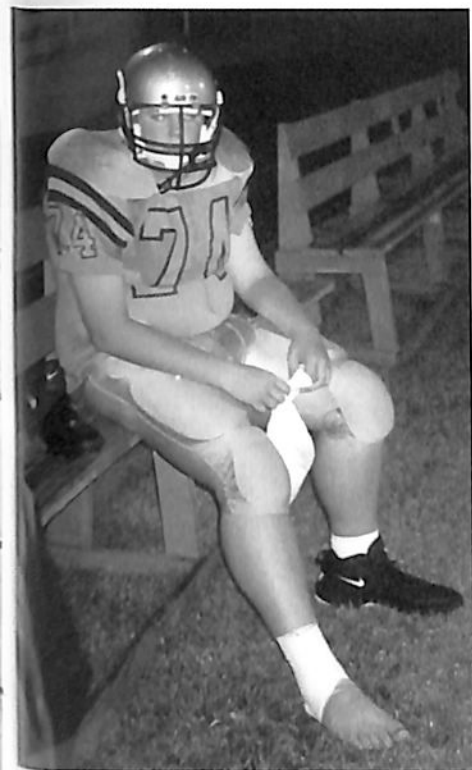

The JV Football team faces a difficult season with amazing spirit and outstanding dedication.

Seemingly focused, Asst. Coach Montford, along with the head Coach Gerald Wingate and a few team members, all pensively watch from the sideline. The team could only hope for a good year.

This year the Junior Varsity football team worked hard to acknowledge the real meaning of playing sports. Although, they didn't encounter any wins, the JV boys all had fun. Many times, teams seem to engage in the success of winning the game, not the sport of playing and having fun. When questioned about their year, each member seemed to focus on the positive, and most mentioned their hard work. The JV coach, Gerald Wingate, received many compliments from his team. They each to appreciate his balance of hard practices and smooth practices. Coach Montford quotes "'This JV football team will never forget the 'love drill'. We had a lot of fun enjoying life and sport.'" Overall, the team showed great school spirit and they all got along pretty good. These characteristics are the greatest success in East's eyes.

Team members Devin Henry and Harrison Smith pose for a quick shot. Devin notes running the ball was his favorite. Harrison just enjoyed playing, while the mullet Bucket was special to him.

The Junior Varsity boys position to hike the ball, so they can advance down the field, in hopes of scoring a touchdown. The team was up for a challenge.

Preparing for a game, Jenny Miller warms up with a scale. This stunt was used in their conference competition and was a great accomplishment for the team.

With a smile on her face Kahla Lewis hits her one man with ease. Jennifer Terkelson, Andrea Lewis and Kahla hit this stunt on every attempt. Practice makes perfect!

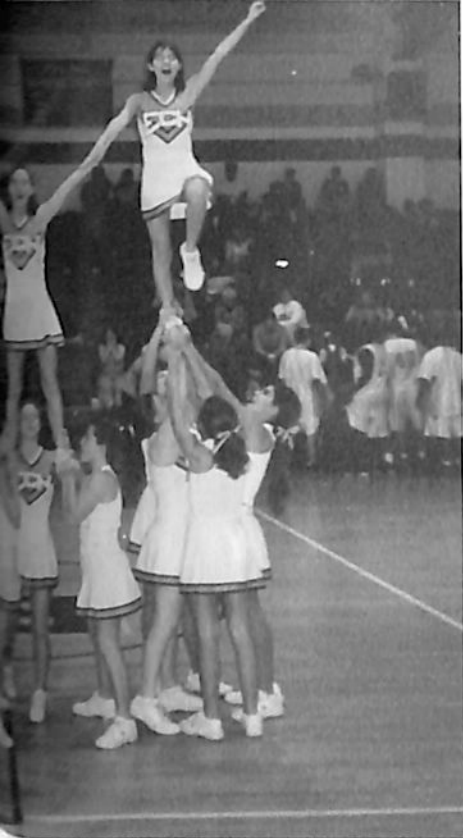

Flyers Jenny Miller, Katie Daniels, and Kahla Lewis soar to great heights. Everyone had to work together and have perfect timing to put this stunt up. As a result, they gained enormous confidence and impressed the crowd.

Confidence is a must when it comes to stunting. Jenny Miller has complete trust in her bases, Lauren Sechler and Katie Daniels, and her back spot, Amber Styron. "We work tremendously well together, and the scorpion was just part of our "show and go", or combination of stunts," said Amber.

Good skills lead to outstanding thrills. The squad practiced this hitch pyramid over and over again so they could "hit it" when it was their "time to shine."

Elite is a word to define this stunt. Kristen Nelson, Katie Daniels, Leslie Morris, and Amber Styron work together to perform this one hand, one man, liberty. All of the girls were extremely proud of this stunt, and they worked hard to perform it with ease.

Captain's Column

Captain, Katie Daniels, hits her heel stretch while warming up for a conference tournament game. Katie said, "It was such an honor being captain and the year was so fun."

Leslie Morris said, "I was really surprised that I got co-captain. It will definitely be a memorable experience."

with the Heart

Dedication and commitment are both qualities that a cheerleader has to have. The varsity squad had a great year. Starting with Champion summer camp, Katie Daniels, Jenny Miller, Lauren Sechler, and Jennifer Terkelsen received All American Awards. During football season Joanna Brake represented the squad in homecoming, and after football season the squad competed at the Christmas Classic Cheer Competition in Greenville where they placed second and became NCA qualifiers. They also competed at the Conference Competition at South West Onslow High School. The girls finished the year leading the Varsity Boys Basketball team to victory in the Conference Tournament. As the year came to an end, Amber Styron received the All Conference Award.

Coach's Corner

As a new teacher and coach, Jamie Wilkins, stepped in to make a great difference in cheerleading. She was a very dedicated coach, and made a difference in the attitude of the squad. Ms. Wilkins said, "It was hard to start as a coach halfway through the season because the program was set. However, we overcame difficulties and finished with a successful year."

TAKE it to the End Zone

"Despite all the hard work and running in practice I'm sad its over. I've had a lot of fun these four years and it was worth every minute!" says captain Timothy Morris. Timothy was voted captain by his teammates because he was a very hard worker and a very good player. This year of football he has gotten 75 tackles and an average of 5 yards a carry.

Even though the Mariners have had a rough time this season, they still worked together as a team every game. They practiced every day, and plus with a new coach, everything was different. He has really inspired them to work hard, and they all can't wait until next year!

Standing on the sidelines, Devin Daniels and Gary Fetter share a joke during halftime of the homecoming game. Devin and Gary both played offense and defense. Coach Conway said, "Both players are very good! I look forward to Devin coming back next year, and we're all gonna miss Gary!"

Mariners on the Defense During the homecoming on October 6th the Mariners played a 5-3 defense which may have helped the Mariners win this game. For those who don't know what a 5-3 defense is, it's five players in the front and three players in the back. It is usually designed to stop the run. "In the 2nd half vs. Swansboro we did a much better job against the run," said Mr. Smith

Whose house? East house! The Mariner football team lift their helmets to celebrate the victory against the Swansboro Pirates. This is usually a pre-game ritual, but they were very proud of their first win, so, they performed it again after the game.

Ouch! "My shin was bleeding, and as Mrs. Hannula was wrapping my leg up, she said something funny and I started laughing!" said Jason Simmons. He was injured when someone's cleat stuck in his shin during the Homecoming game. But the thing he will remember most, is winning the game!

High 5! Two proud Mariners give each other high fives as they celebrate a touchdown. This was the night they had their proud victory against Swansboro. It just so happens it was also on homecoming night.

