Inspiring Within Each Child the Confidence to Become a Lifelong Learner

Growing Strong: Mind,

Nestled under 100-year-old oak trees and surrounded by wetlands, White Oak Elementary has been a part of the Cape Carteret community

Since 1964. Currently 555 K-5 students attend daily.

What makes this tiny school special is the people inside. From the students to the staff and administration, WOES boasts a warm and caring spirit reflective of the tight-knit community where it makes its home.

Body, Character

White Oak Celebrates the Spirit Within Each Child

The school's philosophy encourages every child to reach his fullest potential. Staff members teach the NC Standard Course of Study, integrating the arts and focusing on an understanding of the multiple intelligences. The individuality and spirit of each child is celebrated and nourished.

Administrative Team

The WOES administration, faculty and staff hold high expectations for students in academics and behavior.

Incentive programs are in place to encourage students to do well. Additionally, the principal and assistant principal want students to balance all that hard work with having fun. This year a challenge was issued for the spring AR celebration. If students read at least 5,000 books, Mrs. Fowler and Superintendent Lenker must kiss a pig!! White Oak's administrative team is extended to the school guidance counselor, the front office personnel, the school Leadership Team, the Parent Advisory Council and PTO Board of Directors.

Support

P.T.O., Volunteers, Boys and Girls Club and Officer Friendly Lend a Hand

White Oak had strong community support this school year. The PTO, guided by President Vivianne Wersel, provided family centered activities that proved to be successful fund-raisers for the school. A record number of volunteers worked with individual students and classroom teachers. Officer Friendly, Lt. Ron Carter, shared Risk Watch topics with K-2 students.

Boys & Girls Club, Gail Hayes, Coordinator, provided after-school students with guidance and nationally recognized programs.

One word to describe Mrs. Barbree's homeroom would be diverse. We had all different levels of academic structure and popularity. We had compassion for each other and helped each other, but our diversity forced us to get into small arguments and form tight groups. The groups loosened as the year progressed. Mrs. Barbree and our other very informative teachers helped us realize our individual qualities. DARE affected us like nothing else. Boy did we have fun this year! Remember: working together builds, focusing on differences destroys.

5th Grade Teams Up With Technology to Bring Us the Daily News

Good Morning, White Oak...

Each morning at 8:10 the student-produce morning news is broadcast all around WOE: providing the school with the latest news and weather.

Behind the Scenes.

Learning to work the cameras takes skill and practice. Producing the news is hard work, whether you're in front of, or behind, the cameras.

Practice, Practice, Practice

Mr. Fed oversees the preparation of the news. Writing, studying scripts, conducting interviews, practicing and being on time takes a lot of work.

The WOES News Team

Fifth grade news anchors, special reporters, and camera people make up the news team.

White Oak's Camerata Sings

Great American Music

Let Freedom Sing...

The group's focus this year was to celebrate with America's songs. Favorites included "God Bless the U.S.A." and "Fifty Nifty United States." Students enjoyed honoring our great nation with these timeless classics.

Spring Showcase Tradition

Our season finale is the Spring Showcase, where students get a taste of Broadway by preparing a first-class musical revue for the local community.

Going Solo

Many students had the opportunity to perform solos. The voices of these brave souls delighted the audience. Kristen Viszneki, Music teacher, set high standards for the Camerata performers.

Rehearsals at 7:30A.M.!

An integral part of a successful performing group is the routine of rehearsing. Working together two mornings a week helped create a unique and amazing ensemble.

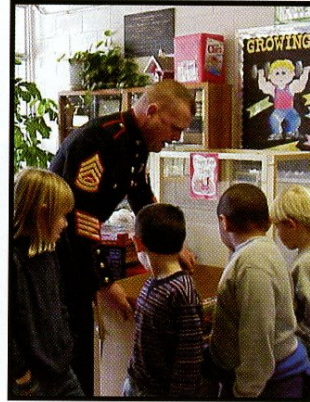

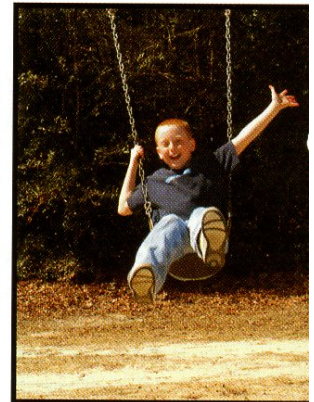

(left) Corey Phillips works with his reading buddy, Hunter Chappel. Many classes at White Oak team up with students from different grade levels to practice and build their reading skills.

Third Grade

You are now in the presence of greatness!

The 2002-2003 third graders at WOES have had a fun-filled year thinking, reasoning and exploring with a variety of hands-on lessons and activities to prepare them to be successful in 4th grade. We enhanced our curriculum through field studies to Cool Springs Environmental Ed. Center, Imagination Station and Camp Don Lee. At Tryon Palace we compared Colonial life to life today. The three R's filled our classrooms, and the traditional third grade multiplication tables and cursive writing rounded out the year. Each child realized their own potential greatness during this truly memorable school year. Salute!

Second Grade

From Critters to Dinosaurs, Second Grade Keeps Its Hands On Learning

Our focus in second grade is upon the community and how we can enrich and enhance our neighborhoods. Second graders grow from being dependent on the family to becoming contributing citizens in their community. This metamorphosis is amazing to watch, guide and participate in during one short year.

The activities at this grade level are varied and multi-faceted. They range from food drives and decorating trees for the Festival of Trees to improving our school environment with plants and animals. One of the highlights of the year is our Second Grade Arts Night. We get to show off what we have learned to our parents.

Children develop a love for learning and leave second grade with a sound knowledge of the Standard Course of Study. They enjoy the year and, more importantly, "learn" how to be lifelong learners. They are on the road to third grade.

Glenn Comer

I love you, Son. Beyond all words, I can't begin to explain to you what you mean to me. I am so proud of you and thankful for the years that the Lord has given me so much. If I were given a chance to be anything I wanted to become, there's nothing I would rather be...than your parent. And there is no one I would rather have...as my son.
Love, Mommy and Daddy Danny

Morgan Comer

I hope my daughter looks back upon today and sees a mother who had time to play. Whether the work was done, or not...who realized chores are sometimes best forgot. There will be years for cleaning house and cooking, but little girls grow up when we're not looking. We're so glad you are happy..YOU GO GIRL! Love,
Mommy and Daddy Danny

Patrick Hernandez
