2013- 2014

Broad Creek Middle School

“Let him who would enjoy a good future, waste none of his present.” - Roger Babson
At Broad Creek Middle School staff and students all strive for the best each day. Students can take advantage of the technology-rich courses offered, as well as, a wide variety of clubs and athletics. With the passing of each day, our Bulldog community learns and grows together, ascertaining life lessons and creating memories that last a lifetime. The staff and students at BCMS are motivated to making every moment count, taking advantage of the present, in order to create a better and brighter future!

The 2013-2014 yearbook is dedicated to Drew Hughes and his family.

In loving memory of Drew.

SAY CHEESE

“ Don't wait until everything is just right.
It will never be perfect. There will always be challenges, obstacles and less than perfect conditions. So what. Get started now. With each step you take, you will grow stronger and stronger, more and more skilled, more and more self-confident and more and more successful ”

Jenna D'Amico

Jenna, our "Rae" of Sunshine, we are so proud of everything you have accomplished thus far in your life and we anxiously anticipate everything you will and are sure to achieve. You never cease to amaze those around you with your innate positivity, inspiring spirit, and maturity. With a future as bright as yours, you surely haven't even reached the tip of the iceberg. Remember to keep your intelligent, creative, ingenuous angle on the world. We love you so very much and are ecstatic to watch you bloom into a young woman.

Love, Mom, Dad, JessieAnne, Russell, Gracie, and Jake

Nathan Bradley

Dear Nathaniel... or, should we say, Nathan, Nate, Nate the Great, N8theGr8... You were born on Marine Corps Base Camp Pendleton in California in January 2000, a little over a year after your mother and father were married. We were kids ourselves... Just starting out in life after college, trying to establish our professional lives, our marriage, our future... and then, you came along. Wow! What a surprise! We had no idea what we were in for. You were awesome, crazy, funny, cute, daring, fussy, loving, energetic, and spontaneous, all in one. Of course, being a Marine, your Dad was gone on deployment most of that time, and it was your Mom who had to care for you, chase you, bandage you, feed you, bathe you, raise you and love you enough for two parents through most of your childhood. Over the past 14 years, you have moved eight times, attended seven different schools, and visited over 20 countries from the United States to Germany to Egypt to Spain... You have traveled to almost every continent in the world and you are not even in high school, yet. You are incredibly talented, smart, athletic and handsome, and we are amazed at the young man you are becoming in front of our eyes. As you graduate from the eighth grade and transition to high school, please know that as your parents, we are so very proud of you. Your strength of character, your compassionate heart, your steadfast integrity, and your never-ending resiliency are remarkable. We are so very blessed to call you our son.

During this next chapter of your life, you will begin to exert your independence and start preparing yourself for your inevitable departure from the nest. However, a word of caution, do not try to speed up the clock. The next four years will go quickly enough without any assistance. Be patient. Look forward to your future, but cherish your past. Recollect on your time in elementary school and middle school, and hold those memories fondly. High School will not be easy, but you are ready. High School will be its own great adventure that will lead you down many different paths of exploration, excitement, success, failure, love, heartbreak, victory and defeat. That's what learning is all about. Take charge of your life, son. Decide on who and what you are going to become in life, and go after it. Your parents and siblings love you unconditionally. We are here to support you. And, we are so very proud of you. We are proud of all the things you have done, are doing now, and will do in your future. Congratulations! We cannot wait to see what's next.

Love, Mom, Dad, Alena and Kaden.

Erin Lincoln

Erin,

You are a true renaissance young woman - an excellent writer and voluminous reader with a love for astrophysics and innate mastery of math. We are so very proud of your multiple accomplishments...we adore you!

Love, Mom, Dad, Matt, Evan, Eileen, and Clare

"The most successful people in life recognize that they create their own love, they manufacture their own meaning, they generate their own motivation. For me, I am driven by two main philosophies: know more today about the world than I knew yesterday and lessen the suffering of others."

-Neil deGrasse Tyson

Colton Stipe

Colton,

Your mother and I could not be more proud of the young man you have become. Follow your heart, dreams, and goals and nothing will stand in your way. Remember along the way, people you meet can be friends for life. Achievements made are achievements earned. Take nothing for granted.

Love, Mom & Dad