Coach's Corner

"As a program we made tremendous advances

this year. "The players grew and became better men and players as each week passed. I really enjoyed my first year at ECHS, and I look forward to being a part of the rise to the top at ECHS."

"Despite being out-manned throughout the season, our defense never gave up. We showed great intensity and drive, and many players stepped up to the challenge before them."

"I'm really proud of the kids this year.

Although the record doesn't reflect it, the kids made tremendous strides each week. They never gave up."

"This is a great group of players and that has made coaching fun."

A New BEGINNING

"Our goal was constant improvement, and by virtue of that we achieved our goal," said coach Jason Wall. This was the first ever girls soccer team at East Carteret. It was a learning experience not only for the members of the team but for the school and coaches as well. Every game a goal was set and every game a goal was achieved. That says a lot about the girls on the soccer team. They worked hard, and at the same time they had fun. Captains this year were Stephanie Aldebot and Mary Way. Mary Way said, "Being a first year soccer player and team captain was definitely an honor. I learned so much this season and I had a lot of fun."

Katie Daniels uses her powerful throw in to push the ball down the field. Katie finished the season as part of the starting defense.

As the team prepares for overtime, coach Jason Wall gives a few words of wisdom. Megan Roberts said, "Coach Wall is a great motivator and his speeches really pump the team up before games."

Breaking the state record with 252 saves, goal keeper Lindsay Deuble was said to be a life saver throughout the season.

GO for the GOAL

"The Mariner soccer team embraced the thrill of victory, and we were humbled by the sour taste of defeat, but as I reflect on the season, I can proudly say we played with our hearts, improved our minds, and had some fun in the process," says Coach Wall. The team went 5 and 12 this season.

Matt Kenworthy and Josh Lewis were team captains this year. They have both played soccer for ECHS since they were freshman. "We had a great season, might not have won many games, but we all had fun," said Buddy Lewis, a junior soccer player.

Matt Kenworthy works on his kick during practice. He was a captain this year along with Josh Lewis. He has played soccer at ECHS for four years. "Just look at them, smile and walk away," says Matt about what him and the other teammates do when a referee makes a call they don't agree with. Matt says he'll miss soccer, but not playing for high school.

Mr. Wall practices with a few of the the team members. This was his first year coaching boys soccer and girls soccer. He also teaches 9th grade English and Creative Writing. He has enjoyed coaching soccer and is planning on coaching next year.

The Only REAL Sport...

Everything else is just a game!

This year cross-country practice started on August 10, 2000. Joel Braxton and Anne Wheatly won this year's Carteret County Championships, then competed in the 2A State Championships at McAlpine Park in Charlotte, NC. Making the 2A East Central All-Conference team was Joel Braxton, Tyler Pake, Anne Wheatly, and Delisa Murphy. Each race is 3.1 miles and covers a variety of courses. At their annual banquet Anne and Joel won the Most Outstanding award and Tyler won the Coach's award. Coach Burbella was pleased with his team's progress throughout the season.

Tyler Pake is running a relaxed race against Richlands & Southwest Onslow at ECHS. Tyler enjoys the competition of endurance racing because "it gets your adrenaline pumping." To younger runners, Tyler says, "Have patience and practice, practice, practice."

JV VOLLEYBALL

...It's all about Teamwork

This year was a good year for the JV Volleyball team. Their record was 7 and 11. Coach Turner said that the team worked well together and they had a lot of good times. Star players included both Ryan Lilley and Stacy Williams. They team showed a lot of improvement throughout the year. Coach Turner said that "they started out in the parking lot and ended up beating West." It was a great year.

During a game against Croatan Brooke Hannula sets up the ball for Megan Roberts to spike it over the net. This was Brooke's first year on the team and Megan's second. Brooke was a Freshman and Megan was a sophomore. They have both played on other teams before.

During practice Lauren Chadwick and the rest of the team practice their spiking and bumping skills. Lauren who is a sophomore has only played for the team for a year. She said that she really enjoyed playing on the team.

the BEST get better and the REST get beaten

This was a great year for the Varsity Volleyball team. The team received a new head coach in Mr. Jeff Colvin and had instant success by going undefeated in their conference. The ECHS Varsity Volleyball team's final record was 14 wins and 0 losses. This was the best record ever by the ECHS Varsity Volleyball team. Before coming to ECHS and coaching, Mr. Colvin coached high school volleyball for five years in Virginia. First year coach Jeff Colvin was named Coach of the Year and senior Carrie Smith was named

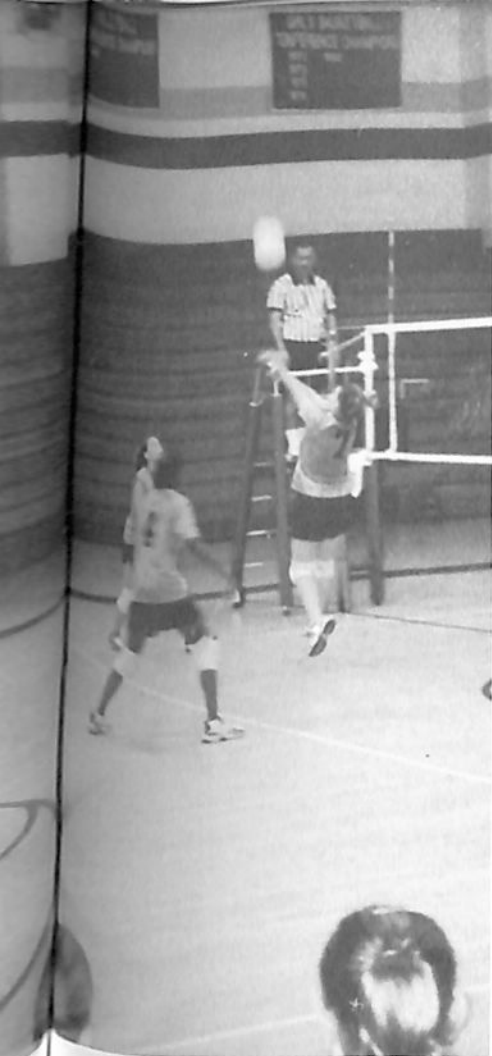

Player of the Year. The Lady Mariners had four members that made the all-conference team and they were Carrie Smith, Cora Johnson, Laurel Guthrie, and Stephanie Lewis. The varsity Mariners also won both games against West Carteret this year and made it to the second round of the state playoffs. Like the JV team the varsity team started practice in the parking lot because of color guard practice in the gym. When asked about the season Caroline Corwin said, "We actually learned a lot from coach and we won."

For the Love of the Game

Our upperclassmen were outstanding, and were clearly the top four players in conference, their experience and talent led us to the most successful tennis season ever," said Coach Chadwick. The team's score was 13-5 and placed 2nd in Conference.

ear's team. Lily was a devoted tennis player and practiced even when she wasn't expected to.

The girls are not just teammates, they're friends and hang out other places than school. Even though the girls were always playing around, according to the coach, they managed to still play well and as a team. "We really bonded as a team, and I enjoyed this season. I'm really going to miss the seniors," says Lily Stewart about this

Stephanie Aldebot serves the ball to her teammate during practice. She enjoyed being on the team this year and said, "Most of the team became really close. We had a blast! We had fun the whole season-whether at practice, matches, or during the bus rides. I didn't think I'd say this, but I will miss my teammates."

Good friends Tina Thomas and Lily Stewart take a break from practicing and strike a pose for the camera. Tina has played on the ECHS team for two years, Lily has played since she was a freshman and intends to play next year.

Stephanie Porter waits to hit the ball during a game. She is a senior and says, "This year was really great and I will truly miss everyone next year. Good luck next year!"

This year's boys tennis team was spectacular! They played very well with each other, and had lots of fun during practice. It was especially good, considering that this was Mr. Gary Chadwick's first year coaching tennis. He also coached the girl's team as well. When asked, the boys said that they liked him as their coach, and

Mr. Chadwick liked coaching. Patrick Willis, the only senior this season, had an excellent year. He has played tennis all four years at East, and also made it to conference every year. This year, he placed second in regionals, and third in sectionals last year. This has been a great experience for Patrick and the whole team.

Serves UP

Determined to ace, C.J. Fulcher tosses up the ball. C.J. was one of the team's players to make it to conf rence this season.

Quickly, Patrick Willis returns the ball to his vicious opponent, Coach Chadwick. Being the only senior, Patrick served as a role model for the team.

Aggressively, Aaron Golden uses his backhand to keep the game going. This was Aaron's second year playing tennis.

Shoot For The Sky!

The girl's junior varsity team worked very hard this year. The sophomores provided strong leadership. The players inside game was very strong, though they struggled against quick teams such as, Richlands and Swansboro. The overall record was 13-5.

Coach Sally Davis comments, "This year's team was a lot of fun to work with. I look forward to working with the returning players again next year and wish the sophomores the best of luck as they move up to the varsity."

This year's Junior Varsity Mariners surpassed everyone's expectations. The young Mariners finished the season with an overall 17-6 record, while finishing 11-3 in the conference. This gave the JV team sole possession of second place in the conference.

Coach Chris Stokes comments, "I was really proud of my boys this year. They worked and improved with each practice and game. Expectations will be a lot higher next year."

These boys know what it takes to be all that they can be.

let's play Basketball

The 2000-2001 Lady Mariners had an excellent and successful season. Every day they played hard whether in a game or at practice. Finishing fourth in the conference was not a bad way to end the season because all the teams were evenly matched in ability. When Jerry Hunter, head coach for East Duplin was interviewed, he said "This conference usually has pretty good balance, but in all my years I don't think I've seen this many teams that could win it all." One moment that stood out for the team was their win over Swansboro. With time running out, Stephanie

"We had a good season; the conference was tough and we did well," said coach Edith Styron

Porter made a 3 point shot. Cora Johnson immediately stole the inbound pass and shot for 2 points, tying the game and sending it to overtime. The Mariners won the game with a score of 54-48. Coach Styron, in her eleventh season at East, had eleven returning players nine of which were seniors. The Lady Mariners reached the second round of state play-offs ending their season in a game against Plymouth making their overall record 25-16. At the sports banquet, awards were given out to a number of people. The whole team was recognized as a scholar-athlete team.

In meeting Richlands for the second time, the team had high hopes for winning the game and were successful. When asked about the game Jessica Dowty said, "They (Richlands) were one of the top teams in our conference, and I was just happy to come away with a win."

Soaring high, Dicy Benders goes for a layup in one of the many home games in the "Manner Dome", as Mr. Kappel says. Dicy, only being a junior, will be back with the team next year.

Kneeling, Mrs. Edith watches as her team pulls ahead to eventually beat Swansboro 55 to 48. "We had a good season; the conference was tough and we did well," said Mrs. Styron at the athletic banquet. The Lady Mariners were awarded at the end of the season for scholarship and good sportsmanship.

During a timeout, all of the Lady Mariners gathered around to discuss strategy for the rest of the game. "Timeouts were very important when the game was on the line. It allowed us to get a few seconds of rest and helped us with our strategy for the remaining game," said Stephanie Porter.

Mike Lindemann shoots two after being fouled. Even after a miss, East has quick reflexes and gets the rebound.

Jim Jones grins as he and the rest of the boys go into the gym to begin their game. This was Jim's third year playing at East, and plans to make it four his senior year.

Happily, the varsity boys and the varsity cheerleaders celebrate another great victory. The girls often congratulate the boys after games with awesome cheers and smiles of approval.

The boys celebrate after their 109 to 63 victory over Pamlico. The gym was in an uproar as East fans cheered their team on to break the 100 mark. This was one of the team's last games of the season.

First place conference champs, the varsity Mariners really know how to Take it to the Hoop

This year's varsity boys team was one of the best yet! There were many experienced players whose contributions made coming to the games throughout the season worthwhile. The team had only five juniors, so it will be losing some of its best players as the boys head off to college. Jim Jones, a junior, says, "I'll miss the senior players, but I can't wait until next year." The Mariners made all of their hard work pay off. These conference champions had a record of 16-6 overall and made it to sectional semi-finals. They played conference games as far as Clinton and still kept it all together. Congratulations!

Proudly, Jennifer Jackson and Matthew Hill sing the National Anthem before the game. Jennifer has done this several times during the year and in years past.

Whoa! Marcus McDonald makes another layup, and increases the score by two! With shots like this, it's no wonder the team went so far.

Run Mariners Winter Track Run!

Mr. George Burbella, head coach of cross country, winter track, and spring track, has an excellent coaching record. He was been coaching here at East for six years, and thirty-three years including other schools. Winter track is a very unpredictable. Coach Burbella states, "The weather really hampered our schedule as several meets were cancelled due to rain or snow." The team showed it's strength when they continued to run outdoors in the middle of December. Without winter track, the runners would go three months with out structured running between cross country and track. Coach Burbella adds, "The winter track season helped several athletes to improve their performances and to get ready for spring track." Top performers this season were Delisa Murphy, Anne Wheatly, Tyler Pake, and Josh Boudreau. Delisa Murphy and Tyler Pake, the only seniors this year, have been running all four years at east, during every cross country, winter track, and spring track season. These are some dedicated runners!

The popularity of golf has grown dramatically over the last couple of years. With the emergence of such superstars as Tiger Woods, it is no surprise that golf is getting the recognition that it deserves.

A pleasant surprise for East Carteret has been the addition of a golf team for the last two years. The golf team practices at The Links golf course four days a week after school. Home matches are held at the Brandywine Bay Country Club. At each match eight schools play eighteen holes against one another. The team is continually improving and hopefully its popularity will continue to rise.

Mr. Conway said he was pleased with this year's team and enjoyed working with the players. This was Mr. Conway's first year at East Carteret and as coach of the golf team. "We have improved throughout the year and if they stay with it, they will be even better next year."

Bringin' it Home

Showing they have all the right moves, the JV Softball team took first place in conference.

For the past four years, the JV Softball team has been undefeated in conference play and this year was no different. They swept past rivals Croatan and East Duplin for a successful season. "This has been a rebuilding year for our JV Softball team. We only had one player returning from last year. Through hard work and dedication our team improved from week to week with great defense and hitting," said coach Mike Crusie.

The 2001 JV Baseball team finished with a 12-4 record and was third in the conference. Team captains Mike Miller, Adam Wade, Eric Lawrence, and Travis Garner helped keep the morale of the team up during the season. The Mariners received outstanding pitching from Brent Gaskill and Brandon Walton. "This season was very good because the team was able to improve throughout the spring," Coach Lynch said. going, going, GONE

What an amazing season for the ECHS Lady Mariner softball players! They were yet another Mariner girl team to have an undefeated conference season. Not only did they have an undefeated season, they came in second place in the Eastard Tournament and they made it to the second round of state playoffs. This team was filled with seniors this year. Lakeisha Murray, Stephanie Porter, Laurel Guthrie, Lesley Taylor, Kari Willis, Celeste Taylor and Carrie Smith all played for their fourth year here at East Carteret. Two of them were awarded with athletic awards and they were: Carrie Smith for the Domaine Reels Award and Laurel Guthrie for the James Fodrie

Award for Athletics. This is obviously a great accomplishment for anyone who is involved in sports. The seniors and the younger players have played together for many years. Most of them played together when they played recreation softball in the past which helped prepare them for high school competition. Practicing together everyday in the spring season for three or four years will also bring any group of people together. Watching them play and cheer during the game with smiles on their faces brings the game to a whole new level. During a game spectators were not only entertained by their athletic ability but also by the girls' cheerfulness and love of the game.

Ryan Lilley slams the ball as it is pitched to her. Getting a base hit was obviously no problem for her or any of her teammates as evidenced by their undefeated conference season.

At the end of each game, the softball team gathers at second base to discuss the game. Mark Chadwick always knew how to pep the girls up after each game with a short speech and a cheer.

To make an amazing out in the second inning, Jennifer Crusie catches an infield groundball and tags a runner heading towards second base.

One of the Lady Mariner pitchers, Laurel Guthrie, waits for her chance to bat. When asked about the season Laurel said, "I think we did so well this year because we had great defense and offense."

Excellent teamwork is the way to have an undefeated season. Without even speaking, Ryan Lilley ducks down so Lesley Taylor can throw the ball and Kari Willis is right behind to back them up. This is the way to win.

Jennifer Crusie slides home to score the first run in the ECHS victory over East Duplin. Jennifer was ECHS's starting second baseman and anyone who knows her knows that softball is by far her favorite sport.

As the varsity baseball team rounded up their season it was evident that all their hard work and camaraderie paid off in the long run, even though it did not come easy. This year the team was under new coaching of very different styles. The team lost a lot of good players early in the season, but the ones who stuck in there felt the thrill of sweet success. The team placed 1st in regular season, winning the conference championship, won two out of three of their Easter Tournament games and played through the second game in the state playoffs. The school holds no disappointment in our varsity baseball players.

As the last game of the official season becomes climactic, the Swansboro pitches to our batter. Chase Flood hurries to first base in hopes to keep them ahead so the team can stay in first place.

He winds up and the pitch... Chase Flood throws the game's opening pitch against St. Paul's High School in the first game of the playoffs. With the great pitching he did, he helped win the game for ECHS sending them to Green Central to further their playoff placement.

In the first game of the state playoffs against St. Paul's High School, Coach Turner calls the boys in for a strategy talk. This must have really turned the boys attitudes around because they pulled off a win, but only by a slide.

As Michael Tickle gets to first base, from his magnificent base hit, Coach Turner gives him advice, hopefully to score another run.

Rushing down the lane, outstanding track and field performer Cora Johnson heads towards the finish line. She raced against many teams such as Clinton and East Duplin.

Dicy Benders, leaps these hurdles with flying colors in the track meet held at Swansboro. At the end of the race she flew past the other runners to win this event.

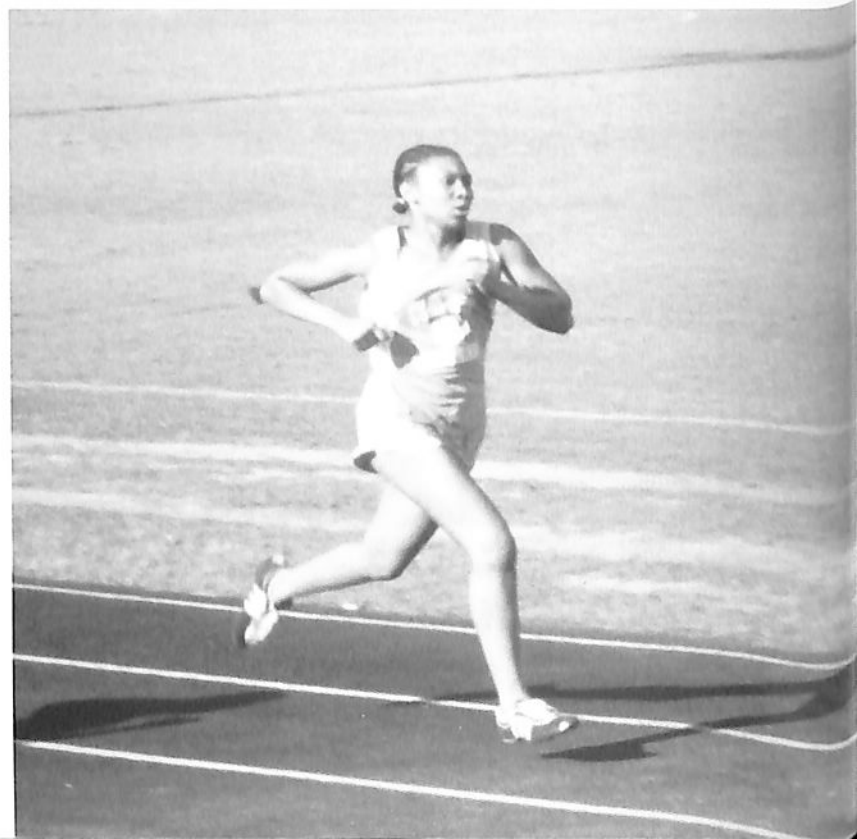

Kate Misenheimer, a freshman, was another of ECHS's long distance runners. When asked about the season she said, "It was difficult to run track and play soccer at the same time but I worked hard and had lots of fun with both teams."

Christina Shannon, Delisa Murphy, and Meghan Shaver don't let the cold weather of the track season get in their way. Before and after an event the girls all bundled up in sweatshirts and sweat pants to keep warm.

Elishba Collins sprints towards the finish line on the 400m. dash. Her hard work and determination helped her come in second place in this race. When talking about this season she simply said, "I really enjoy track."

Tanya White and Kim Murrell were two members of this year's track team. Kim said, "Overall, this year was fun and we did much better than we thought we would."

On Your Mark

The East Carteret Lady Mariner track team represented our school well this year. In just the regular season, the girls finished undefeated with a score of 17-0. After finishing their conference meets, the eastern regionals were their next obstacle. They tackled it ferociously by beating an amazing number of 28 teams and winning the eastern regional championship! The individual regional champions from East Carteret High School include Delisa Murphy for the 800 meters, Cora Johnson for the long jump and the triple jump, Dicy Benders for the high jump and 100 meter hurdles and, Anne Wheatly for the 1,600 and 3,200 meters. Other top performers for ECHS include Monica Fallin who was the conference champ in the shot put, Christina Shannon for intermediate hurdles, Sonya Brodnex for shot put and discus, Jennifer Walker for hurdles and pole vault, Megan Shaver for pole vault and 800 meters, Erica Utley for 800 meters, Erica Wallace for 200 meters, and many more great athletes. The team's biggest champion this year was Cora Johnson, a senior who participated in sports such as volleyball and basketball. She placed third at the State Championship meet in the long jump and the triple jump events. Cora was also named the East Central Conference Most Outstanding Performer in Track and Field. Needless to say that this year's team was one that will be remembered! These athletes are some of the best in the state and have given their team all of their effort, support, and leadership. These qualities have payed off and have show in their scores.

"Fair" would be a good way to describe the 2001 boy's track season. There were many adjustments for the team to make with their lack of members and a new coach: Chris Stokes. Although there were not as many participants this year, the boys were somewhat victorious. Each member jumped in and took on the jobs that needed to be done in order to be successful. Their teamwork resulted in the team winning the Carteret County Championship, defeating West Carteret and Croatan High Schools. Coach Stokes stated, "This season was a learning experience for both the team and the coaches. I'm proud of the effort put forth by all my boys. I'm looking forward to next year."

An excellent athlete and superb track member, senior Vincent Davis has reason to be proud of his athletic accomplishments. Vincent received the 2001 Track and Field Athlete of the Year Award. This was Vincent's last year, but he enjoyed participating in track.

Leaping high, Terrell Henry wastes no time taking the lead in the boys 110 meter high hurdles at their conference meet in Swansboro.

Terrell had a great season, placing first at conference.

Terrell has one more year left at East, and only hopes his next track season will be as good or better than last year's.

Terrell stated, "I had a pretty good year."

back to front, left to right) Track members Quinton Collins, Donovan Henry, Simmons, and Terrell Henry all take a break at their conference meet in Swansboro. All four boys said they were tired considering conference meets are usually long and busy. Terrell and Donovan were both victorious and placed in their events. The overall meet turned out to be a success for East Carteret.

Pushing hard, Vincent Davis increases his stride and pace, in hopes of winning the relay. Although the relay was Vincent's last event, he ran as if it was his last. The relay was very challenging, and even though Vince received the baton late, he still managed to come back and unexpectedly place second.

At full speed, Raymond Price brings home the baton, taking another victory for East Carteret. Raymond ran the last leg of the relay which carries some pressure. Although the relay started out as a challenge, "Bus" ended up leaving the other two teams in his dust. "Bus" was still a contender, even though it was his last year.

One thing he has learned from his coaches is to always work hard and keep faith in yourself.

Vincent would advise other young athletes to work hard and never give up.

One thing she has learned from her coaches is to "Put your heart in it and have the desire to win," a quote from Coach Edith Styron.

Cora plans to attend South Carolina State University and major in choreography so she can teach and perform hip/hop ballet.

Her advice to young athletes is "Never say you can't do it because you can."

Commitment is Impressive

Clubs help students discover unknown talents outside the classroom.

Pete Rose takes a break from his strenuous work on Bertley Willis' car. "We were putting a new radiator hose in it" said Pete. Pete and Bertley were both seniors and took Auto Mechanics classes for three years.

Along with other school activities, many students found the time to get involved in clubs. They somehow balanced their hectic schedules filled with sports, school, and jobs to go to their club meetings. Here at East there are many clubs offered and most students can find one that interests them. Some students devoted their time to one or two organizations, while others seemed to be involved in just about everything. Those who participated in various group activities found excellent rewards. In the end, such qualities as leadership, responsibility, and dedication emerged in students and helped them to become better people for the years to come.

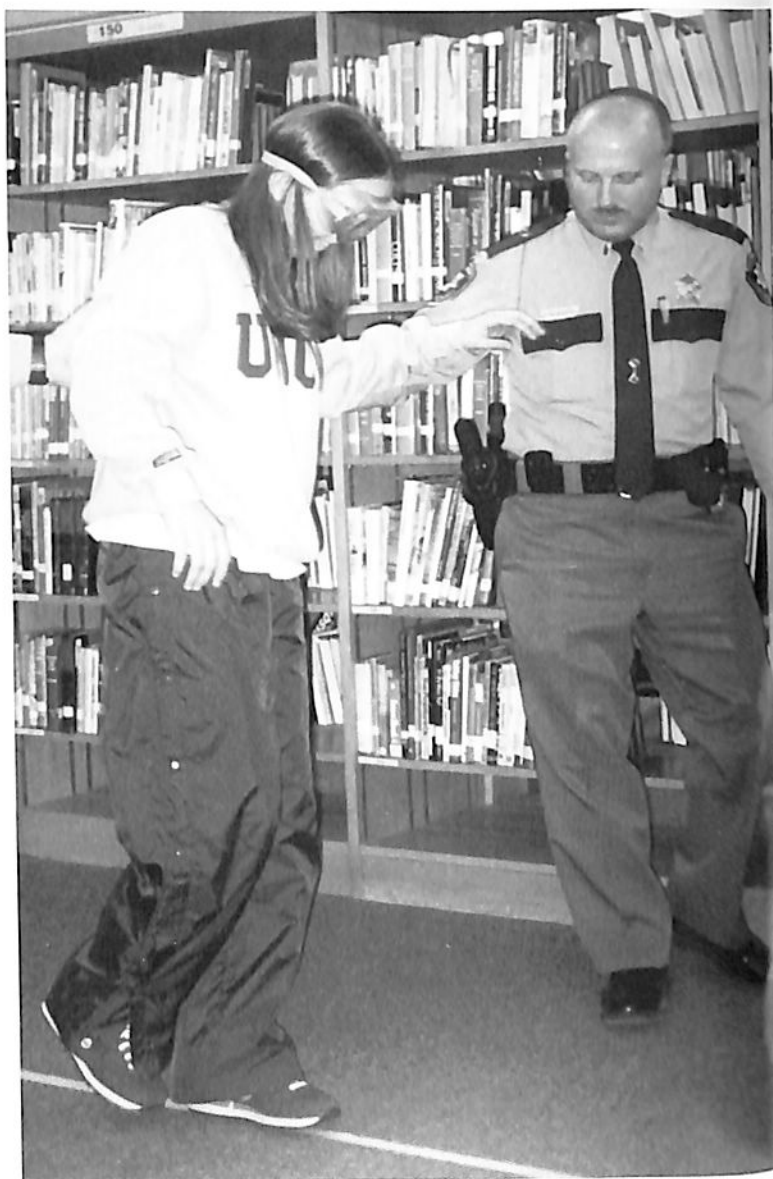

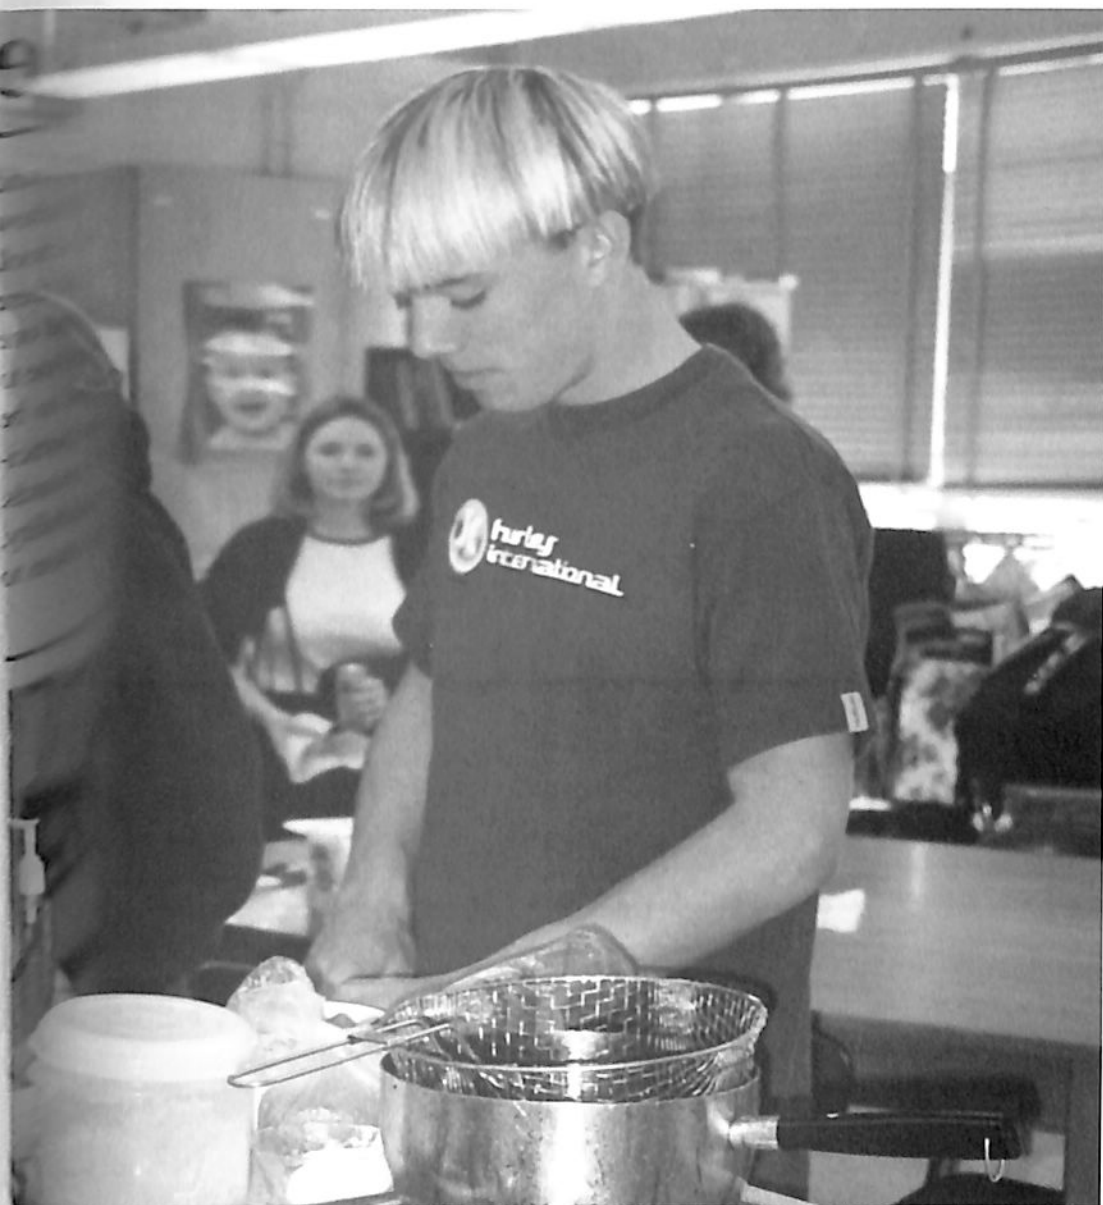

During a NAHS meeting Joanna Brake works on a clay project that will soon be completed. This club participated in many art shows throughout the year like the Carteret County Schools Art Show.

James Dixon and Joseph Willis, both being students in Ag Production II, work hard to fix a deck on a lawn mower. Mr. Sawyer said, "It was a typical day in the Ag shop work barn."

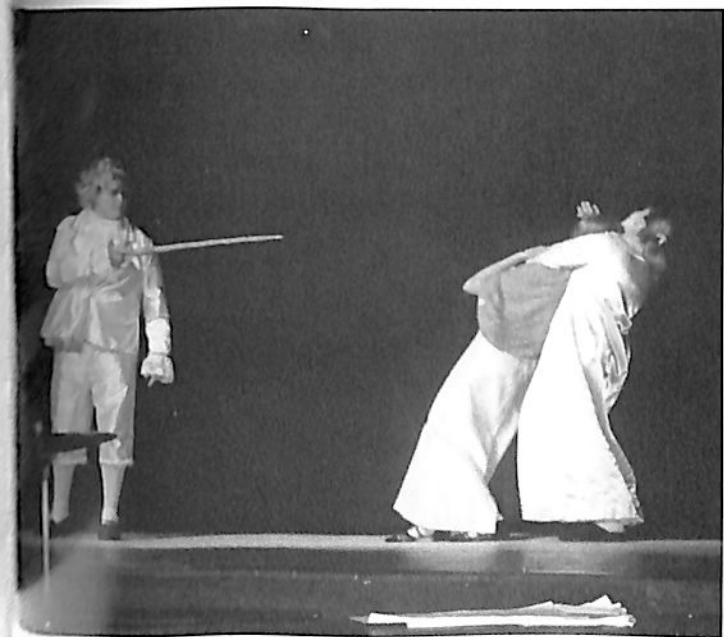

After discussing the effects of drunk driving in a Beta Club meeting, Leslie Morris tries on a pair of goggles that simulate intoxication. As she attempts to walk in a straight line officers Stafford and Gaskill aid in helping her.

The foreign language club filled the halls with delicious smells when they cooked a variety of Mexican foods. Michael Tickle prepares a Mexican dish that is soon to be tasted by the members and some lucky teachers.

In one of many drama performances given by the Drama Class/Club, James Sutton and Chuck Rose lip synch Green Day's "She". Students seemed to enjoy watching the lip synchs and the breaks it gave them from classes.

The drama club performed often this year. Here, Isaac Hopkins, Danielle Ferrari, and Tracy Merritt execute a one act from a Shakesperian play. "I enjoyed performing for the school because it gave the students a chance to see just what drama is all about," said Isaac Hopkins.

In preparing for a quiz bowl match Thomas Whaley, Phillip Jarett, Mike Lindemann, and Josh Bridgers have their buzzers ready for the next question. Mr. Barker commented that it was fun competing and seeing how our school stacked up against others.

FFA has had a very busy and productive year. President Rebecca Irvine became the first regional FFA president from ECHS. Rebecca also won the state proficiency award for one of her projects. Both Michael Lindemann and Philip Laxton were also state finalists. The Horse Judging Team placed first in the state in April. In May, FFA held their banquet and a Wild Game Feast. Also in May, they held their annual petting zoo for local elementary schools.

Mr. Barker pensively watches his team as they try to answer a question at practice. Mr. Barker has coached Quiz Bowl for the last 14 years but is retiring after this year. His dedication will be hard to match and he will definitely be missed.

Quiz Bowl is a club for the brightest students at ECHS. To be a part of Quiz Bowl a student must pass a grueling test that covers all subject areas. Quiz Bowl practices one day a week throughout the year for one hour after school. Televised matches are held locally every month. Coach Barker said, "I really enjoyed working with this year's team. Even though our record was only eight wins and seven losses, they were a fun group with which to work."

The Rifle Team is one of the most difficult yet under-rated activities at ECHS. Rifle Team members learn how to shoot rifles, shotguns, and bows and arrows. In March, the regional competition is held with twenty schools. The hardest part of the competition is the skills section, which includes a written test, game IQ, and a compass course. The compass course is very difficult and carries a lot of weight in the final score. Although no one qualified for state this year, they are a young team and are full of potential.

In its third year of existence at ECHS, this has probably been the busiest year for Speech and Debate. This year they participated in the 71st Annual State Speech Tournament and the Trinity Invitational Speech and Debate Tournament. They also hosted Student Congress in May. Their biggest accomplishment was their participation in Mock Trial. ECHS placed 3rd in regional and Ms. Brown is confident that they will not only place, but win regionals next year.

The Sports Medicine Club is a program designed for students interested in a career in sports medicine. The program provides student trainers for the athletic department. Sports Medicine involves yearlong training to help members reach the four levels of accomplishment. In order to travel with a team, the trainer must reach at least the first level of accomplishment. All trainers must also be CPR and first aid certified. If the trainers do a good job, they receive a $50 supplement at the end of the year for their hard work. This year Sports Medicine bought new t-shirts and sponsored CPR and first aid certification classes. Amanda Durham was the head student trainer and received a $100 Sports Medicine Scholarship to help her pursue her career in sports medicine.

Student Council sponsored a wide array of activities this year. It is more than a club because it allows students to get involved in governing their school. The biggest event was homecoming, which was completely organized by Student Council. It also sponsored a Sexiest Legs Contest for men, which raised money for faculty member Sally Davis, after her home was destroyed by fire. The contest was highly successful and Mr. Goheen emerged as the victor. Student Council also planned the Thanksgiving and Christmas assemblies.

Video News is a club which informs the rest of the county about happenings at ECHS. Amber Cannon and Alison Vick put on a two and a half minute presentation of school news and current events. Once a month, usually on the first Wednesday, Amber and Alison went to Time Warner Cable in Newport and filmed their presentation. Video News was started at ECHS in 1988 and Mrs. Kappel has been its sponsor ever since.

meet the administrators

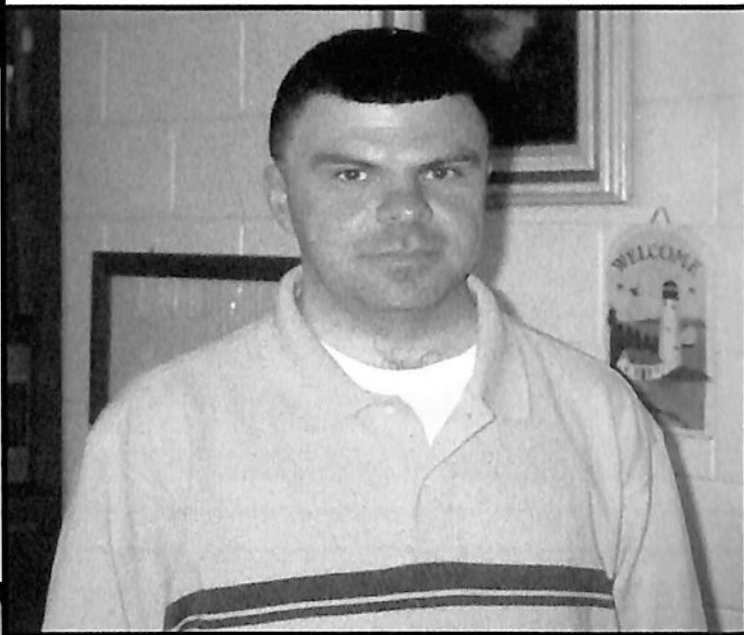

Dr. McReynolds

Dr. McReynolds has been a principal for 19 years. She was first a principal in Raleigh. Then, she became principal at Atlantic Elementary School. After that she became principal at East Carteret, where she has been for the past 4 1/2 years. When asked what she liked most about East Carteret she replied, "The students and faculty." Dr. McReynolds has a very serious job which she takes very seriously. Her job is to, of course, enforce the laws and the rules of Board of Education. She makes sure everyone is safe, successful, and treated equally.

Mr. Eades

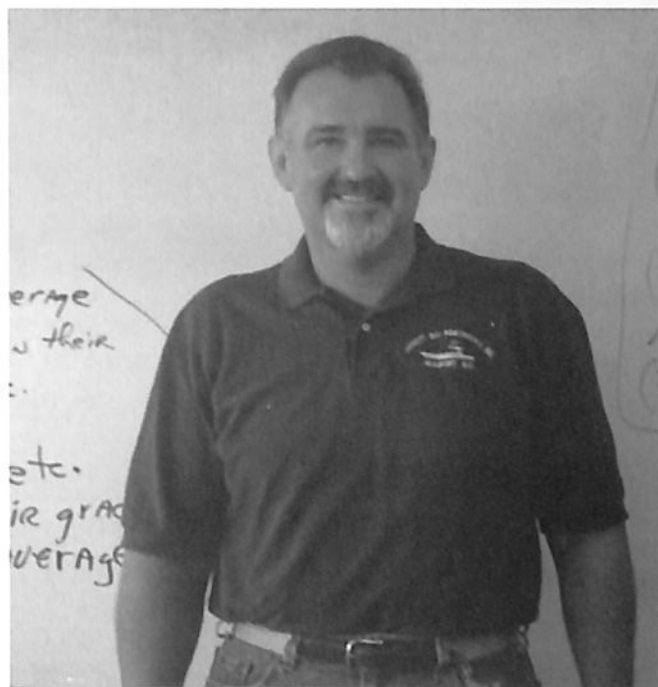

Mr. Eades has been working at East Carteret for three years now, but as assistant principal for only two years. The first year he was at East Carteret he was a teacher in the science department. When asked if he liked East he replied, "Yes. It give me the opportunity to learn about the students and help them." The thing Mr. Eades likes most about East Carteret is the staff and the students. Part of his job is discipline, buses, teacher evaluation, and athletic director.

Mrs. Hudnall

Mrs. Hudnall has been working at East Carteret for 28 years. For 13 years she was an English teacher, but she has been assistant principal for 15 years. When asked how the students behavior is she replied "Basically good." Mrs. Hudnall had a really good year and the thing she will remember most about this past year is when she turned 50 years old. Mrs. Hudnall has a very important job as assistant principal. She stays busy doing attendance, which may not sound like a hard job, but it really is. She also is in charge of textbooks, scheduling, and teacher evaluation.

Happy Retirement

Mrs. Gaskill has been a teacher for 30 years, but she has only been teaching at East Carteret for 25 years. Since she has been here, she has taught World History and English. Mrs. Gaskill has taught English for 9th, 10th, 11th, and 12th graders. She decided to become a teacher in elementary school. Mrs. Gaskill isn't sure what she is going to do after she retires, but she is sure she won't be grading any papers.

Mr. Barker has been a teacher for 28 years, but has only been teaching at East Carteret for 14 years. He did not always want to be a teacher. Before he started high school his dream was to become a fisherman. But when he entered high school his mind was changed. Mr. Barker said, "I had a very good science teacher who steered me in that direction".

Educators make the world bright!

The faculty and staff are the men and women who dedicate their lives to help out the students of East Carteret High School. Without them there would be no other occupations due to lack of knowledge. Their time and effort help mold each student into who they are and for that we are all thankful.

When asked how he liked teaching at ECHS, Mr. Goheen quoted, "It is a far, far better thing I do than I have ever done before." From the looks of it, Mr. Goheen is having a great time at East.

About his last year at ECHS, Mr. Wells Barker states, "I've enjoyed my time at East. Even though it is not the newest school on the block, its students have made it a great place to work."

"Teachers made me what I am, now a colleague, whose memory of past pain and success drives me to meet my challenge: To become a composite of my best teacher and professors, in order to make life's best opportunities available to young people, my students."

-- Ms. Julia Y. Brown

Julia Brown

EAST CARTERET HIGH SCHOOL TEACHER OF THE YEAR

There are some people we meet in life, who touch us more than any one person could. If we, the yearbook staff, could have one wish for every person, it would be that they spend an hour with Ms. Julia Brown, the ECHS 2000-2001 Teacher Of The Year. Just an hour with Ms. Brown and it would be impossible not to feel the desire to teach. Her energy, enthusiasm, and love for her students radiates out from her like a beacon at night. The knowledge which she possesses, and the dedication that she shows, is truly uncontainable.

As a "Sansei"—a Third Generation Japanese-American born in Stockton, California, Ms. Brown notes that she was always taught the importance of education and was expected to excel throughout her educational career. Her passion for becoming a teacher came when she was in fourth grade. That year, President John F. Kennedy was assassinated and her teacher chose her to perform the assembly speech after reading her essay on the event. She said she cried for days prior to the event, but she read it: and because her teacher had faith in her, she was able to achieve that goal, and she wanted to help students achieve their goals from then on. Ms. Brown attended Franklin High School where she was class Valedictorian, Student Body Vice-President, California Girls State District Attorney, a member of the Chess Club, and a member of the Future Teachers of America. While in high school, she said that her favorite subjects were English, speech and debate, chemistry, and in her senior year, trigonometry. In addition to all her other extracurricular activities, Ms. Brown was also 2nd place Original Oratory Winner in the California State tournament, 2nd place Dramatic Interpretation Winner for the California District, the Japanese-American League Oratorical Winner for the Pacific Region, the Bank of America Liberal Arts Scholar, the Elks Club Student Leader, and received several scholarships to Stanford University, at which she studied receiving an English Honors Degree, and BA in English, and an MA in education.

After college, Ms. Brown went on to teach at Iolani Preparatory Academy in Hawaii, which was an all boys school. She taught grades 7-8 and 10-12. Other locations in which Ms. Brown has instructed include Stanford University, the Hiroshima YMCA College of Foreign Languages, Hiroshima First Girls Commercial High School, Craven Community College, Skagit Valley Community College, as well as the Navy Campus, instructing Writing for Staff NCOs and Basic English Skills. Ms. Brown came to East Carteret 5 years ago at the invitation of Dr. Curtis Fleishman, who saw her as an answer to an unusual problem when a teacher suddenly resigned.

Here at East, Ms. Brown has made herself so much at home. The students have fallen in love with her, and she with them. She can easily recall any student's research paper from any year, which shows that she truly cares about each one of her students. Ms. Brown's accomplishments are far too great to merely list on one page. In all actuality, this whole book could be filled with the accomplishments she has made and the stories of the lives she has touched.

Aside from her never-ending task as a teacher, Ms. Brown is also has a mother to daughter, Courtney who is now attending college. She has a sister who teaches at San Francisco State University. Ms. Brown also found a new venture in which to take part, the church. She proudly exclaims that she found the Lord in 1997 and has been an active member of her church ever since. In 1998 she joined the choir of her church and has enjoyed singing with them ever since. In addition to her work at church, Ms. Brown enjoys running, reading the Bible, ruminating about her students, lesson plans, and her speech and debate team. She says that martial arts and private plane flying are currently on hold, but it is well known, nothing stays on hold with Ms. Brown for too long.

We, the 2001 Yearbook Staff proudly dedicate the 2001 East Wind to

for demonstrating courage in the face of adversity and for being an inspiration to the students at East Carteret High School

Putting It Together

As the East Wind staff begins putting the yearbook together, they rush to meet deadlines. There is a lot of work put into a yearbook.

First, one plans the layout, then pictures must be taken. Captions and body copy are written, and then finally all of it must be drawn on the computer, edited, and printed. But not to worry, each layout gets finished just in time.

Each member of the East Wind staff worked very hard to pull everything together to produce the yearbook. They spent quantities of time planning to make sure everything on their layouts were perfect.

When asked why she took yearbook Tara Scott replied, "I wanted to learn how the yearbooks were put together. I had a lot of fun. Ms. Raines is my favorite teacher."

*Homecoming Representative
Angela Stallings*

This is Amanda Lewis' second tour of duty on the yearbook staff. She was one of two people who worked on the grueling senior portrait section.

Christie Barrington finds a layout she did on the ladder. The ladder is like a Bible to the yearbook staff because it organizes all the pages and where they are located in the book.

With eraser handy, Hannah Harrell works eagerly on her layout for golf. She makes sure her layout is well-designed before putting it on the Computer. She was a senior this year and looked forward to graduation and to college.

Stephanie Porter makes some last minute touches on her layout for the club divider. She said, "I really enjoyed working on the yearbook."

You're Impressive!

The East Wind yearbook staff would like to thank everyone who purchased an ad or donated money to the yearbook. No matter what size ad was purchased every one had a positive effect on the yearbook. These ads are so very important because the money received goes directly into the making of the yearbook. The ad section is also a great opportunity for the seniors to show off their favorite portraits of themselves.

Thank you,
Yearbook staff

Love is not to be measured by circumstance,
for it is within ourselves.
It is not something that we can touch or feel,
like the cold of a stone,
or the heat of a fire:
LOVE is something we ARE.
We are so very proud of you,
Benji, Daddy and Ma*

To Lesley

You were six months old and full of fun.
 With a blink of my eye, you were suddenly one.
 There were so many things we were going to do,
 But I turned my head and you turned two.
 At two you were very dependent on me,
 But independence took over when you turned three.
 Your third birthday, another year I tried to ignore,
 But when I lit the candles, there weren't three but four.
 Four was the year you really strived.
 Why, look at you now, you're already five.
 Now you are ready for books and for rules.
 This is the year that you go to school.
 We walked to the bus, going oh so slow.
 As you climbed aboard and waved good-bye,
 I felt a lump in my throat and tears stung my eyes.
 Time goes so fast, it's hard to believe
 That just yesterday you were home here with me.
 And tomorrow when the bus brings you home
 and you jump to the ground,
 You'll be wearing your cap and graduation gown.
 So I'm holding to these moments as hard as I can,
 Because the next time I look, I'll be seeing a woman.

Love,
 Mama, Daddy,
 Grandma, and Juliet

*God sent us a precious little girl from up above
To shower our family with light and
love.
We knew she was special right from the start with big brown eyes that would melt any heart.
A beautiful smile so big and bright,
knowing her has been a true delight.
From PopPop's girl to Doodle's Essie,
she has been our family's blessing.
My how the time has flown and our precious little girl has surely grown.
She has become everything we dreamed
she would be,
A smart and beautiful young lady.*

*We love you,
Daddy, Granny, Granddaddy,
Aunt Wanda, Uncle Elmo, Janie, Shannon and the Doodles.*

Joshua - loving, caring, cute and kind, loyal, original, deep and philosophical, intelligent and independent - we love you now and always! Mom, Dad, & Matthew Daughter, our memories of you take us back through the years...

There's been laughing and joking and even some tears.

You've been together since Ann St. Preschool,

Playing Barbies and baby dolls and learning the Golden Rule.

Gymnastics, Sunday School and soccer were fun,

Cheering, basketball and MYF trips kept you on the run.

Brownies, ballet, birthday parties and softball,

Bible School, concerts, dances and shopping at the mall.

Sleepovers, playing dress up and going to the beach,

Your friendship has always been within reach.

Washington, D.C., band and your trip to Chicago,

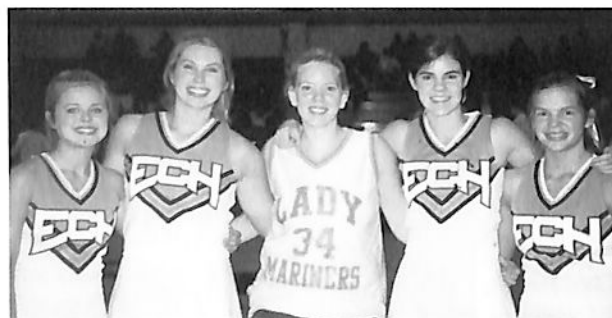

BES, BMS, and ECHS--Where did time go?

You are a shining example of what every parent wishes their daughter were too,

AND WE ARE SO VERY PROUD OF ALL OF YOU!

Love,

Your Moms and Dads
